RECORD RAIL ORDER GIVEN

The Pennsylvania System Wants 202,000 Tons to Cost $5,656,000.

PLACED AT $28 A TON

Steel Corporation Gets 118,000 Tons and Pennsylvania and Cambria 42,000 Each.

MUCH FOR CARNEGIE MILLS

The largest order for steel rails ever placed was given yesterday by the Pennsylvania for the needs of its lines both east and west of Pittsburgh in 1904. The order had been made up for some time, but its announcement was withheld awaiting the official determination of the price of steel rails for the coming year. The New York meeting of steel officials yesterday fixed the price at $28 a ton for standard sections in large orders, and the immense order placed yesterday is at that price.

The total amount of the order is 202,000 tons. This is divided as follows:

United States Steel Corporation, 118,000 tons $3,304,000
Cambria Steel Company, 42,000 tons... 1,176,000
Pennsylvania Steel Company, 42,000 tons 1,176,000

At $28 the ton this means no less than $5,656,000 for the rails of the Pennsylvania system for 1904. Such a fortune has never before been spent for rails at one time by any railroad, although the Pennsylvania's orders last year and the year before were extremely large.

Nearly Half for Carnegie Mills.

Of this order the United States Steel Corporation will allot probably 80,000 to 90,000 tons to the Carnegie Steel Company. This company under the new organization controls the old National Steel Company's rail mills at Youngstown, as well as the great Edgar Thomson rail mills at Braddock. These two plants will make the rails for the use of the Pennsylvania railroad and the needs in the immediate vicinity of Pittsburgh on the lines west. The rails to be used on the western divisions of the Pennsylvania company and Panhandle are likely to be rolled at the mills of the Illinois Steel Company at Chicago.

To the Edgar Thomson mills at Braddock the Pennsylvania will wish to have assigned the largest possible proportion of this order, because at that plant is in use what is known as the Kennedy-Morrison process, by which rails are finished at a lower heat than in the ordinary mill. This renders the rails harder without making them more brittle, and this point is valued highly by the Pennsylvania's experts.

Pennsy in Rail Business Itself.

The assignment of 42,000 tons each to the Pennsylvania Steel Company, which has plants at Steelton, Pa., and Sparrows Point, near Baltimore, Md., and to the Cambria Steel Company at Johnstown was expected, as these two companies are closely allied to the railroad company itself.

The orders show the extent of the improvement which the Pennsylvania, with its big new increase in capital, will make within the next 18 months. The great yards planned and now reaching completion, the new third and fourth, and near Pittsburgh, fifth and sixth, track work, the replacing of old rails on all parts of the system where needed, and the relaying of all the divisions of the system, where a lighter rail has been used, with the standard heavy rail, will all make heavy demands for new steel.

Large Portion to Be Used Here.

It is a safe approximation to say that one-fifth of the total order given by the Pennsylvania yesterday will be placed in the Pittsburgh district. The new cut-off in the East End, the enlargment of nearly all the many yards of the Pennsylvania in this district and the building of many new miles of yard at Scully on the Panhandle, the new work on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, just east of Pittsburgh, the new work on the West Penn and the plan of bringing all parts of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division up to the highest standard of the main line will demand thousands of tons of steel.

The price fixed, $28 the ton, is one that is agreeable to both the steel and the railroad companies. It is the same price that has been charged for the past two years.

BOOM FOR JUDGE BRENTANO

Chicago Jurist Is Talked of as Running Mate for President Roosevelt.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Judge Theodore Brentano, who was recently re-elected to the circuit bench of this county, had a boom for the Republican vice presidential nomination today among his friends, who learned that he had been invited to spend his vacation with President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

The politicians who thought favorably of the idea pointed out that as a representative German American and a politician, popular with all factions of his party in this state, he would be particularly available as Roosevelt's running mate. It is argued that Illinois ought to have the second place on the ticket with New York in possession of the first. Judge Brentano was born in Michigan in 1854. He has been on the local bench for 12 years.

PAYNE BREAKS DOWN

Postmaster General in State of Nervous Collapse Over Disclosures in His Department.

GUILTY WILL NOT BE SPARED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.

The president has taken personal charge of the postoffice investigation. Hereafter he will supervise the inquiry to the minutest details.

Two reasons are assigned for this extraordinary action. In the first place it was said the president had thus offered himself up as a buffer for the attacks which are coming with increasing force upon Postmaster General Payne.

The result of the Bristow report substantiating in every particular the Tulloch charges, which Mr. Payne denounced as "hot air," and "grand stand play," has been numerous calls upon the president to let Mr. Payne out of the cabinet. The editorial expression in this vein has been supplemented by many personal letters to the president. Besides the postmaster general is a very sick man. He is verging upon nervous collapse. He has been worrying over the postoffice scandal for over three months now, and he cannot stand the strain much longer. The president wants to be in shape to continue the work should Mr. Payne's physicians order him away from Washington for a long rest.

The president is particularly anxious that this action should not be taken as a reflection upon Mr. Payne. He believes the postmaster general has made good progress. Then he is desirous of reassuring the public that there will be no retreat in the matter. In taking control of the situation he reiterated his statement that no guilty person would be spared punishment.

President's Last Instructions.

"No matter if the trial leads right into the White House, follow it," is said to be the exact language of the president's last instructions to Mr. Bristow.

With the officials acting under such orders and with the president in command, Mr. Roosevelt feels that the public will indeed be unjust if there are still doubts as to his sincerity of the administration's effort to clean the rascals out.

Enough has now been reported by inspectors of the postoffice department to prove the existence of a promotion syndicate in the New York postoffice. The difficulty, as far as criminal prosecutions are concerned, is the statute of limitations. The disclosures of payments for promotion date back more than three years.

Nothing is ascertainable as to what extent the payments were made for these promotions by the department, but they were sufficiently numerous to be of great significance. Whether they have been connected yet with officials in the depart-

BRADDOCK MAN FINDS GUATEMALA IN STRAITS

Arrives at New Orleans and Reports South American Republic in Bad Shape.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
NEW ORLEANS, June 19.—George H. Stone of Braddock, Pa., investor in Guatemala, who has been there several months inspecting Pennsylvania interests, came in on today's Central American steamer. He sees only disaster staring the little republic in the face. The coffee crop is practically ruined and railroad construction is at a standstill. He believes American interests will seriously suffer.

"Guatemala is in a bad way," said Mr. Stone tonight, "and if the price of coffee does not compensate for the short crop that republic will be in desperate straits in another year. The country has had a run of hard luck for the last few years, and exchange has been low for some time. The price of coffee last season was very low. Then came the volcano last fall which spread devastation over a wide area of the most valuable coffee land in the republic, which will cut down the production. Railway construction is at a standstill, and though the Guatemala Northern has been completed within about 65 miles of the capital, nothing is being done to complete the line. This line when completed will do more for the development of that country than anything else, as it will give direct communication with New Orleans.

"Work on the line connecting Guatemala City and Mexico City continues, though it will require several years yet to complete this road."

PROSPERITY ASSURED IN STEEL TRADE

Corporation Will Make No Concessions in Prices of Its Products.

RAILS FIXED AT $28

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 19.

Steel prices for 1904 have been adopted. E. H. Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation, gave out the following statement this afternoon:

"The price of steel rails for the year 1904 has been fixed at $28, the price which has obtained during the last three years. As the full capacity of all the mills for the next seven or eight months has been sold, many of the leading railroad companies have expressed a desire to have the price of rails established for next season, and action has been taken a little earlier than usual. Upward of 250,000 tons for 1904 has already been booked and inquiries for a large additional tonnage have been received during the day. No change in prices of other lines of steel has been contemplated."

The news that the price of steel was not to be disturbed was received with great satisfaction in Wall street, and distinctly disconcerted the bear element, which had disseminated the report that a big cut in prices was to be announced today.

The stock of the United States Steel Corporation, both common and preferred, fell at the opening of the market, but recovered somewhat. The new five per cent bonds also declined. It was announced that the prices of other products will remain the same, so that the public would have a clear idea of the position of the steel company for the next year.

The changes that will be made will come in the raw materials, and as both Bessemer pig and Birmingham foundry No. 2 have been fixed for the last half of the year, the steel and iron market is now on a fixed basis for the rest of the year.

Almost as soon as it was officially stated that the prices would remain unchanged it was announced in Philadelphia that the Pennsylvania railroad had placed steel orders for the lines east of Pittsburgh aggregating 85,656,000. Mr. Harriman's order amounted to $2,800,000, representing 100,000 tons.

All of the large contracts for 1904 delivery contain the clause, providing that if a reduction should be made at a future date and prior to the time of delivery, the vendee shall receive the benefit of this reduction. Officials of the steel corporation, however, maintain that there is no likelihood of a falling off in the demand for finished products, and Rogers, Brown & Company stated today that the pig iron market is broadening.

"Measured by the number and volume of orders," said a United States steel official, "the pig iron market has decidedly improved. New business coming out has doubled and trebled the last week as compared with the six weeks preceding it.

"Advices from the country at large are at marked variance with the sentiment at this center. Foundries and mills are full of work and while some hesitation is noticed, due to labor troubles and high costs, it is believed that as these causes are gradually removed the volume of business will be larger than ever."

One of the matters decided at the recent meetings, which is of great importance, is that all manufacturers are at liberty to offer their products in foreign markets without regard to the domestic schedule. This was done in order to permit American manufacturers to compete with the steel producers of Europe.

AMERICAN EDUCATION STIFLING TO GENIUS

Catholic Bishop Critices Methods and Says Carnegie's Idea Is a Mistake.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
ST. PAUL, June 19.—Bishop James McGolrick of Duluth, one of the most prominent church men in the northwest, declared today before a graduating class at St. Joseph's academy, a Roman Catholic educational institution, that American education ruins genius and gives it no chance to manifest itself. He also made a severe attack on Andrew Carnegie's beneficences, asserting that the ironmaster would have better spent his money in endowing educational institutions that would educate and not leave the mind a warehouse for useless mental attainments. He said:

"Nine-tenths of the genius of our land is being destroyed by a method of education that packs the mind of the unfortunate pupil with unlimited number and variety of facts. How such a debris of mental attainments can be accepted as real education I cannot understand. Machine-made scholars are not what we want.

"Mr. Carnegie has done one good thing in many that showed worse judgment. That was in giving $10,000,000 to special investigation. His other gifts have failed of their purpose, and he has failed of appreciating the method of doing the good he sought. Instead of giving education to the masses he has given them libraries, by the dozen, by the score. That was excellent, but the result is not commendable. His libraries are packed with books which are 90 per cent of American literature, cheap and nasty. The best of his books fail to make readers think for themselves."

USE OF FORCE IS CONSIDERED

Attorney General Declines to Discuss That Phase of Galveston Case.

JUDGE IS CAUTIONED

President and Cabinet Hope to Avoid Clash of Authority With State of Virginia.

REQUEST FOR TROOPS DENIED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.

Attorney General Knox in an opinion made public today refused to pass upon the question of whether or not it would be lawful for the government to use force against the state of Virginia in the controversy which has arisen over the completion of the cruiser Galveston.

It is a case of a state court against the federal government, and while the attorney general upholds the government's contention, it was decided at the cabinet meeting today that the use of an armed force would not be considered for the present, it being hoped that the Virginia court can be induced to rescind the injunction. Representations with this end in view have been made through the proper channels, and definite results are expected today.

The president thinks a show of force under the circumstances will be inexpedient, and the navy department therefore must content itself with awaiting the advice of the department of justice in the matter. Meanwhile it has instructed its agents at Richmond not to interfere with the order of the court until specifically instructed by the department.

Workmen Hard to Secure.

It was learned today that all the workmen employed by the Tracy Company left the yard when the company went into the hands of a receiver, and the government is experiencing some difficulty in securing laborers. This will prevent the vessel's being ready for launching next Monday.

Secretary Moody today requested the attorney general to instruct the proper district attorney to enter into a stipulation regarding the cruiser Chattanooga, which has been attached by creditors of the New York Shipbuilding Company, that the government's interests may be adequately protected.

As for the other 12 warships contracted for by the companies composing the United States Shipbuilding Company, the navy department, while apprehensive of the results of the financial embarrassment of the concern, has not been informed that work on any of the vessels has been interrupted as yet. The case of the Galveston has been forced to a test so that the government may be sure of its ground in the event of complications with the United States Shipbuilding Company.

Secretary Moody will take no action for the present on the appeal of Rear Admiral Bowles for troops to protect Lieutenant Theiss and Naval Constructor Groesbeck in charge of the work on the Galveston, from interference by the local courts. The secretary was asked

FEUDISTS NOW FEAR JUSTICE

Jett and White, Despite Their Curses, Removed to Lexington.

THE JURY DISAGREED

But for Obstinacy of One Juror Both Defendants Would Have Been Convicted of Murder.

CHANGE OF VENUE ORDERED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lexington, Ky., June 19.—Curtis Jett and Tom White arrived here at 5:20 tonight. They were in charge of Maj. Embry Allen, Capt. Greenleaf and a large detail of soldiers. The men were handcuffed together, with Jett on the right, and presented a bold front.

At the depot was a tremendous crowd. When the train stopped the soldiers began dropping off from the coaches and baggage car, and presently the prisoners were assisted down the steps and the soldiers forming a hollow square, marched them to jail. The soldiers had to push their way through the dense crowd with the prisoners.

When the jail was reached Deputy Jailer Ahern threw the doors open and the prisoners were hustled into the corridor. Here Jett whirled himself around facing the crowd and waving his left hand, said:

"Now, look, won't you. Get a good look. It may be the last time."

He turned to enter the door leading to the jail proper and turning to the companion, said: "Wonder how many snapshots they got of us." He appeared greatly excited. His face was flaming red and he mumbled to White frequently. White was pale and nervous. He made no reply to any of Jett's pleasantries. He appeared greatly downcast.

They were taken to the third floor and the big steel cage unlocked and they were ushered in and the soldiers were dismissed. Jett said:

"By ——, we want the best you've got," to Deputy Ahern and the jail official replied that he would be treated right.

Wanted a Call Together.

"We want a room together mind you," he added. Ahern replied:

"We are crowded here and you will have to occupy separate cells."

"Well, give us separate cells then," said Jett.

They were thrust into the cells and the bolts drawn in a hurry.

Jett was given No. 3 in which is confined B. J. Johnson, the West Virginia forger, and White No. 5, occupied by Joe Bowles a local character.

"Now, we want a good supper," said Jett.

Mr. Ahern said that it was after supper time at the jail, but that he would try and get him something.

"Say," retorted Jett, "take this and fetch us up a good steak, medium done, some coffee and fried eggs."

He drew from his pants pocket a good-sized roll and skinned from the outside a $5 bill which he handed to the jail official. Mr. Ahern took the money and said he would get him a nice steak. The jailer then went down to give orders for fetching up the supper for the prisoners.

En route here White and Jett acted disorderly and Jett came near having to come to Lexington with a gag in his mouth. Just this side of Clay City he called Maj. Allen to him and said he wanted to talk to him. He began abusing Witness Ewen and finally commenced to curse Maj. Allen.

Cursed Maj. Allen.

He was told by Maj. Allen that he should not talk in such a manner, that he was doing his duty and expected to treat him kindly. Jett would not desist, and after Maj. Allen had taken his seat yelled at him, uttering oaths.

Maj. Allen went to him and asked him to keep quiet. He cursed the soldiers near him and told Maj. Allen they were not treating him right. Maj. Allen stood near and did not say anything more at that time, and Jett with his left had struck at the soldier in front and the one behind him, and, waving his hand, came near Maj. Allen's face several times.

Finally Maj. Allen said to the soldier in front: "Go and fetch me a towel."

The soldier went and, returning with the towel, stood ready to gag Jett at the command of Maj. Allen. The major said:

"Now, Jett, I have asked you several times courteously to keep quiet and not utter oaths. I am going to gag you if you swear again."

Jett looked dumbfounded. He saw the soldiers standing with the towel ready to be drawn through his mouth. He flew into a rage and it was believed for an instant that he would not submit, but turning to White he said: "Cut it out," and from that time on his demeanor was completely changed. He was in good humor and treated the soldiers with consideration during the rest of the journey.

Hargis Visits Prisoners.

Judge Hargis called at the jail tonight and asked to be allowed to see Jett and White, which request was granted. They were introduced to Jailer Wallace by Judge Hargis, who told the prisoners that the jailer was a nice man and would treat them all right and that they must be good prisoners. Judge Hargis requested Jailer Wallace to be kind to the boys while they were in his care, and for him to allow them to have anything they wanted, and to spare no expense in

BRITAIN RECALLS DIPLOMATIC CORPS FROM BELGRADE

English Foreign Office Refuses to Deal With Persons Concerned in Regicide—New Servian Government Finds Treasury Empty.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 19.—In the house of lords today Foreign Minister Lansdowne announced that the British minister to Servia had been instructed to withdraw from Belgrade for some time on the arrival there of King Peter, and in the meanwhile to do nothing which could be construed as a recognition of the new government.

Lord Lansdowne expressed indignation at the crimes at Belgrade and said he thought it was not desirable that Sir George Bonham, the British minister, should be in that city when the new regime was inaugurated.

The foreign minister added that no proposal had been received for concerted action towards Servia by the powers, but the British government had no intention of maintaining ordinary relations with the persons concerned in the massacres.

BELGRADE, June 19.—The provisional government is very short of funds and has been unable thus far to raise money in consequence of its status not being legalized.

The government found the treasury practically empty and has no means of obtaining money, the banks having refused to float even a small loan. An installment of the recent French loan was due June 15, but the French official who arrived with the cash refused to hand it over until the status of the government was properly defined. The expenses of the deputation which has gone to Geneva were met with difficulty and the army is owed long arrears of pay.

The Servian foreign minister, M. Kallevics, talked to the Associated Press correspondent tonight with the utmost frankness. The minister explained the necessity of some one taking office in order to insure the continuance of the federal administration after the violent coup de etat of June 11. He was called to office, he said, practically by force, but he was happy and willing to do his utmost for his country in her present distressed condition.

The following notification was gazetted today:

"The Russian minister here has informed the minister of foreign affairs that he will enter into relations with the Servian government today, as the czar had been pleased to recognize Prince Karageorgevitch as king of Servia."

The position of the regicides under the new king is freely discussed and it is generally expected that they will be promoted and pensioned and then gradually removed. Any slight of them, however, would be hotly resented by the army which is master of the situation.

VIENNA, June 19.—The Servian deputation which left Belgrade this morning on its way to Geneva to meet King Peter, arrived here this evening. The late Queen Draga's sisters came here on the same train.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 19.—The Russian court has gone into mourning for 24 days for the late King Alexander and Queen Draga.

TANGLED SKEIN IS BEING UNTANGLED BY STOCKHOLDERS

Large Portion of Securities of the Shipbuilding Company Represented at Meeting Held at New York—H. Sellers McKee Attends.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 19.

Authority was granted today to the executive committee of the Trust Company of the Republic to co-operate with the Sheldon reorganization committee of the United States Shipbuilding Company concerning the matter of placing a shipbuilding company in Mr. Sheldon's hands and thus enabling Mr. Schwab and his friends to place, perhaps, an insuperable obstruction in the way of the first mortgage bondholders who are seeking the appointment of a receiver of the company.

The meeting of the stockholders today was to reduce the number of directors from 25 to 13. Mr. Dresser came to the city this morning. Tonight he gave out a statement, in which he declared he had never done anything as president of the trust company which would not bear the fullest investigation. In part he says:

"The allegation that my liabilities are larger than were stated at the time of my assignment is untrue. I also state that neither my sister, Mrs. Brown, nor my brother-in-law, George Vanderbilt, is in any manner concerned in my transactions with the trust company."

Stuyvesant Fish presided at the meeting. George C. Boldt presented proxies to cover two-thirds of the stock. These two engaged the special counsel and the expert accountants that have been trying to find out just what Mr. Dresser's transactions really were behind.

Mr. Fish and Mr. Boldt personally and through intimate friends have $1,000,000 of the shipbuilding securities. Of the other similar paper which the executive committee are authorized to turn over to the Sheldon reorganization committee there was disclosed at today's conference $400,000 of undisputed shipbuilding company paper; $400,000 upon which collateral loans have been made, and $700,000 or $800,000 which is held subject to disputed claims.

After the meeting was over word was promptly sent to Mr. Sheldon that his reorganization committee could have these $2,300,000 worth of securities subject to such claims as that of Harlan & Hollingsworth Shipbuilding Company, which holds a contract signed by Mr. Dresser agreeing to take up his paper before next August at 90 for the first mortgage bonds, 60 for the preferred and 25 for the common stock.

It is known in financial circles that several men have been under discussion for the place of receiver of the shipbuilding combination. The fees will be worth a very large sum, at least $100,000 annually, but the man who accepts the position will be subject to the keenest scrutiny.

Mr. Sheldon's committee has $4,000,000 of the United States Shipbuilding Company's bonds which it took over from the JACKSON, KY., June 19.—But for one juror Curtis Jett would have been convicted here today for the murder of J. B. Marcum, and a majority of the jury also favored the conviction of Thomas White.

The interest in the change of venue today was second only to the verdict. When Judge Redwine refused to hear arguments on the change of the location, it was stated by many in the court house that the presiding judge had heard from Gov. Beckham, who is generally believed to have had something to do with the change of venue to Harrison county, which is in the Eighteenth judicial district of Kentucky where J. C. Osborne is the circuit judge. J. F. Fryer is the commonwealth's attorney and the sheriff and other court officers are also favorably known.

People Are Satisfied.

With such general confidence in the surroundings of the next trial there is a general belief here that "Everything is for the best after all." If the verdict had been one of conviction the residents here feel that violence would have followed and that it would have extended to other than witnesses, jurors and those who had taken part in the prosecution. It is believed now that after the trials of Jett and White in Harrison county, the cases of other assassins who are known and who have never been arrested, will be taken up with some assurance of securing justice.

The next case on the docket here was that of Curtis Jett for killing the town marshal, James Cockrell, but it will be postponed until after the trials at Cynthiana, and may never come to trial.

Col. Williams is at Frankfort tonight, conferring with the governor regarding the withdrawal of the troops. It is understood that he has advised the governor that no number of troops can stop the lurking fire bugs or hidden assassins, but that at least one company should be kept in Jackson as long as Provost Marshal Longmire is kept in charge of the town. The troops that escorted Jett and White to Lexington this evening will not return.

Still Much Apprehension.

There is still much apprehension in the community for the future and many here share in the movement in different parts of Kentucky to have Breathitt county parcelled out for annexation to other counties.

It is claimed that all the feud troubles that have afflicted the county, originated in contests for local offices and afterward extended into professional, business and social affairs. There is a feeling of relief here tonight, so far as old scores are concerned, but there is still a reign of terror because it is believed that others "have been marked."

PEACE COMING SOON.

New York Labor Controversy in Fair Way to Be Adjusted by Arbitration.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—Important steps in the direction of compromise were taken by both sides to the labor controversy today and the indications are that some of the unions will be back at work soon.

Representatives of several unions officially met with the board of governors and tonight a committee of eight was named by the new board of building trades mechanics to confer with the employers. The employers announced officially they now stand ready to accept any modification of their arbitration plan which may be offered by the unions, providing it is an improvement upon the original plan.

WORK BEGINS AT ONCE

New York Central's Plans for Terminal Improvements Have Been Approved.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—Having obtained final approval from the city of its plans for extensive improvements, the New York Central announces that work will begin at once in the terminal yards immediately north of the Grand Central station, and that plans for a new station will be decided on as quickly as possible.

The abandoning of the scheme for a station that would include a hotel and a department store is the principal change in the company's intentions as a result of the deliberation of the last few weeks. The building will probably be a 16-story structure of stone and steel, with offices to be rented for business purposes. The chief engineer hopes to see the work fully under way by August 1.

FEAST OF SONG IS AT AN END

Closing Concert of the Thirty-First Saengerfest Given Last Night.

WONDERFUL CHORUS WORK

Orchestral and Vocal Music at the Last Performance Was Magnificent—Star Spangled Banner Sung by Fifteen Thousand Voices.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 19.—The thirty-first national saengerfest ended tonight, with the fourth concert of the series. It is estimated that the saengerfest brought to St. Louis more than 50,000 strangers.

The closing day was festival day for St. Louis. Two concerts were given, one in the afternoon and the closing concert tonight. The afternoon concert was devoted to the different soloists, aided by the chorus of 4,000 children of the St. Louis public schools. The night concert was devoted entirely to choral work, none of the soloists appearing.

The afternoon concert began at 2 o'clock under the direction of Alfred Ernst and William H. Pomeroy. Without any preliminaries the concert was opened with an overture by the grand orchestra of 200 pieces. Max Lohling, the basso, rendered the opening number and was followed by the chorus of children from the schools. Solos were rendered by Mlle. Fleisher-Edel, soprano; Mme. Louise Homer, contralto; Mr. Willie Birrenkoven, tenor, and Mr. Max Lohling, basso. The crowning rendition of the the afternoon was the quintet, including James J. Rohan, baritone, in the rendition of a number from Wagner's "Die Meistersinger."

The closing concert was under the direction of Richard Stempf. William Lange and Alfred Ernst. The opening number was the overture from "Tannhauser." Attenhofer's "Song of Challenge," followed by the National male chorus with orchestral accompaniment. In the rendition of the succeeding number by the male chorus, unaccompanied by the orchestra, the sound seemed to lack little in volume.

Then the United Singing societies of Chicago, under the leadership of Gustav Ehrhorn, sang Moehring's stirring battle hymn. This number was followed by the orchestral gem of the evening, a fine interpretation of Goldmark's suite de ballet, "Queen of Sheba," after which was heard the dainty and fascinating "Little Blue Eyes," of Witt, sung by the national male chorus.

Two more numbers followed by the orchestra and the male chorus. The closing number of the saengerfest was the Star Spangled Banner, participated in by the National male chorus, the orchestra and more than 15,000 untrained, but enthusiastic voices from the audience. The effect was wonderful.

WOULD BAR LABOR LEADERS.

One Canadian Province Is Anxious to Keep Foreign Agitators Out.

OTTAWA, ONT., June 19.—A senate sub-committee on the Lougheed bill to shut out foreign labor agitators was reported today. A re-draft of the bill makes it criminal for any foreigner to urge a strike or lockout in this country, but specifies that this is not to interfere with officials of international unions coming here to settle labor disputes. The bill was also widened to prevent officials of international associations from stirring up strikes and trouble.

MORGANZA REFUSED TO TAKE PRISONER

Their ignorance of the existence of the juvenile criminal law is giving a number of magistrates and officers in this county considerable trouble, sending incorrigible youths to Morganza only to have them rejected. An instance of this kind was noted yesterday. Special Officer James Conner of the South Side district took Gutieb Stricker, aged 13, to Morganza, but the authorities refused to recognize a magistrate's commitment and the boy was placed in jail to await trial by the juvenile court.

WILL ACCOMPLISH MUCH.

Company Offering Insurance Against Strikes Will Be a Boon for Labor.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 19.—Thomas L. Lewis, vice president of the United Mine Workers, today gave his opinion on the movement of the National Association of Manufacturers to organize an insurance company to protect members from loss by strikes. He said:

"If the insurances of this proposed company have clauses inserted assuring no injustice to either employer or employe and to prevent oppressive measures or exactions on the part of the employers, then the cause for many strikes has been removed. The very employer that the insurance seeks to protect, the man who considers that his employes have no rights, will be compelled to adhere to fixed rules before his losses will be made good.

"The insurance company will accomplish at once what the labor organizations have been trying to do for years, that is, to compel the unreasonable employer to recognize the rights of his employes. The labor leaders need have no fear for the proposed plan."

CHORUS GIRLS FAINT.

Seven of Weber and Fields' Beauties Are Poisoned by Food at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., June 19.—(Special.)—A sensation was caused at the performance of "Pousse Cafe" by the Weber & Fields company at the Colonial theater tonight, and seven of the chorus girls are now ill with what seems to be the effect of eating poisoned food.

During the second act Vivian Prescott and Marie Quinn dropped to the floor in a dead faint and were quickly taken out, so that the act went on, but at its close five more of the girls fainted and others became hysterical. A hurry-up call brought six doctors to the place and they had a two hours' struggle before they could pronounce all the girls out of danger.

The chorus girls have been stopping at one hotel, and the physicians say they must have eaten something that had a poisonous effect.

Mr. Chamberlain dealt in a jesting spirit with the now frequently printed and spoken prophecies of his being crushed into oblivion beneath the zollverein millstone, and said that threatened men lived long. DRAGA'S SISTERS WITHOUT FRIENDS

LEFT WITH LITTLE MONEY

They Arrive in Vienna Without Knowing Where to Turn for Help—May Bring Suit Against the Government Later On for Damages.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

VIENNA, June 19.—Mme. Petrovich, Mlle. Lunivich and Mlle. Georgina Lunievica, sisters of Queen Draga, arrived in Vienna this evening accompanied by Lieut. George Petrovich. They drove directly to the Hotel Mesterbachsche Mme. Petrovich alone was clad in deep mourning. All three women bore the trace of the terrible experiences they passed through. Even in the hotel their nervous gestures, air of suppressed excitement and frightened expression in their dark eyes clearly showed they were not yet recovered from the shock of that eventful night.

Mme. Petrovich declared the report that Queen Draga had left millions is untrue. She likewise contradicts the assertion that she or her sisters were permitted to see the body of the murdered queen or attend her funeral.

Refering to the night of the crime with reluctance, she stated that up to 11:30 o'clock they had been in the konak. They had then retired to rest in the house in Dreg gasse (where her brothers resided) without the slightest suspicion of anything wrong.

Some time after they were awakened by the noise of firing and the marching of troops through the streets. Rushing to the windows they inquired of a passerby what had occurred. He replied: "Fighting." The queen's brothers hurried into their clothes with the intention of proceeding to the konak, with difficulty persuading Lieut. Petrovich, who was recovering from a severe illness, from following the brothers to the queen. They never returned.

It is to this circumstance that the four survivors owe their lives, for almost immediately after the brothers left an officer with a company of soldiers arrived and demanded their surrender. The house was searched from top to bottom, the officers ultimately sparing the helpless women and the bedridden invalid on finding the queen's brothers were absent. The fate of the brothers was known long ago to the public, but up till last night their deaths were not communicated to the sisters who only ascertained the truth by overhearing the conversation of the soldiers.

They were finally told they could leave the country unmolested. They were escorted to the station, where they took a train for Vienna.

Asked as to their future plans, Mme. Petrovich replied that their movements are uncertain. Two thousand francs is all the money they possess. Their relatives have all been killed and they themselves do not know where to turn. First of all Mme. Petrovich intends petitioning the Servian government for restoration of at least some portion of the property left by her sister. Should that be unavailing and a lawyer be found to undertake the task, a suit will be instituted against the state.

The girl was completely out of her mind and could tell nothing as to how she came to America or how she happened to have Cranoski's name and address. A doctor examined her and found that she had been terribly beaten, her body being marked with black and blue blotches.

Says He Will Stop Warrants if Bigelow Uses Up Money With New Jobs.

Bigelow's blanket ordinance giving the director power to create new positions at will, but he declared that when the money allotted the public works department ran out that he would stop signing and issuing warrants.

"I am not legislating," said the controller, "but when any appropriation is exhausted there will be no warrants issued after that. They can make as many jobs as they wish, but after the money is gone the payroll will be stopped. I am not going to fight with any person nor am I going to show any favors. I will know how to act when the time comes."

GEORGE GOULD WILL NOT AFFIRM OR DENY RUMORS

Has Nothing to Say on Reported Settlement of the Wabash-Pennsy Differences.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 19.—Concerning the persistent rumors of a settlement of differences between the Pennsylvania company and the Gould Western Union-Wabash interests, George J. Gould said today:

"The newspapers seem to be very anxious to get a settlement of the supposed difficulty. Last week it was said that we had secured a control of the Erie as an eastern outlet for the Wabash syndicate road; this week it is the Pennsylvania. Next week it will probably be some other line. When the papers decide what is to be our future policy I shall be very glad. It will relieve me of much work and thought.

"As to the report that the Western Maryland road is to be turned over to the Pennsylvania system, in exchange for a working agreement whereby the Wabash will be permitted to run trains over certain other Pennsylvania roads, I cannot at this time say anything about it. If I were to take time to affirm or deny every idle rumor concerning every property I am interested in, I would have time for anything else."

BOSTON IS SINKING.

Scientists Discover That Hub City Has Subsided Three Feet Since 1811.

BOSTON, June 19.—(Special.)—Boston has suffered a subsidence of three feet since 1811, according to Dr. Jagger of Harvard, and his declaration is thus seconded:

"Boston is slowly sinking into the sea, and the harbor bottom tends slowly to become deeper." This strange statement is by J. R. Freeman, former member of the Metropolitan Water Board of this state, now consulting member of, and engineer for the New York board on additional water supply. It is made in the course of his report on the proposed Charts river dam. Further, he says: "At this rate the present grade of Atlantic avenue near the foot of State street, (15.0 Boston base), will be awash by the spring tides of each month about 250 years hence."

He gives proof of the subsidence in the markings at different places. The entire south end of Boston, covering hundreds of acres, will be awash sooner than Freeman predicts, according to Dr. Jagger. The statements have occasioned no little concern, and presents an engineering problem.

WAITERS' STRIKE ENDED.

Settlement Gives a Substantial Victory to the Employers.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The strike of the waiters and cooks is a thing of the past, and the majority of the men will return to work tomorrow. It was agreed that 75 per cent of the strikers shall resume their old places in the morning, and the remainder are to have their positions within ten days.

On the question of absolute recognition of the union, on which the strikers have been so obdurate the agreement provides for freedom on both sides. The hotel and restaurant proprietors are to have the right to employ what help they choose. The employes have the right to join the union or remain out of it. The decision on this point is a substantial victory for the proprietors. The question of an increase in wages was left open. If not arranged by July 6 it is to go to a board of arbitration.

ENGLISH AND AMERICANS DINE IN LONDON

Speaker Dwelt on the Benefits of an Anglo-Saxon Alliance.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 19.—The first annual dinner of the Pilgrims society was given at Prince's restaurant tonight and was presided over by the Venerable W. M. Sinclair, arch-deacon of London, with the chief secretary for Ireland, George Wyndham, as the principal guest. Among those present at the gathering were Senator Chauncey Depew, Perry Belmont, Lord Fairfax, Sir George White, Sir Ian Hamilton, Secretary Carter and Capt. Stockton of the United States embassy.

Senator Depew proposed the health of George Wyndham, who in responding alluded to the Irish land bill and said that Ireland, which had been a chasm between Great Britain and the United States, might now become a link between them. "One of my chief incentives," continued Mr. Wyndham, "in proposing what may seem to many a visionary course, is the hope that Ireland may become a bond between our country and yours."

Sir George White spoke eloquently on the benefits to mankind of an Anglo-Saxon alliance, and the remarks of all the other speakers were in the same vein.

The incident of the evening was the presentation of a loving cup to Lindsay Russell, the founder of the Pilgrims society in London, who will return to New York next week.

BIG CHANGES PLANNED

Vanderbilt Roads West of Buffalo to Be Reorganized Under New System.

CLEVELAND, June 19.—The Leader tomorrow will say: Important changes are pending in the Vanderbilt railroad systems in this locality. The roads west of Buffalo will be governed from one general office, with vice presidents in charge of the various departments. The Big Four and Nickle Plate are likely to be a part of the proposed merger.

The roads that will be included in this system are the Lake Shore, the Michigan Central, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, the Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling, the Lake Erie & Western, the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa, and the Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee.

BANK STOCK HAS GONE SKY HIGH

Farmers Deposit Is $450 a Share Higher Than It Was One Week Ago.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS

Details of Deal to Merge the Bank and the American and Colonial Trust Companies—Proposed Distribution of the Stock of the New Concern.

Farmers Deposit National bank stock sold yesterday on the exchange at $1,750 a share, which is an advance of $450 a share over the last previous sale last month, and the highest price ever quoted for the stock. The price yesterday is just $450 a share above the market quotation one week ago, when the announcement was first made that the Farmers Deposit would be the most important member of the big consolidation of banks and trust companies, embracing the institutions controlled by the American and Colonial Trust companies.

The rise was stimulated by the receipt by stockholders of the Farmers Deposit National yesterday of an official circular giving some of the details of the deal. The circular, which is signed by President T. H. Given, states that the directors have agreed to sell the stock of the bank to the Colonial Trust Company, and that all stockholders are offered the opportunity to accept the same terms.

Stock Delivery Basis.

Holders of Farmers Deposit National will receive in the proportion of three and one-half shares of the consolidated corporation for one share of the stock of the bank. The delivery of the stock on this basis will be subject to a verification of the assets of the several corporations and to the consolidation in a legal manner of the trust companies.

The board of directors recommend the acceptance of these terms, as the exchange is made on the basis of actual values, and the united interests will make a large and strong combination. Stockholders are invited to deposit their stock with the bank, which will attend to the details connected with the exchange.

It is probable that holders of Colonial Trust and American Trust will also within the next day or two be notified of the proportion each will receive in the new deal. It has been current talk that in the deal between these two companies, before the Farmers was invited into the consolidation, the proportion arrived at was 8¼ for American Trust and 100 for Colonial.

An Interesting Question.

If this is the basis that will govern in the new deal, it becomes an interesting question as to the market value of the various stocks. Taking the price of $1,750 a share for Farmers Deposit as a basis, this would be equivalent to $300 a share for Colonial Trust and $437.50 a share for American Trust. The market value yesterday was $505 a share for American Trust and $605 for Colonial. Ever since the announcement of the deal there has been a movement in the market to establish the parity of the three stocks. During the past week American Trust has dropped $65 a share and Colonial has dropped $55 a share, while Farmers Deposit has advanced $450 a share.

In financial circles considerable doubt is expressed as to whether current "boom" prices will be maintained. There has been an enormous appreciation in the market value of these three stocks within the past year. A year ago this month Farmers Deposit stock sold at $1,150 a share, Colonial Trust at $380 and American Trust at $118 a share.

Comparison for a Year.

Comparing these prices with those current yesterday and the appreciation in these three stocks alone within the brief period of one year, based upon a total capital, is as follows:

	Adv. per share.	Appreciation.
Farmers Deposit	$600	$4,800,000
Colonial Trust	225	4,500,000
American Trust	382	3,820,000
Total		$13,120,000

This appreciation has taken place during a period when investment values generally have been declining, the highest grade railroad and industrial stocks in the New York stock market showing a shrinkage ranging from $5 to $100 a share, and representing hundreds of millions of shrinkage in the aggregate. In this respect, however, local bank and trust company stocks have not been the exception. The same class of stocks have advanced in other markets, but in Pittsburgh the movement, both as to market values and the consolidation of interests, has been particularly noteworthy.

J. A. LANGFITT CONFIRMS PURCHASE OF CONTROL

President of Federal National Bank Will Hold Majority of First National Stock.

Joseph A. Langfitt, president of the Federal National bank, yesterday confirmed the exclusive announcement in The Gazette yesterday of the acquisition by him of the control of the First National bank of Allegheny in the interest of the Federal.

JOHN THOMPSON,
Who Will Remain President of the First National Bank of Allegheny, Newly Allied to the Federal National Bank.

"The stock will be held by me personally," he said. "The Allegheny bank will be allied in operation with the Federal and the Federal will gain direct representation in the Pittsburgh clearing house in this way. There will be no change of officers in the First National of Allegheny on this account. I was elected a director this morning, but there had been a vacancy on the board for some time, so that no one was displaced.

"There will be no merger and no liquidation of the Allegheny bank. That would defeat the very purpose of its acquisition. The two will both continue in operation working for mutual benefit."

As stated yesterday, the stock was obtained at $175 a share. To obtain a majority of the 3,300 shares of the company upwards of $300,000 must have been paid by Mr. Langfitt for the control. The exact number of shares obtained is not known.

BIGELOW MAY FIGHT COMBINE

Democrats Want the District Attorneyship to Use as a Club on Citizens in Future.

MACHINE MAKES NEW OFFER

Proposes to Give Democracy Prothonotary This Fall and the Coroner Next Year—J. W. Jack Wants Fusion Nomination for Sheriff.

Thomas S. Bigelow may have to make a fight to secure control of the Democratic county convention in order to protect his fusion plans. The determination of the Clark-Fleming-Brennen combination to get the district attorney nomination threatens to cause the Citizens leader much trouble.

The elimination of Charles A. Fagan from Democratic control is not the chief object of the combination. The men in the combine want the district attorneyship. With this office they figure that they would have a club over the Citizens and for the next three years could force them to play with the Democrats.

Bigelow thoroughly understands the plans of the combine. He does not want the Democrats to secure the district attorney nomination. The new machine is just as anxious to control this office as it was to have a mayor of its own. With an unfriendly public prosecutor, the city administration in Pittsburgh and Allegheny could be held in check. The head of the Citizens party realizes the dangers politically of putting this club in the hands of the Democrats. At the same time he does not want to get into a fight with the Democracy, as he must have the co-operation of the Democrats if there is to be any hope of electing a fusion ticket this fall.

Think it Looks Like a Brick.

The latest proposition to the Democrats from the Citizens on a division of the offices this fall is an offer to give the Democrats the prothonotary and jury commissioner this November and next year allow them the coroner. This would give the sheriff, district attorney and director of the poor nominations to the Citizens. The Democrats in the combination are inclined to view this proposition with suspicion. They say that they have no assurance that next year Bigelow will want to hitch up with the Democrats. In their opinion it is better to insist upon the district attorneyship now and if the fusion ticket wins in November they will be in a position to club what they want out of the Citizens in the future.

Members of the new combination are now declaring that if they do not get the district attorney nomination, they will not fuse with the Citizens. This announcement was made last evening by a leading Democrat who is not the habit of bluffing. He says that the Democrats have awakened to the fact that Bigelow cannot have fusion unless he has the Democracy. They believe that the district attorneyship is not an excessive price to charge for their co-operation in the interest of reform.

The prothonotaryship, while it is a good paying office, does not carry any political power with it. The men of the combine realize that now is the time to make political hay. By controlling the district attorney it would always have an asset to deal with.

Bigelow May Protect Himself.

If the combine is in earnest in its intention to have the district attorneyship or break the fusion plans, the one thing left for Bigelow is to break the combine. He has had some experience in Democratic primaries. Last winter he was forced to go into the primaries in order to get the Democratic nomination for William B. Hays. Then he had as supporters the men who are today setting up the combination for their own political advancement.

Another purpose of the combination is to put out of business politically Charles A. Fagan. The formers of the combine say that they performed the work which resulted in the election of Hays and then Fagan stepped in and carried off most of the plums. They fear that if he is not eliminated in the fall fight, he will again boss the makeup of the ticket and in the event of victory will disburse the Democratic patronage. The combine plans to keep him out of the Democratic county convention. He lives in the Fifth legislative district and it elects 12 delegates to the county convention.

The county convention will select the committee that is to carry on the negotiations with the Citizens. In order to control the fusion committee Bigelow may join hands with Fagan, City Treasurer E. J. Frauenheim, City Gauger John F. Ennis, Magistrate J. J. Kirby and others to defeat the aims of the combine. The primaries are to be held Saturday and the Clark-Fleming-Brennen crowd has gotten a long lead in the contest. It claims to be able to control the convention, even if Bigelow does take a hand.

After Magistrate Stewart.

Effort will be made to have Police Magistrate Thomas D. Stewart removed and a follower of Hugh Ferguson named in his stead. The majority faction of the Citizens party in the Seventeenth ward is anti-Stewart. The trouble started when he was named for magistrate instead of William Culbertson, the choice of Ferguson. Director E. M. Bigelow is given credit with having dictated the appointment of Stewart in order to punish Culbertson for having voted, while a member of councils, for the ousting of Bigelow.

When the primaries for the reorganization of the ward were held a couple of weeks ago, the Fergusonites made a clean sweep. Stewart was expected to secure control of the ward committee, but was not able to win the fight. In addition to the turndown of Culbertson, the followers of Ferguson were shabbily treated in the matter of appointments. Now they are in complete control and they want satisfaction. Part of the price is the scalp of Stewart.

Ferguson is credited with having served notice on the Citizens party leaders that unless his friends are cared for, they need not look for assistance in the Seventeenth ward in November. The announcement is also made that Ferguson is contemplating being a candidate for common councilman next spring on the Republican ticket. He is the backbone of the Citizens party in the ward, and if he withdraws, the movement will collapse. The ward is now represented in select council by W. J. Zahniser, a Republican. His friends say that he intends to remove from the ward at the end of his term next spring.

Common Councilman James W. Jack of the Fifteenth ward was yesterday telling his friends about City hall that he would ask the Citizens to nominate him for sheriff this fall. He has been with the Citizens since the birth of the party and now wants something substantial. There are numerous others who think that Bigelow should nominate them for sheriff. He is supposed to favor the slating of Charles W. Geyer of Allegheny because Mayor James G. Wyman is demanding it. Geyer was a candidate for recorder of Allegheny and got out of the way for Wyman, and the mayor is probably paying off a political debt by backing him up for sheriff.

Under the surface there is a great deal of wire pulling to get Inspector Henry Whitehouse restored to power in the Oakland district. T. S. Bigelow is credited with having freely criticised Superintendent J. P. McTighe of the police bureau for his suspension of Whitehouse. The Citizens leader is even reported as declaring that McTighe was made superintendent of police without his consent or approval, and that he did not propose to stand for some of the things he is doing. Friends of Whitehouse say that if McTighe succeeds in having Capt. Matt Gorman made inspector of the district, the removal of Lieut. Robert Emmett would not be a surprise. Policemen Adams and Rowen are considered to be in line for promotion.

Social Dissipation.

A young woman from a nearby town, who was recently visiting friends in Cleveland, was taken sick at the theater. It became necessary to call a doctor from the audience, and one promptly appeared at the manager's office to render her assistance. After learning her symptoms, he ordered her to take a Red Raven Split. She was sent home in her carriage. When the excitement was all over, the manager said to the doctor, "I would serve Red Raven Splits to every lady in my audience if I thought it would keep them well." "That is not exactly the idea," said the physician. "This is a particular case. This young woman has been suffering from too much social dissipation. She has been going somewhere every night for the last two or three weeks, no doubt. A theater, with refreshments afterward, a party, a late dinner and decidedly too many luncheons. Her system has become overtaxed. Had she occasionally taken a Red Raven Split, she would readily have stood this strain. As it was, she allowed herself to break down. There is nothing like Red Raven for people in her condition. But the trouble is they do not know it."

LIVES ENDANGERED BY RECKLESS CHAUFFEUR

Automobile Scares Two Blooded Horses and the Rig and Its Occupants Are Precipitated Over a Precipice.

A reckless chauffeur, driving an automobile at the rate of an express train down a hill in Riverview park, Allegheny, last night caused an accident that may cost the life of Miss Rose Kress, the 20-year-old daughter of John Kress, the Allegheny undertaker. Mrs. Kress, the girl's mother, Mildred Kress, aged 5 years, and James McGraw, the driver, were also more or less injured.

The accident occurred on the Kilbuck Hollow road, just below the entrance to the park, shortly after 7 o'clock. Mrs. Kress and her daughters, Rose and Mildred, were being driven through the park by Coachman James McGraw. Two spirited horses were hitched to the rig. Mr. Kress, in a light runabout, was driving a fast road horse just ahead of his family when an automobile, traveling at a terrific rate, came down the road and past the two rigs. The horses driven by McGraw reared and the harness on one was broken. The wheels of the trap slid over the steep embankment at the side of the road and almost in an instant the vehicle was rolling down an almost perpendicular hillside.

With remarkable presence of mind Mrs. Kress threw the child, Mildred, out and jumped herself. The pole snapped off when the trap made the first summersault and McGraw went over the buck-board. Miss Rose, who was sitting on the side of the trap nearest the embankment, was unable to jump, and in the flight of the rolling vehicle, was thrown out. She fell on her head and was rendered unconscious. The trap continued down the hill and rolled for more than 100 feet into Kilbuck hollow, where it lay smashed into little pieces.

When Mr. Kress saw the trap falling over the embankment he jumped from his runabout and ran back.

"My wife and Mildred were stunned by the fall and were lying on the bank," said Mr. Kress, after the accident. "I saw they were not badly hurt, and went to the assistance of Rose. I thought at first she was dead, and leaving my wife and Mildred in care of the coachman, drove with Rose to the house of August Langenheim, in Riverview avenue. We telephoned to Drs. Wallace and Keagy, and after working with Rose for about half an hour she regained consciousness. I do not know who was driving the automobile, but he was going at a reckless pace, and did not stop when the accident occurred."

Miss Kress was removed to her home in a carriage last night. She has a number of ugly scalp wounds, a broken nose, and four of her teeth were knocked out. It is feared the heavy trap rolled on her and that she sustained internal injuries. Mrs. Kress and little Mildred have but slight bruises. McGraw had his shoulder dislocated. Both horses ran away, but were caught before they got out of the park. The two-seated trap is lying in the shubbery at the foot of the hill, in fragments.

The accident occurred just at a time when scores of other rigs were on the driveway, and hundreds of people from Perrysville avenue were attracted. The wildest excitement prevailed for some time, and there was talk of violent treatment of the chauffuer if he could be found.

At the Kress home, No. 1215 Pennsylvania avenue, late last night it was said that Miss Kress was resting easy, but that the doctors did not know yet the extent of her injuries.

CLUE THAT MAY BE VALUABLE

Bottle Found Near Where Miss Emma Smith Was Beaten in Bethel Township.

IS IDENTIFIED BY A PHYSICIAN

Three Men Got Similar Bottles, but Only One Is Suspected of Being Mixed Up in the Crime—Boyle Is Released on Bail.

A bottle found in the roadway may lead to the identification of the men who brutally assaulted Emma Smith, the 19-year-old girl of Bethel township, last Tuesday, by taking her from her bed and dragging her about 100 yards from the house. The label on the bottle showed it had contained medicine prescribed by Dr. R. E. Poole of Castle Shannon. Dr. Poole identified the bottle as one he had given out.

At the same time the doctor gave out two similar bottles, but he is unable to determine which particular vial it was that was found near where the girl had been beaten. Two of the three bottles were given by the doctor to men who are above suspicion, but the other man who secured the bottle is unknown to the physician, and refused to give his name when he secured the medicine. It is suspected that this unknown was one of the men who assaulted Miss Smith.

Thomas Boyle, who was arrested on Wednesday morning with John Herron, in connection with the assault, was released from jail last night on $100 bail. He was committed charged with being a suspicious person by Leonard Riehl, a Scott township justice of the peace.

After he had been released Boyle stated that he had no connection whatever with the assault. He said on Tuesday night he had been with Miss Smith until about 10:30, when he left her and was in bed at 11 o'clock. He had met her near her home, he said, and she began telling him about a letter she had received from another girl and invited him into the house until she could complete her information.

At 10:30, he said, he considered it was time for him to leave, so he departed. Boyle declared he is 21 years old and had been in Castle Shannon about three weeks engaged in helping build a tank.

Footprints in the vicinity of where the girl was beaten indicate that three men took part in the crime.

It is evident that the assault was premeditated, and there was no attempt made at robbery. Emma Smith said yesterday afternoon that she has not walked in her sleep since childhood, and that she did not walk out of the house and fall down the stairway as reported.

"I remember being struck in the face," said the girl, "and I also remember being dragged out the roadway. When I regained consciousness the second time there was a man sitting on the side of my head. When I struggled to free myself I was beaten unconscious again. It was almost daylight when I came to and wandered back to the house. That is all I can recall."

The girl's face is in a frightful condition. It is swollen twice its usual size. Both eyes were blackened and swollen. Her eyelids are swollen so badly they protrude out of her head for three-quarters of an inch. Her neck and throat are bruised and scratched. Her forehead is also badly bruised and blackened. The girl was just able to speak yesterday, but was unable to see.

HUNTING A TEACHER FOR A GOOD POSITION

The directors having in charge the Union High school of the boroughs of East Pittsburgh, Turtle Creek and Wilmerding, are having great trouble in getting a principal to take charge of the school for the coming term. The position pays a salary of from $1,200 to $1,500 for the school term, and notices have been sent everywhere in the search of a good professor, but male teachers seem to be unusually scarce. The board having the matter in charge will meet next week and probably appoint a committee to go on the hunt of a teacher, unless some fit applicants put in appearance in the meantime.

'03 CLASS READY TO FACE WORLD

Allegheny High School Graduates Got Diplomas at Alvin Theater Last Night.

HOUSE PACKED TO THE DOORS

The Rev. Mr. Diffenbach Gives Some Parting Advice and Warns the Boys Not to Allow Politics to Interfere With Education.

School life was formally closed at the Alvin theater last night by the class of '03 of the Allegheny High school, which held its commencement in the big theater. This important event in the lives of the graduates was not overlooked by their friends, as the theater was packed to the doors. The stage was prettily decorated with flowers and class colors, and an orchestra under the direction of Prof. Charles Couch furnished music during the evening. The graduates had positions on the stage.

A prayer by the Rev. G. Irving Lenker, pastor of the Grace Lutheran church of Allegheny, opened the exercises. The Rev. Albert C. Dieffenbach of the Reformed Church of the Ascension delivered an address on "What Is the True Education?" In his talk Mr. Dieffenbach said that education had been retarded in this vicinity by the existence of the great industries that make Pittsburgh so wealthy. The people, he said, thought so much of their work that they had not the proper regard for the value of education. Those very industries that make Pittsburgh so widely known should stimulate the young to strive after the highest that education offers. In closing Mr. Dieffenbach cautioned the boys not to confuse education with politics, and advised them, if entering politics, never to let that pursuit be a hindrance to the furtherance of education.

Following this address diplomas were presented by Prof. Morrow and class songs were sung. The names of the graduates follow:

Young Fellows' Day in the Clothing Store.

This is the day we are going to give young men, and big and little boys, fine Summer clothes for a considerable reduction from original prices. A splendid opportunity for the young fellow just about to lay aside his knee trousers to step into the mannish trousers. You'll notice from the following quotations what you save on each particular suit, and as all the reductions are not mentioned, plenty of other lines to choose from other than those here quoted.

Young men's Suits of fancy mixtures, and the plain black suits, and the plain blue suits—sizes for 15 years up to 19—at these reductions: For $7.50 from $10; for $9 from $12; for $11 from $15; for $14 from $18; for $16 from $20; for $18 from $22; for $20 from $25. This is one of the best offers we have made this season.

Big boys' double and single-breasted Suits, as well as Norfolk styles—sizes for 8 years and up to 16—fancy patterns and blue and black cheviot and Thibet, for $3.50 from $5; for $5 from $7; for $6 from $8; for $7.50 from $10; for $9 from $12; for $11.75 from $15. A good time to get the boy a fine knee-trousers suit.

Little boys' Suits, comprising all the different styles, such as Sailor, Russian, Eton, Norfolk, Sailor-Norfolk and Cossack—sizes for 2½ years and up to 8—all the fancy patterns in cloths and trimmings, together with such solid colors as blue, brown and white serge and white brilliantine, at these reductions: For $3.50 from $5; for $4 from $6; for $5 from $7.50; for $5.50 from $8; for $6.75 from $10; for $8.50 from $12; for $11.75 from $15.

Boys' Knee Trousers in sizes for 3 years and up to 16—fancy mixtures and plain blue serges, as to styles both plain and bloomer, at these reductions: For 50c from 75c, for 75c from $1 and $1.25; for $1 from $1.50 and $1.75; for $1.75 from $2.25 and $2.50.

Party-Dress Stuffs, 25c yd.

The quarter-of-a-dollar is about the nimblest piece of money in circulation these days. It is simply wonderful how active it is. See what it will buy today in pretty Summer dress stuffs:

First, it will buy a 45c grade of the celebrated Frere Koechlin Printed Organdie in the most exquisite botanical effects. Seldom you ever hear of these celebrated French Organdies selling for 25c a yard.

Second, it will buy a 45c grade of dotted Mousseline, which is the French name for a mixture of silk and cotton. Indeed this mousseline has more the appearance of silk than it has of cotton. Colors, sky blue, rose pink, navy and black.

At the Imported Wash Goods counter, main floor, there are 1,100 yards of the foregoing French materials, and we know of no better day to clear them away than Saturday.

Wrist Bags, $1 each.

Regular prices are $1.25, $1.50 and $2.

Brand new Bags just in the house today, and being bought for a concession, the even dollar is named. They come in walrus and saffian leathers—black, gray, tan, bright red, blue and green.

Automobile Bags of black walrus and saffian leathers, both fitted and unfitted, $2.50 each and up to $6.

Carriage Bags of saffian and walrus leathers, leather handles, fitted and unfitted, $3 each and up to $9.

This Leather Goods Department also has Folding Cabinet Photograph Frames in bright red, green and blue leathers—openings for 2, 3 and 4 pictures—$1.25 each and up to $5.

At this counter will be found such requisites for travelers as Toilet Cases, Flasks, Drinking Cups, Clocks and Jewelry Boxes—not at all expensive.

Save Your Shade Trees.

In the Basement there is on sale the liquid Treealine—saves the trees from caterpillars and all creeping insects. Easy to apply, does not disfigure the tree and results are satisfactory, 25c and 50c a bottle.

Chemo-Insecticide and Disinfectant, instantly kills all insect life and disease germs, recommended particularly for moths, ants and roaches. Will not soil the finest fabric, is not poisonous, nor is it irritating. 25c and 50c a bottle.

Saturday, June 20, 1903.

There is this to be said of the case of the assault upon the girl near Castle Shannon. The crime was of the most brutal and despicable character and no effort should be spared to bring the perpetrators to justice. Every device known to the law should be invoked to aid in the identification, capture and conviction of the criminals. There are difficulties in the way, as any one can see, but they are not necessarily insurmountable if plenty of wit and energy are given to unraveling the tangled skein. It is the duty of the county authorities to do everything possible to discourage that sort of lawlessness.

Judge Gary's announcement that steel prices will remain next year the same as they are now is more authoritative than the mysterious suggestions, emanating from nobody knows where, that the decreased price of pig iron is the forerunner of a general collapse in metal quotations. Judge Gary, as chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation, knows what he is talking about. The rumors referred to bear the stamp of inspiration by the bears in Wall street, who are hoping something will happen to justify their position, or willing to create confusion in their own interest. Fortunately the public has ceased to pay much attention to anonymous gossip and it has not the influence it possessed some years ago.

Attorney General Knox states the law and the equities of the case in the matter of the Galveston so clearly that the correctness of his position cannot be doubted. Any private corporation is permitted to take property it has contracted for upon filing a bond sufficient to cover possible damages. Why, then, should the right or power of the United States to do the same thing be denied? The government is responsible, surely, for any losses inflicted upon private creditors of the Trigg Company. In short, the whole affair has some of the appearance of a tempest in a teapot and the Viriginia court has committed itself to an untenable position without taking time to look at the question squarely. The principle laid down by Attorney General Knox, however, is of vital importance, completely overshadowing the incident which called forth the opinion.

Senator Morgan continues in the role of the Great Irreconcilable. To him the Nicaragua canal project is a living reality, though to all others it has passed into the realm of dead impossibilities. The senator is probably right in the assumption that there is no existing authority for the United States to proceed with the construction of the Panama canal as a government enterprise without the assent of Colombia, but it is not so plain that any purchaser of the Panama Canal Company's stock, property and concessions cannot continue to do all the Panama Canal Company has been authorized to do. The securities of that company are transferable. And it is within the power of the United States government to give police and military protection to the company engaged in that work, with or without the assent of Colombia.

Public expectation was not disappointed by the announcement of a failure to agree upon a verdict by the jury in the Jett-White murder case at Jackson, Ky. Hardly any one had expected a verdict of guilty, and probably only the intimidators were confident of acquittal. Judge Redwine, refusing to hear argument on the prosecuting attorney's motion for a change of venue, sensibly ordered that the retrial should be at Cynthiana, in another district. Any other course would have put him in a class with Judge Cantrill, as putting himself above the desire for justice. In Breathitt county, aside from the judge himself, all the court machinery is in the hands of the faction that is working for the acquittal of the defendants, and which is charged with inspiring the murder of Attorney Marcum. Events have proven that faction's willingness to resort to intimidation, or even murder, to prevent witnesses or jurymen from doing their duty. Judge Redwine was wise to send the prisoners to Lexington for safe keeping and to order the retrial in a county far enough removed from the center of disturbance to offer at least a measure of security to the lives of witnesses and others concerned in the trial. The mistake was in not having a change of venue for the first trial.

It is not surprising that Postmaster General Payne should be breaking down under the strain of the investigation of the affairs of his department. He was not a strong man at the beginning. The inquiry involves many of his personal and political friends. He is naturally harried by the importunities of these and the petitions of the friends of others, as well as by attacks of the opposition. The work alone is arduous. But if the report be true that Mr. Payne's condition has moved President Roosevelt to take personal charge of the investigation it is a sorry day for those who have been hounding the postmaster general. The president's health is as vigorous as his determination to get at the bottom—and to the top—of the postal scandal. He will have as his working right-hand man Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, who is known as an indefatigable worker and an inexorable enemy of fraud. With a team like that pulling away the veil, things will happen with rapidity. There will be no shielding, no hesitating and no delay from lack of physical energy to push the probe. But in any event it is only a question of time until every fraud and irregularity is laid bare.

The Railroad Ordinances.

While the compensation provided for in the ordinances granting extensive privileges to the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad companies seems to be very low, in view of the immense advantages that will accrue to both companies, the exaction of any compensation whatever is a step in the right direction; and if the ordinances are so guarded as to relieve the city from all liability, whether for damages or expenses, we think the ordinances should be speedily passed.

It may be contended that the compensation promised by the Pennsylvania costs that company nothing, and that an additional money payment should be exacted. While it is true that the Liberty street tracks will be of no practical use to the railroad company after the new rights are acquired, it is no less true that the benefits arising from their removal will be so great as to be almost immeasurable.

To fully comprehend the nature and extent of these benefits we must take into consideration the peculiar condition of our retail merchants and the enormous disadvantages under which they now labor for want of sufficient room in which to transact their business. At the present time rents on those of our streets which are now given up to retail trade are so high that they threaten to throw many of our retail merchants out of business. In other words, the immense growth of Pittsburgh has rendered the few streets in our downtown district which have heretofore been occupied by our retail merchants wholly inadequate, and it is absolutely necessary that they should spread to other thoroughfares; and it goes without saying that Liberty street by reason of its location and its great width is better adapted to the wants of this trade than any other thoroughfare. It is the natural meeting place of the great tide of people coming into the city from all parts of the Greater Pittsburgh, and it would long since have occupied the commanding position that has been usurped by other less attractive streets if it had not been for the insurmountable drawback in shape of the Pennsylvania tracks. One side of this great thoroughfare and a great part of the other is now devoted to business which can just as well be accommodated on side streets. With the removal of the tracks and a modern pavement from curb to curb retail business will flock to Liberty street, the tide of travel will be turned in that direction and a great hindrance to our progress and prosperity will be removed. In addition to this, we believe that the increase in taxable valuation alone will provide the city with additional revenue equivalent to a large annual rental. It is important that this great improvement should be consummated, and at once.

The need is pressing. We therefore recommend councils to spend only so much time on this measure as is necessary to properly safeguard the city's interests, and insure the prompt and expeditious completion of the work. The early freedom of Liberty street from the prohibitive embargo from which it now suffers is of more importance than additional compensation, which can only be obtained, if obtained at all, after long delay. Insert a rigid time limit, under heavy penalty, and pass the ordinances quickly.

Canal and Monroeism.

It is the fashion in the United States to regard the Monroe doctrine as no less sacred than the Constitution, and doubtless there are persons here and there who believe that if it is not in the Constitution it is a leading feature of the Declaration of Independence. It is, in fact, a supplement to the Declaration, as the Constitution is a confirmation of it, and is a natural extension and application of the spirit of '76 to post-revolution conditions. The Declaration of Independence was the platform of patriotism of the thirteen colonies on which they were framed into a nation, and the Monroe doctrine is at least a leading plank in the platform of national self-preservation. The Monroe doctrine, as a natural sequence to the earlier declaration, proclaims against extension of European sovereignty on the American continent. It is not a mere glittering generality for use in flights of Independence day oratory, but a practical expression of national determination that has been given effect in more than one instance. It is considered by most Americans to be a sound and necessary American doctrine. They are ready to fight for it if required to do so, regardless of their party affiliation, for it is a national and not a sectional or factional article of faith. It is therefore surprising to read in the local organ of the Democratic party a criticism of the reported hostility of President Roosevelt to the construction of a canal across the Isthmus of Panama by any other nation than the United States. We hope it was unthinkingly, in the hurry incident to going to press, that the Post said:

> Any cession of the sovereignty over the canal strip by Colombia to another power might possibly excite this country, but the same leasehold or option to this nation can be granted to some other country, and nobody but a bully and intermeddler could complain.

The Post is in error. The United States is neither a bully nor an intermeddler, but it would be not merely excited, and complain, but its government would interfere were "the same leasehold under option to this nation" "granted to some other country"—that is, to some other country that has the seat of its power on the continent of Europe. The Monroe doctrine operates to forbid fresh acquisition of territory on this continent by a foreign government, and if acquisition of the Panama canal strip by a foreign government leasehold or otherwise would not be such an acquisition as the doctrine is directed against, there is no meaning in words. Doubtless the Post, when it considers the whole subject in all its bearings, will be of the same belief.

However, there is really no need to borrow trouble on the score of what some non-American power may do, or try to do, at Panama, for, notwithstanding the occasional restiveness of foreign newspapers, the Monroe doctrine is now accepted in European capitals as an established fact with which it is useless to quarrel.

It may be said in conclusion that the United States would have more reason to regard as "a bully and intermeddler" any European nation which might have the temerity to seek the Panama canal concession, than Europe and the Post would have to regard this nation as such when it interfered.

The Business Situation.

There is a well-known theory that a constant movement is in progress toward an adjustment of the market value of stocks and bonds to the earning power of the properties they represent. In a general way the theory is sound. There are, however, numerous eddies in the current which sometimes interrupt the movement. An illustration of this fact was furnished during the week. Rather unexpectedly the Bank of England reduced its minimum rate of discount from 3½ per cent to 3 per cent, the lowest of the year. The effect was to render unnecessary exports of gold, for which preparations were being made, because the gold would command a relatively higher rate if loaned here than if sent abroad, where discounts were declining. The sympathetic effect, well recognized in financial circles, of this retention of gold here was to produce a better feeling in the stock market. Another well-recognized obstacle to the automatic adjustment of market values to property values, or to present and prospective conditions affecting earning power, is the operation of influential speculative cliques. Sometimes the supposed necessities of an individual or of a corporation, or the resentment of rivals, furnish the basis for such speculative movements. The effect, while temporary, is oftentimes more pronounced than warranted by the facts in the situation.

Something of this sort has been witnessed in Wall street during the past two weeks and is still attracting the attention of the public. The decline in the United States Steel stocks to the lowest prices, with one exception, ever quoted, was partly due to the readjustment in progress toward normal conditions in the iron trade, and partly to matters which have no direct bearing upon the earning power of the plant. Owing to the well-grounded belief that the iron market is the truest barometer of general trade conditions, coupled with the theory above referred to, the steel stocks furnish the best weapon in the hands of manipulators to aid in the accomplishment of any speculative movement that may be undertaken by professional operators. The United States Steel Corporation was a brilliant conception, but from an economic standpoint it is still in an experimental stage. Altogether apart from the stock market view, it seems reasonably certain that by the fact of its organization the violent disturbances which have occurred in the iron trade in the past will be minimized if not wholly averted in the future.

The labor situation is still far from satisfactory, and this no doubt has something to do with the rather pessimistic tone that pervades some departments of trade. One of the greatest economies in modern methods is the elimination of time, labor and storage cost between the maker and user of material. Strikes and lockouts in several large cities have brought building operations almost to a standstill. Links are being added to the chain of effect almost daily, and an increasing number of interests are coming under the influence of the situation. Agricultural conditions are also less satisfactory than could be desired. The corn and cotton crops are unusually backward, and farmwork generally has been delayed by cold and unseasonable weather. The latest reports of our foreign trade are less favorable than formerly, although the comparison is not bad when carried back prior to 1900. On the other hand, activity continues in domestic trade, a fact that is demonstrated by larger bank exchanges and the maintenance of increased railroad earnings.

England Stands Aloof.

Great Britain, at least, is not disposed to countenance Servian revolutionary methods, as appears from the statement of Lord Lansdowne, secretary of state for foreign affairs, in parliament. The foreign secretary frankly said that Sir George Bonham had been instructed to leave Belgrade before the arrival of King Peter, and in the meantime to do nothing that would indicate recognition of the provisional government. Lord Lansdowne said there is no agreement among the European governments touching Servian affairs, but that the attitude of France, Italy and Germany is practically the same as that of Great Britain—a sort of do-nothing policy until it is seen whether King Peter will form a government free from the stain of murder and take steps to punish the regicides.

At Berlin it is said there is no agreement with Russia to insist upon the punishment of the assassins of King Alexander and Queen Draga. Neither has there been any recognition of the provisional government or King Peter. Germany, it is explained, has no active interest in Servian affairs that call for action or protest, but it does not feel that it can countenance the outrages at Belgrade, or recognize the government unless some effort is made to punish those guilty of the crime.

Undoubtedly this aloofness of Great Britain, Germany, Italy and France presents a more difficult situation to the new king of Servia than the Russian note demanding the punishment of regicides, or the letter of Emperor Francis Joseph expressing his utter contempt for the means by which the Karageorgevitch pretender has come to the throne. Russia's demand might be satisfied by making a scapegoat and Austria's contempt might be overcome by the same method. But the punishment of some inconsequential villains will not so easily satisfy the powers that, without making any representations, decline to recognize the new dynasty, pending developments. Obviously, Peter is destined to learn that being king by virtue of assassination is a less desirable job than supporting a royal pretension on poverty.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

Referring to recent remarks by Representative Lacey of Iowa concerning reciprocity, the Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.) says the gentleman is unaware that the policy was urged on every possible occasion by James G. Blaine and William McKinley, and continues: "Mr. Lacey will have a sorry time of it fighting these giants, whose great, shrewd policies still live, though they themselves be dead. That policy for which Blaine and McKinley most earnestly contended was reciprocal trade relations with the nations of the earth, and that is the policy which Representative Lacey attacks with his little wooden sword. He does not know it, of course, but nevertheless there is a tide rising over the country which will eventually submerge and sweep away all the 'stand-patters' who now vainly oppose the principle which is among the first of those that the truly great leaders of Republicanism, Blaine and McKinley, so stoutly upheld."

+ + + +

"The talk of a Democratic candidate for president next year has died out considerably since it became evident, by the action of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Republican conventions, that Mr. Roosevelt will be the Republican nominee," says the Philadelphia Press (Rep.). "Senator Bate of Tennessee, has stated the case frankly by calling on the Democrats 'to wait until they can see what the situation and the issues are to be.'"

+ + + +

"The chances are that the tariff utterance of the Iowa Republicans will be orthodox enough to suit their party throughout the country," says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.). "Of course, it will make no difference to the party in the country at large what Iowa says on the tariff this year. No revision of the tariff will be urged by any of the Republican conventions which meet this year, with the possible exception of Iowa, and the probability is that none will be urged there. None will be attempted in congress. The convention of 1904 will make no demand for any tariff revision. It will suit the Republicans to make a fight on the tariff if the Democrats can be inveigled into assailing the protective policy next year. The chances are, however, that Gorman and the rest of the shrewd leaders of the Democracy will prevent their party from making any assault on the tariff that can arouse Republican opposition."

+ + + +

Replying to the Milwaukee News, which denominated the solid south as a "menace to the nation," the Atlanta Constitution agrees that it is, but says: "The people of the south are kept solid by the endeavors of the Republican party to carry out devices invented in the post-war period and which are now denounced as mistakes, as blunders equal to crimes, by many of the most clear-headed men of the north, the insistence upon manhood suffrage, upon negro rule in those sections of the south where the negro would dominate, the reproduction of chaos, corruption and internecine warfares of the reconstruction era—these are greater menaces to the south than the solid south is to the nation at large. The Republican party of the north can remove this menace and we believe a plebiscite among their voters only in that section would show a majority in favor of abandoning the negro political and social propoganda. When the menace of negro domination is wiped out by that abandonment, then the solid south will not only cease to be a menace, but cease to be at all."

+ + + +

Of the movement for consular reform in which the National Business league is interesting itself, the Providence Journal (Rep.) says: "The average member of congress does not take kindly to such an act. He prefers the present loose methods of selection and promotion and follows the lead of Representative Grosvenor of Ohio and others of his class in voting against all reforms either in the civil service at home or the consular service abroad."

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

But, oh, ye lords of ladies intellectual,
Inform us truly—have they not henpecked you all?
—Byron.

How about that girl you are going to marry? Is she all right? Of course you think she is, but is she?

What do you know about her, anyway? That she is good to look upon when dressed up, and is good company when the conditions are pleasant, and well informed concerning matters which she brings up for discussion—all this goes without saying.

But what is she like in her morning gown? How does she deport herself when things don't come her way, and what is her manner when you happen to disappoint her? When the cook is sick, does she make a mess of the breakfast?

What do you know about her nerve? Not the kind of nerve displayed in asking for ice cream, carriage rides, and things of that sort, but the nerve to face real trouble, to stand by you in a financial crisis, and to hold up your hands when they are about to drop from sheer weariness?

* * * * *

Mr. Quiet Observer: My advice to "Troubled Mother" is to start in at once to teach her girls to be good housekeepers and good cooks. Don't wait until they finish school. Change of work is recreation.

Home education should not be deferred until the school education is completed, and particularly as this education is the more important of the two.

Don't attempt to give them a college education until they are proficient in housework. Suppose they do teach school, don't they ever intend to marry? If they do they will need the education that you can give them in your home. Wealthy men don't want wives who know nothing about housework or cooking; and poor or even well-to-do men cannot afford to have them. If a man is unfortunate enough to get one of that kind, she is a handicap to him all his life, or until she learns that which she should have learned before marriage.

Would you want your sons to marry girls who knew no more about cooking or housework than you say your girls know?

Any man, I believe, would prefer a wife to be a good cook and a good housekeeper than to be a high school graduate, if she could not be both.

A girl, however, is not very bright, or very lazy who cannot be both, or else her mother is to blame. There is nothing you can give your daughter in the way of money or education that will compensate for her lack of knowledge in this respect.

Any young man has a right to feel badly swindled who is "gold bricked" by marrying a girl of this kind. A man naturally believes the daughter of a good housekeeper is also a good housekeeper, and he will not think much of the mother-in-law when he finds that he is mistaken.

The reason why so few marriages are happy is because young ladies spend their time in making nets, not in making cages. —Swift.

Mr. Quiet Observer: After reading your very unjust letter in Thursday morning's issue of The Gazette, I could not refrain from adding a few words, if for no other reason than to relieve my indignation, as a woman.

You ask, "Do you imagine men to be a species of animal made and provided in the economy of nature to provide for and to serve women?"

And again, "She should divert his mind from the office after the day's work is done."

And again, "The girl has the center of the social stage, and she is making a various show of herself. But this is necessary in order to get her best possible pose."

Taking up the first point: Are not men supposed to provide for women? Are not the men the very ones who cry out against a woman's entering business life, and say continually, "Home is the woman's sphere?"

Then you, in your own words, "in the economy of nature," men are to provide for women. A woman's life is filled with the disproportionate share of life's penalties. She must work out her share of the first curse, "in sorrow all the days of her life."

In regard to men serving women, why should it not be equal? Why should women attend to every comfort of men, only to get the material rewards?

Taking up the second point: "She should divert his mind from the office after the day's work is done." And he should divert her mind from the wearying, petty round of duties done during his absence. A man goes out in the morning, has change and variety, takes his midday meal with strangers, outsiders and friends, has the pleasant interchange of thought, of conversation.

The woman is in the same spot all day, nine times out of ten. Why shouldn't the man and woman mutually divert a weary mind from the day's work?

The third point: "The girl has the center of the social stage," etc.

She has, and mighty tired she gets of it, hence the "new woman" and the "various show" she makes of herself.

Women do get tired of the inane, useless life of society; that is, the women who are worth while. And in your letter you give a sorrowful story from a troubled mother who is worrying over the future of her daughters.

Small wonder that the daughters are lazy and selfish, when raised in such an environment. A woman who is narrow enough to think that education unfits a girl for good, honest work of any kind, cannot be expected to raise helpful, well-balanced daughters.

Let the girls alone, Mr. Quiet Observer, they are working out their own salvation very satisfactorily. Just at present the world is adjusting itself to the new "pose" of women, which seeks to exhibit itself in many sections of the stage, aside from that of the social center.

And if a woman decides to give her "woman's heart and woman's life" to be shared by a man, let each prove that the word "helpmate" is not obsolete.

Let each lighten the burden, and make the way smoother and easier for the other. This is not a crude philosophy, or a woman's excited ravings, but the essence of that greatest thing in the world—justice. A WOMAN.

Come live with me and be my love,
And we will all earth's pleasures prove.
—Christopher Marlowe.

"I thank you much, kind Shepherd, for your offer,
I realize no mortal man can proffer
More than himself—that is his best estate.
Yet love, you know, is hardly up to date.
In times like these a woman on the brink
Of matrimony needs to stop and think.

"Of course you love me that I comprehend.
But to be loved is not the aim or end
Of modern woman's dreams. Are you content
To let this love be just an incident
In our two lives? To live and work with me
On terms of absolute equality?
And do you promise not to interfere
With my development? If time makes clear
The workings of great Karma in the fact
That I am born to lecture or to act,
Will you assist my plans or will you rage
And scold about my going on the stage,
Like unenlightened husbands of the past?
Then, too, regarding children! Oh, the vast Importance of an understanding now
Upon that question, ere we take the vow
That brings such matters into litigation.
I have my theories of education
Which must be followed. Then I want to know
Where you believe immortal spirits go
When this life ends; and also where you stand
Regarding Trusts, and Single Tax on land.
Take time and well consider each suggestion.
And later we'll decide the marriage question."

I know not what the Shepherd may have said,
I only know the modern maid was led
A willing captive to the church one day.
And that her romping children run and play.
And cry and grow like others, while the wife
Seems all absorbed in her domestic life.
Its little worries and its large delights
Have driven out all thoughts of "equal rights."
Let modern woman talk, but oh believe!
Love rules her as it ruled her mother Eve.
—ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

As to Prophets.

From Washington the viewless couriers of the air drop feathery hints that the professional prophets have been puzzled by recent wild vagaries of the weather, and many an amateur wizard of storms and calms, of showers and drouths, has been far afield in his prognostications. Weather prophets are rarely honored in their own country.—New York Tribune.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 19.—People interested in the coming international yacht race—and that means every American, even those who have never seen an ocean yacht—wish to know just what Shamrock III. looks like. New Yorkers with a certain amount of "pull" can have that satisfaction just now. The Lipton boats are both out of the water at Erie Basin and you may walk around and under them if you are one of the elect, studying them at close range. To the layman they are both extremely ugly. They have too much keel and are too much like a skimming dish. Experts will smile pityingly if you make such remarks, however. The truth is that Shamrock III. is said by good judges to be far and away the best example of the racing 90-footer that has ever come over the ocean. She is in a situation now which enables her to be closely examined from stem to stern, under and over, so that criticism can be complete, whether it is sound or otherwise. The two boats will be floated on Monday and by the time Sir Thomas arrives things will be ready for the trials which are to precede the great struggle in August.

Duties of a Citizen.

Edward Lauterbach, the lawyer and politician who is president of the board of trustees of the College of the City of New York, gave some unusual advice to the graduates at the commencement on Thursday evening. He told them that they should aim to be politicians. While admitting that odium attached to a certain class of political heelers he held that it was the duty of every American to take an active part in politics. A citizen's duty was not finished when he cast his vote on election day. He should attend the primaries and follow through all the stages of the contest the selection of men to fill offices and should have something to say before candidates are nominated. Mr. Lauterbach was chairman of the Republican committee of New York for a long time and knows what he is talking about. His address made such a powerful impression that we may expect to see a crop of eager new politicians in this metropolis as soon as the graduates get fairly into the world and find their bearings.

New Building is Promised.

The College of the City of New York will have a fine building some day, when its new edifice on University Heights is completed. This was one of the pleasant things that Mr. Lauterbach told the college men on Thursday evening. He reminded them that the corner stone would be laid October 1 and told them that they all should be present. The new building will cost $6,000,000, according to present estimates, with the probability of exceeding that amount by a million or two.

Pittsburghers on the Cedric.

When the big White Star liner Cedric sailed today for Liverpool she carried a goodly sized party of Pittsburghers. Among them were A. W. Mellon, Algernon Brennan, Miss Eleanor D. Mustin, Miss Agnes M. Mustin, Burton H. Mustin, Mrs. William C. Jutte and family, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Donnan, Miss Donnan and Alvin Donnan, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kounts. Every stateroom and berth was occupied, but that is the story on every popular steamer sailing from New York nowadays.

Too Much Weather for Yachtsmen.

Don't talk to W. T. Keogh, the theater manager, who is so well known to Pittsburghers, about the pleasure of sailing. He has just come back from a trip along the coast in his private schooner-yacht and he wants no more of it for the present. Yachtsmen and campers have had all the weather they wanted in the last two weeks, and more, too. What added to Mr. Keogh's disgust when he went home yesterday was to find that burglars had cleaned out his Harlem flat while he was on the raging main. The police are after the thieves, but Mr. Keogh does not believe in policemen or anyone else now.

Children Attend Divorce Hearing.

One of the dramatic elements in the court proceedings in Jersey City today to determine whether Gen. Emil Schaefer and his wife shall care for their two little girls in future was the presence of the two children to hear the wrangle. The general is suing Mrs. Schaefer for divorce. The little ones seemed to be bored by the legal ruction today, as might be expected of youngsters of their tender age.

Mascot's Narrow Escape.

There is a mongrel dog in Brooklyn who narrowly escaped taking part in a sacrificial ceremony which would have meant a watery grave for him. He is the "mascot" of the Brooklyn Arion society. He was picked up by some members of the organization just before they took train in Jersey City for Baltimore where they competed in the saengerfest. It was determined that if the Arions won they would give the "mascot" a diamond-studded collar and maintain him in luxury for the rest of his life. If they lost he was to be chucked over the Brooklyn bridge. The Arions were unsuccessful, but they decided it was because the other society sang better than they that they did not get the prize. They felt it would be injustice to blame it on the dog. Which shows that common sense is not a lost attribute in Brooklyn.

Rail Output for Seven Months Sold.

Much interest was manifested in business circles today over the report issued by Judge Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation, that the entire output of steel rails for the next seven or eight months is sold and that the price will be $28 a ton for 1904. While there are some millions of people in Greater New York who do not expect to have personal use for steel rails the news of prosperous conditions at Pittsburgh is an augur of good fortune for every other part of the country, which is as well understood in Gotham as anywhere.

Sports Off to Chicago.

Railroad men say that there was a larger crowd of departing passengers for the west this morning than had been seen for weeks. They had a ready explanation. The American Derby is scheduled for tomorrow at Chicago and the sporting crowd which had assembled at Sheepshead Bay for the Suburban was hurrying to Chicago for the Derby. New York always sends a strong contingent to that stirring event, without counting the visitors from other cities who come to New York for the suburban. The Pennsylvania railroad, the New Jersey Central and New York Central shared the passenger business, but the Pennsylvania railroad got the larger portion.

Blames Bankruptcy on Parkhurst.

Dr. Parkhurst is blamed partly for causing the bankruptcy of William Broadbelt, who has got his decree as a voluntary bankrupt through the United States district court in Brooklyn. Broadbelt owned a flat house in West Thirty-seventh street. Dr. Parkhurst did not like the carryings on in some of the houses on that street and caused them to be raided. Broadbelt says his house was all right, but on account of the odium brought on the neighborhood by the raids he could not get tenants. The doctor is in Switzerland so that his comments could not be obtained today. Mr. Broadbelt's lawyer quoted to his client Senator Quay's famous message to Gov. Beaver, "Don't talk," and that was the end of his lament.

The Gazette Almanac.

(Read and Hand to a Sick Friend.)

With the barometer nearly down to the cuticle stage last evening, and a gray sunset, one can readily believe that the Washington prediction of Showers is about as near the genuine thing as ever sent out. It looks as though a real old country weather prophet had put his signs to work, and "today" will be a mighty poor day for plantin'.

In Old Kentucky.

I'm looking for a bullet-proof shirt?
Going to join the army?
No; I'm from Breathitt county, and I am called upon to sit on the jury in a murder trial.

A Game That Failed.

It wouldn't do to tell their right names, so I'll fall back on the Smith family to help me out. This particular Mr. Smith is very much for business, while his wife goes in for society. An evening at home is his greatest pleasure, while she—not being compelled to spend so many weary hours in the dust and sometimes heat of downtown Pittsburgh—is not averse to dragging him out to every social function to which they receive invitations—and they don't miss many worth mentioning.

During the past week there was a wedding to which the Smiths were invited. It took considerable diplomacy for Mrs. Smith to convince her husband that they must attend.

"I'm willing to send any sort of a present you may suggest, but I prefer an evening at home to a crush and that pleasant affair, where I won't feel at all pleasant," was only one of his many arguments, all of which were met by the infallible woman's logic.

After it was decided that they would lend their presence to the affair, Mrs. Smith rushed to her dressmaker for a new gown. The following day Mr. Smith also visited the dressmaker—and he bribed her to be so late in delivering the frock that it would be impossible to wear it on the gala occasion. Then he went home fully satisfied that he would escape the trying ordeal.

When the evening of the wedding arrived and no new gown was forthcoming, Mrs. Smith did not give way to tears, as you may have guessed. She was entirely too practical for that. She hunted around in her wardrobe for "something equally good." The chosen costume was slightly wrinkled, and she decided to press it herself. The virtuous Mr. Smith feared she would burn herself with the terribly hot iron, and he tried to persuade her to give the whole thing up, but that she would not do. She had decided to go to the wedding, and fate and the dressmaker were not a strong enough combination to stop her.

The pressing operation was about completed when the doorbell rang. And behold a miracle! The dressmaker had been true to Mr. Smith's injunction and started the dress late, but by chance, a new messenger boy was sent with the package. He did not dally on the way to play marbles; he did not lay the package down long enough to thrash another boy on the street; he took the first car, never lost a moment's time, and reached the Smith residence just in time to lose the dressmaker that bribe.

Happy again, Mrs. Smith arrayed herself in the new gown. Mr. Smith got into his regimentals, and they arrived at the wedding just in time to be late enough to be the most conspicuous of the guests.

"No man can beat such a game," is Mr. Smith's comment, "and hereafter I will take my social medicine with as pleasant a face as I can muster."

Reminder of Long Ago.

As Old Sol peered from behind his curtain of cloud and cast his beaming countenance upon the world, he was greeted by loud applause.

"Reminds me of the days of the Sun Worshipers," he mused. "Those shivering people must have thought I had been called down by the walking delegate for working overtime and had thrown up my job."

Some Maryland Fiction.

A well-known Pittsburgh gentleman has just returned from Oakland, Md., where he didn't quite depopulate the little river of fish, but he met D. E. DeLauder, an old gentleman, who has fished and hunted "in these parts" since he was old enough to carry a gun. The old fellow tells some great tales about the wonderful hunting there used to be. His favorite story is about a buck he brought in one evening "in the days before the war."

"I was out on the mountain one day with only a shotgun," says Mr. DeLauder, "and I had decided that at wild turkey till I didn't have a charge left. I was trudging along toward home when I sighted a young deer. I was sure I could get him if I only had some shot for the old muzzle-loader. But I hadn't. So I rammed in a good charge of powder and threw in some wild peach stones and buzzed away at the buck. I never missed a shot in those days, and I was sure I hit the deer, but he only started on a run down the mountain.

"About four years after that I got a fine shot at a big buck, and when I got up to him lying there in the grass there were a number of peculiar little marks on his haunches. I cut one of them open with my knife, and, sir, I found a peach stone, and there were seven of them, just the number I put in my shotgun that evening four years before."

The Pugilist in Love.

The Freckled One beamed upon his fiancesta.

"I need you in my corner in the battle of life," he whispered. "With you as my second death alone can knock me out. And I'll put up a hard fight against him."

"Strong on your contract, calling for 20 per cent of the winnings," replied the Sweet One, and the engagement was promptly announced.

Baseball Loyalty.

Washington baseball fans are enthusiastic over the fine showing which Pittsburgh is making in the race for the National league championship. Some of these fans recall how certain Pittsburgh newspapers occasionally roast Washington athletes and how the same papers have at times ridiculed people and things out this way, but they are forgiving, and loyal to Barney Dreyfuss' champion baseball aggregation. It is interesting, too, to note the interest the small boys here take in the great national game. They have the names of all the players of the league at their tongue's end, and are familiar with the records of many of them. Incidentally it might be stated that a number of young women in Washington take an interest in the game, and also take a hurried glance at the baseball bulletin.

Over 3,000 persons visited the remains of the ex-mayor at his late home, No. 6325 Marchand street, yesterday. Floral emblems were sent there all during the day, and last night the entire lower floor was a mass of beautiful flowers. The most conspicuous floral gift was a facsimile of the steps in Liberty avenue upon which the ex-mayor and a few of his intimate friends were wont to discuss the topics of the day. This gift was sent by his companions who exchanged confidences there, and was made of white roses and carnations, green ferns and palms.

The Pittsburgh bureau of detectives sent a massive facsimile of a pair of scales representing the scales of justice. This was composed of red roses and cut flowers. M. J. Connelly and Michael Hughes sent an immense heart-shaped tribute of pink carnations and greens. John C. Reilly sent a wreath of cut flowers. From William Dovenshire came a bouquet of roses and Harry Davis sent a large bunch of roses, carnations and sweet peas.

The Iroquois club sent a large heart-shaped bunch of American Beauty roses, Rody P. Marshall sent cut flowers and a large bugle-shaped floral emblem was sent by the surviving members of the old volunteer fire department, of which Mr. McKenna was a member. On this bugle in raised floral letters was the word "Allegheny." Ex-County Sheriff Richardson sent a bunch of carnations and the Pittsburgh typographical union sent a floral cross. J. A. Murphy sent a large broken circle filled with roses, carnations and greens. Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Feeney sent a large basket of white carnations and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. McNulty sent the same.

A delegation of the Pittsburgh Aerie No. 76, Fraternal Order of Eagles, composed of 175 men, went to Mr. McKenna's home in a body last night and viewed his remains. During the day crowds of friends of the late ex-mayor visited the house. Resolutions regretting his death were passed by the Pittsburgh police and detective bureaus.

BRIDEGROOM POISONED.

Ivy Vine Prevented the Honeymoon Trip of an East End Couple.

An insignificant ivy vine prevented a popular East End couple from enjoying their honeymoon trip. William E. Davies and Miss Edna Moreland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moreland of No. 608 South Dallas avenue, East End, were married on Wednesday night at the home of the bride's parents. Several days before the wedding Mr. Davies came in contact with poison ivy, which someone had planted, probably believing it to be Virginia creeper. The groom was terribly affected by the venomous vine. His face is badly swollen, but that did not postpone the ceremony.

The arrangements were carried out as planned, with the exception that the honeymoon trip was omitted. Mr. Davies' combination of the smanufacturer, the had to place nimself under the care of a physician. As soon as the groom recovers from the effects of the ivy the young couple will take the trip.

PRIEST SAYS DANCING IS AN IMPUDENT VICE

CUMBERLAND, MD., June 19.—(Special.)—Father Don Luigi Sartori of Midland has addressed a letter to Bishop McCluskey of Louisville, Ky., regarding the bisnop's decree against dancing. Father Sartori states: "I read your decree condemning dancing, giving as a reason 'the shockingly indecent style of modern dancing.' You are right; the waltz, together with the polka, galop, mazurka and other dances of the kind, constitutes the most bold and impudent vices raging in the land, threatening to overthrow the bishops' and priests' authority for the license pandering to carnal passions. The modern dance for high and low society is sheer devilization."

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN HERALD PRAISES FOR PE-RU-NA

(Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Makes Invalids of More Women Than All Other Diseases Combined.)

Systemic catarrh causes nervousness, poor appetite, tired feelings. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

LETTERS FROM WOMEN.

Miss Anna Prescott's Letter.

Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. My druggist advised me to try Peruna and the relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful.

"I continued its use for five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to my self as well as to my friends."—Anna Prescott.

Pe-ru-na a True Friend to Women.

Miss Florence Allan, a beautiful Chicago girl, writes the following from 75 Walton Place:

"As a tonic for a worn out system, Peruna stands at the head in my estimation. Its effects are truly wonderful in rejuvenating the entire system. I keep it on hand all the time, and never have that 'tired feeling,' as a few doses always makes me feel like a different woman."—Florence Allan.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the diseased mucous membranes, and with healthy mucous membranes the catarrh can no longer exist. Peruna Makes You Feel Like a New Person.

Miss Marie Coats, a popular young woman of Appleton, Wis., and President of the Appleton Young Ladies' Club, writes:

"When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week.

"I have now used it for three seasons, and find it very valuable and efficacious."—Miss Marie Coats.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

SECRETS TOLD IN THE BRIEF

Southern Pacific's Attorneys Allege Discrimination Against Harriman.

WANT HIS POWER RESTRAINED

Desperate Effort Being Made to Prevent Appropriation of Funds by the Union Pacific Railroad—Keene Interests Produce Figures.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 19.—Contrary to the report that a compromise had been effected in New York between the Keene and Harriman interests and that the Southern Pacific railway suit had been settled, a brief containing sensational allegations was filed today by counsel for the appellants. The original suit involved the question of a right of the Union Pacific directors to vote in the stockholders' meeting of the Southern Pacific.

The Harriman interests, which represented the Union and Central Pacific roads, secured a controlling interest in the Southern Pacific road and at the annual election, which was to have been held last April, expected to control the meeting and elect their officials. Suit for injunction was begun by the Keene interests, representing the Southern Pacific, the action going to the United States court of appeals here from the Louisville district. The election was postponed.

The brief filed today was prepared by Senator Joseph B. Foraker of Cincinnati, August E. Wilson of Louisville and Edward Lauterbach and Eugene Treadwell of New York. Twenty-six arguments are advanced in behalf of the appellants to restrain the Harriman element from voting. Among the arguments are these allegations:

Much Discrimination.

The Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific roads being competitors, it was a violation of public policy, and for that reason illegal, for the Union Pacific to acquire and maintain control of the Southern Pacific by purchasing and voting its stock. The proof shows that it is within the power of the Union Pacific to practice abuse and discriminations against the Southern Pacific.

It is not necessary to show that discriminations and abuses have been practiced to entitle the complainants to the relief asked. The proof shows that discrimination has been practiced in making expenditures on the Central Pacific. From the affidavits it is shown that twice as much money has been expended from the earnings of the entire Southern Pacific system, of about 9,000 miles, as on the 871 miles of the Central Pacific railroad between Ogden and San Francisco, as has been expended on the remaining 8,000 miles, and that the immediate purpose of such expenditures is to make the Union Pacific line a direct through route from Chicago to San Francisco by way of Omaha and Ogden, for the purpose of making it the main competitor in transcontinental business of other transcontinental lines.

Immense Expenditures.

The result will be to give the Union Pacific a haul over its entire line between Omaha and Ogden and the Southern Pacific only the short haul over its main lines from New Orleans. This would apply to all business originating on the Atlantic seaboard, as well as business diverted from its main line to the Union Pacific, or direct through line, and a corresponding advantage to the Union Pacific.

In figures the pleadings show that since the Union Pacific management has assumed control of the Southern Pacific, the system previously in vogue of keeping accounts of disbursements has been discontinued and that it is impossible to give figures accurately. It is estimated, however, that out of about $43,465,000 expended for betterments, $28,000,000 is now being expended on the 871 miles of the Central Pacific between Ogden and San Francisco, $6,650,000 on the Southern between San Francisco and Portland, $2,200,000 on the 277 miles between Sacramento and Bakersfield, a branch of the Southern Pacific, or a total of $36,850,000 out of $43,465,000 on 1,920 miles of Southern Pacific system in which the Union Pacific is directly interested.

USE OF FORCE IS CONSIDERED

to order marines to Richmond or to call on the war department for sufficient troops to handle the situation.

Attorney General's Opinion.

In his opinion, Attorney General Knox says that the letter of Secretary Moody raises the question of the right and power of the United States to take immediate and complete possession for all purposes of vessels with shipbuilders when there has been a breach of contract with the latter. The question, he says, actually affects three vessels at present and might at any time involve any or all public vessels under construction by private parties. For this reason he declares the subject of vital importance in respect to national and sovereign interests.

Taking up the particular case of the cruiser Galveston he recites the act of congress authorizing the ship's construction, the terms of the contract with the Trigg company, the failure of the company to do the work, and the action of certain lien claimants and material men in objecting to the launching of the ship by the government and challenging the exclusiveness of the government's title and the priority of its lien. On this subject Attorney General Knox says:

A Fundamental Right.

The right of a party in ordinary litigation to a release of property from attachment upon giving a bond for indemnity is fundamental. It manifestly applies with greater force and reason in a case affecting the government as parens patriae than where the interests of private litigations alone are involved.

The statute of 1864 enables the government, although not a party, nor in general subject to be made such, to intervene without prejudice or to invoke that doctrine.

It is especially significant that section 3763 expressly refuses to recognize any right whatever to seize or attach property of the United States or property held, owned or employed by it. Quite apart from the statute, and because of the nature of the case, it is impossible, on primary grounds, to yield assent at all to the idea that any instrumentality of the government—in this case an instrumentality of prime importance—may be taken into custody and held under any adverse authority whatever. This view applies, in my judgment, whether the adverse custody should assume to attach upon the instrumentality as a completed thing, or upon one in process of creation.

While, however, it is not to be doubted for a moment that the United States is entitled to the undisturbed possession and control of its property and of property in which it is interested to the extent of that interest, and that this possession and control are exempt from the process of every court, yet, in order to avoid unseemly clashing and hostile demonstration, upon the part of creditors or claimants, congress, by the act of 1884, provided an orderly and peaceful solution of controversies that may arise between parties claiming adverse to the United States, under the terms of which the utmost rights of all claimants are preserved without the functions of the government being in the slightest degree disturbed.

Act Is Not Mandatory.

It will be observed, however, that this act is not mandatory in its provisions and that in a palpable case of improper interference with the government's rights the strong executive arm may be relied upon for the protection of its sovereignty, the language of the act being that the secretary of the treasury may in his discrimination cause such stipulation to be entered. This is a case in which I think that discretion should be exercised.

The nature and necessities of the subject, the sovereignty claim and interest, the object to be gained, the words of the statute, its fair inferences and clear reservations, all convince me beyond doubt that the stipulation to be entered into is an engagement on behalf of the United States which shall be addressed to and filed with the particular court, under proper reserve of submission to the jurisdiction, whereupon discharge of the property, as matter of course, would follow, and adverse claimants would have the opportunity of establishing, in accordance with the laws, the respective claims against the bond of indemnity thus provided.

From another point of view, a certain analogy is furnished by the laws relating to the removal of causes, under which, when the various statutory reasons exist, a petition for removal with sufficient security makes it the duty of the state court to proceed no further in the cause, and in effect ousts its jurisdiction and confers jurisdiction upon the federal court. So here I cannot doubt that the stipulation (one of indemnity), when presented and entered into as the engagement of the United States, will operate forthwith to discharge the property and free it from the state jurisdiction, that the chancery court of Virginia, upon the entry of this instrument and consideration of the law now invoked, will take whatever action may be necessary or desirable to conform its records to the supreme law and to prevent any clash of authority.

Withholds His Opinion.

In concluding his opinion, the attorney general says:

One further point remains to be considered. The letter of the secretary of the navy requests to be authorized to employ, if necessary, the military forces of the government at his disposal for the execution of his orders in the premises. I am loath to believe that occasion for such exertion of the federal powers will arise, being confident that any claim to interfere with the national rights under the judicial authority of the state of Virginia will be promptly disposed of and be denied by the chancery court. For this reason I shall defer answering that question.

The cabinet decided that the government's case was sound and that the program outlined yesterday by Mr. Moody should be pursued.

Information will be conveyed to the Virginia justice who granted the injunction that he has exceeded his functions and it is believed he will withdraw from what the attorney general and the president regard as an untenable position, thus avoiding any clash at Richmond.

ELIZABETHPORT, N. J., June 19.—Sheriff Coriel said today that he had placed a deputy in charge of the Chattanooga and would keep him at the Crescent yard unless he received orders from some higher authority to withdraw him. The sheriff added that he had simply performed his duty in seizing the vessel in accordance with the writ issued by the supreme court commissioner, and that he knew nothing about the merits of the case. He had not heard anything from the navy department at Washington, but he felt he would be fully protected in seizing the Chattanooga by the highest courts in New Jersey.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Lewis Nixon, former president of the United States Shipbuilding Company, said today:

"There was no necessity to sue out a warrant of seizure against the Chattanooga. Two-thirds of the money due on the boilers had been paid and the balance will be paid within the time specified."

KILLED IN SIGHT OF MANY.

Young Woman Struck by Train at Braddock Station—Coroner's Cases.

Miss Nellie Pflasterer, aged 26, died yesterday afternoon at the West Penn hospital of injuries received by being struck by the New York and Chicago limited at the Braddock station of the Pennsylvania railroad during the morning. Miss Pflasterer lived at No. 816 Talbot avenue, Braddock, and was employed as a bookkeeper by a hardware firm in this city. She was struck while crossing the tracks. The accident was witnessed by a large crowd at the station.

William Dillon, aged 48, of Larimer avenue, Turtle Creek, a foreman on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday of injuries received Thursday from a blast of rock at Brownsville, Pa. He is survived by his widow and 10 children.

An unknown colored man was found dead in a vacant lot near Fulton and Cliff streets about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was sitting propped up against a fence when discovered by some boys and had evidentally been dead only a short time. Nothing was found on his clothes but a ferry ticket from Corks Run to Loucust street, Allegheny. The man was about 50 years old.

William Malley, 55 years old, a peddler of patent medicines, died suddenly at McKeesport yesterday morning. It is reported a complication of diseases caused his death. He was a veteran of the civil war and during the winter lived at the Soldiers' Home at Dayton, O. He was a former resident of McKeesport.

Wallace Radcliffe, 54 years old, died yesterday at the workhouse. He was committed to that institution four days ago by Magistrate E. C. Negley for vagrancy.

FORAKER AND COX SAID TO HAVE SPLIT

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(Special)—Interest has been aroused over the report from Cincinnati that the alliance between George B. Cox and Senator Foraker has been dissolved. When Senator Foraker was asked about the matter today he said he had no knowledge of any trouble. The strained relations are said to have been caused by Foraker recommending for a judgeship in the District of Columbia a Cincinnati man not acceptable to Cox. If a deal has been made between Cox and Hanna it means that Foraker will be succeeded at the expiration of his term by another man, probably Representative Longworth of Cincinnati.

Architect Evans at Death's Door.

Thomas D. Evans, the well-known architect, is at the West Penn hospital in a critical condition, as a result of a stroke of paralysis. At the hospital the physicians stated last night that he cannot recover. Mr. Evans was stricken on Tuesday while going to his office in the Lewis block. His home is at No. 1500 North Highland avenue, East End. Mr. Evans prepared the plans for the new memorial to the veterans of the civil war.

OLDEST TAILOR IN PENNSYLVANIA

Mrs. William B. Bigley. William B. Bigley.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 19.—(Special)—William B. Bigley, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of this place, is probably the oldest man in this state, if not the entire country, who yet follows the active tailoring business. He recently celebrated the 80th anniversary of his birth and has for the past 63 years been a tailor. He was born in Butler county, May 16, 1823, and was located as a tailor in Butler until 44 years ago, when he came here and entered business. The first week of his arrival he became a member of the First Methodist church of this city and is one of the oldest members of that church. Mr. Bigley has always enjoyed excellent health and on his 80th birthday anniversary was pleased to find that he could yet jump up in the air and crack his heels together, which was a favorite feat of agility among the men of former days. He was married July 28, 1853, to Miss Martha A. Zuver of Butler, and their wedded life has been most happy. Their union was blessed by four children, two of whom are now living here, Edward and Benjamin, who are located in business here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bigley have always been very active in church circles and are widely known throughout the locality. They expect to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on the 28th of the coming month.

PRESIDENT IS NOW IN CHARGE

ment is not stated, but if such officials had cognizance of the transactions it would naturally be through the salaries and allowance division, where final authority for such promotions was given by its former superintendent, George W. Beavers.

The postoffice department is waiting daily for information about the case of former Representative Driggs of Brooklyn, who acted in the capacity of agent for a cash register concern. The impression is given out here that the inspectors regard the case against Mr. Driggs as serious and likely to result in action by the grand jury.

Don't Apply in Driggs' Case.

The department officials are of the opinion that the statute of limitations does not apply in Mr. Drigg's case, he having ceased to be a member of congress March 4, 1901, and the transactions with which he is alleged to have been improperly connected having been completed less than three years ago.

Postmaster General Payne has received a report from Assistant Attorney General Robb in reply to the former's request for a statement whether the decision of the postoffice department in the Ryan turf investment case signed by former Acting Assistant Attorney General Christy, is in accordance with the law and the facts. Mr. Payne is not yet ready to make the report public. Mr. Christy is still under suspension. Postoffice officials are in touch with him, and it is believed that final disposition of his case is delayed with a view to securing further information from Him concerning the administration of his office.

Postmaster General Payne has not announced his final action on the appeal of former Superintendent Metcalf of the money order system for a suspension of the order of dismissal, but the disposition of the appeal is foreshadowed by a suggestion by Mr. Payne that Metcalf was convicted on his own statement at a full hearing.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 19.—Abner McKinley, brother of the late President McKinley, was seen at his summer home in Somerset today. Regarding the published story that a postoffice inspector from Washington had been sent to see him at Somerset, he said:

"I have seen no inspector and know nothing whatever about an investigation."

McKinley's Student a Witness.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The federal grand jury in Brooklyn adjourned today until Monday. The day was spent, it is understood, in the investigation of matters pertaining to the Brandt cash register concern.

Bruce Correll of Canton, Ohio, an assistant doorkeeper of the house at Washington, was at the federal building and it was understood was subpoenaed as a witness against the company. It was reported that Correll introduced former Congressman Driggs of Brooklyn to George F. Miller as the representative of the Brandt company, and that he also introduced Miller to other members of congress. Correll was formerly in the law office of William McKinley at Canton. The following statement purporting to come from Correll was published today:

"Correll said that a representative of the Brandt-Dent Company approached him in Washington and asked to be introduced to some of the influential congressmen intimating that it might be made worth his while. He did so, but the perquisite never was forthcoming. After a fruitless demand on the Brandt-Dent Company for compensation, he instructed his attorney to bring suit at Watertown, Wis., for $700 for services. In this way the postal inspectors heard of the matter and he was brought here as a witness. He says the Brandt-Dent people now say they never saw him, much less had anything to do with him."

FORMER POSTMISTRESS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Government Charges Miss Dora Campbell With Embezzlement of Postal Funds.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, June 19.—Miss Dora Campbell, age 26, and up to early in May last postmistress at Maysville, Ga., when she resigned, was arrested here today at the request of the federal authorities upon a charge of embezzling postal funds.

When Miss Campbell came to Baltimore on May 23 last she engaged board at the Maternity hospital under the name of Dorothy Herndon. She had in her possession considerable money, jewelry and deeds of property. She became dissatisfied with the idea of remaining at the hospital until October and prepared today to go to Owenstown, Va., in company with a young girl who was also a patient at the hospital.

It was while she was attempting to board the train that she was arrested. Miss Campbell denies that she embezzled any of the postal funds and has expressed a willingness to return to Georgia. Tomorrow morning she will waive requisition proceedings and will be taken to Atlanta, the seat of the United States district court for the district in which Maysville is located. Miss Campbell claims to have been robbed of some money in February, but not postal money.

ATE SNAKES ALIVE.

Logansport (Ind.) Child Tries to Imitate Snake Charmer's Feat With Serious Result.

LOGANSPORT, IND., June 19.—(Special.)—Eager to rival a snake charmer she had seen at the Red Men's carnival last week, Alice Fairchild, aged 12, indulged in an experiment that the doctors fear will be attended with fatal consequences.

One of the carnival attractions was a man disguised as a woman who appeared to eat snakes alive and allowed them to bite him. Thursday Alice's brother captured a half-dozen small snakes. Last evening the child was found in convulsions, bitten in a dozen places. She confessed that she had tried to eat them alive, too.

FIREMEN WENT INTO RIVER TO FIGHT BURNING CELLAR

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 19.—(Special.)—Fire tonight damaged the wholesale liquor store of Fee Bros. to the extent of $150,000. It started in a subbasement extending under the river and firemen lowered ladders into the stream's bed and three firemen stood in water up to their necks fighting the fire. Several were injured by falling glass.

Murdered His Employer's Son.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Elias Williams, a negro, employed by Alonzo White near Swarthmore, tonight shot and killed Horace White, aged 23 years, son of his employer. The two young men had an altercation in the field and Williams borrowed a shotgun from Willis Lacey, a negro. Ten minutes later a shot was heard and young White was found dead. Williams escaped.

Death of an Old Resident.

Richard Nye Deemer, 91 years old, died yesterday at his home in Moon township, where funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock. He was long a resident of Allegheny county.

The Treasury Department Takes Steps to Enforce the New Pure Food Law.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The treasury department today issued a circular letter carrying into effect, beginning July 1, the pure food act approved March 3, 1903.

Under this act the secretary of the treasury has authority upon request from the secretary of agriculture, to direct drawing by officers of the customs of samples at any custom house from original packages of imported food products, drugs and liquors, and to refuse to deliver to the consignees any such commodities as the secretary of agriculture may report to him is found, upon analysis, to be dangerous to health, or which are forbidden to be sold, or which are restricted in sale, in the countries in which they are made, or from which they are exported, or which shall be falsely labeled in any respect in regard to the place of manufacture or the contents of the package.

The cost of the samples will be reimbursed to the importer, and the express charges will be paid to the forwarding companies by the department of agriculture on presentation of proper vouchers. Commodities which are declared adulterated will be exported under customs supervision, under bond, conditioned for due landing abroad and in default of exportation, destruction under customs supervision. Two days are given owners, importers or consignees of articles sampled within which they may present written testimony as to the harmless nature of articles imported. Provision is made for the legible labeling and branding in English of importations coming within the act, and also for appeals to the secretary of the treasury.

AN ODD ACCIDENT.

St. Louis Carpenter's Throat Torn So That Face Is Bloated by His Breathing.

ST. LOUIS, June 19.—(Special.)—James Campbell was working as a carpenter at world's fair grounds when a hammer fell from an upper story and struck him on the neck, fracturing the trachea at the point where it joins the vocal organs. The cartilage was torn from its place and an opening into the trachea beneath the skin of the throat was made.

From this opening, with every exhalation of breath, air escaped into the loose skin. The injured cartilage is in such a position that it acted as a valve and prevented the air from going back into the throat passage. Campbell's face was bloated to twice its natural size, the features being hardly discernible.

When the knife of the surgeon cut through the skin of the throat the air pent between the muscles and skin rapidly escaped. The rent in the trachea was sewed and the cartilage replaced. Beyond the possibility of changing the voice, Campbell's injury will have no after effect.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 19.—(Special Cable.)—There is absolutely no foundation for the report circulated throughout the world today that revolution was proclaimed in Turkey, and that the sultan had abdicated.

Donation Sent to Heppner.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—(Special.)—In response to a telegram from Mayor Frank Gilliam of Heppner, Ore., asking for relief for the cloudburst sufferers in that city, the citizens relief committee today telegraphed Mayor Gilliam to draw on Drexel & Co. for $1,000. The committee also decided to send $2,000 additional to aid the flood sufferers in the Kansas valley.

NEW FIREWORKS EFFECTS.

Set Piece With Men in Asbestos Clothes—Contract Let to Paint Company.

A novelty, typical of Pittsburgh, will be one of the features of the fireworks display at Schenley park on the night of the Fourth of July. It will be a set piece entitled, "The workshop of the world," showing, in brilliant pyrotechnics, a scene in a rolling mill, an appearance of naturalness being given to the picture by men, attired in asbestos clothes, representing the workmen in the mill handling red-hot steel. The contract for the fireworks has been given to the Pain Company, the display to consist of a number of new effects.

The contributions to the fund yesterday were as follows: Previously reported, $6,058.31; John McClurg Hays, $25; Schenley estate, $25; E. E. Leibert, $10; Mercantile Trust Company, $100; Polites Bros., $25; total, $6,261.36.

POTTSVILLE, PA., June 19.—Nicholas Murray, James Boyle, Daniel Gallagher, John Donohue and Richard McGee, school directors of Blythe township, this county, and James Hughes, were placed on trial before Judge Marr this afternoon charged with conspiracy and extortion and accepting bribes from school teachers. Hughes is charged with being a "go between." The prosecution called several witnesses who gave testimony which tended to sustain the charges.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 20.—Grover Cleveland, on being shown the interview printed in the Galveston News today, announced that in substance the interview in some respects is grossly inaccurate. He said further, that the News representative would not have gained an audience had it not been on a basis of a friendship held for the proprietor.

UP-TO-DATE MEDICAL PRACTICE.

How few sufferers from chronic diseases realize that the old means and methods for curing the same have passed entirely out of existence. Almost eighty per cent of such sufferers still adhere to the old physicians, and the old physicians prescribe the out-of-date remedies, which never did and never will relieve and cure chronic troubles.

THE METHODS OF TODAY

for the treatment and cure of chronic diseases have been improved, just as every other branch of industry has advanced. Chronic sufferers have either come to the conclusion that there is no cure for them, or else they are dragging along, using all sorts of nauseating remedies and worthless mixtures in hopes that they may gain from them a little relief. It is from this class of sufferers that claims attention. This physician has equipped his offices with the most thorough and up-to-date appliances, has filled his laboratory with the newest and best of all scientific remedies, and has kept himself constantly up to date by studying thoroughly and carefully all of the diseases which come under the head of his specialties. Moreover, he has decided that the fees for his service shall be within the reach of all.

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING

from any of the diseases which come under the head of this specialist's work, why do you not go to him at once and be examined? You will receive a thorough and exhaustive examination, will be given a candid and truthful opinion, and if your case is at all curable Doctor Tucker will give you better attention than you can possibly receive elsewhere or at any price. If you cannot be cured, or if your disease does not come under the head of his specialties, you will be advised and no charge will be made for either examination or advice.

READ THE LIST OF SPECIALTIES

attached to this article, and if any one of them applies to your condition do not delay, but seek at once the advice and attention of a specialist who for fourteen years has treated and cured chronic diseases, especially those of a catarrhal nature, and that this practice is established many times as long as that of any other specialists in the same line of work. Finally, remember that this practice is built upon cures, thousands of cures, every one of which has been the means of adding several names to the list of Doctor Tucker's patrons and consequently his circle of friends.

MAKING PLANS FOR TWO TRACKS

Arrangements Being Completed for Big Improvements on the Ohio Connecting Bridge.

TO BE FINISHED IN ONE YEAR

The Facilities of the Pennsylvania Company for Handling Freight in This Vicinity Will Be Greatly Improved. Yard Congestion Will Be Relieved.

Plans are being completed in the engineers offices in the Union station for the double tracking of the Ohio River Connecting bridge, and of the approaches on either side which form the Y's to the tracks of the Panhandle and Fort Wayne railroads.

It was rumored some time ago that the Pennsylvania company had improvements at this point in contemplation, but the rumor was denied at that time, the magnitude of the task seeming to make it impracticable. It can now be definitely stated that the plans are to be carried into effect and that the work will be completed within a year.

On account of the great length of the bridge, about a mile, the work of widening it will be enormous, and it is estimated that the cost, inclusive of the improvements in the way of freight yard additions and double trackage of the Ys, will reach nearly $2,000,000. The present span, which was built about 15 years ago, was floated down the stream by steam boats, and put in position in a single day, causing little interruption to the river traffic, and was regarded at the time as a marvelous feat of engineering skill. It will, not however, be necessary to duplicate this performance in widening the bridge.

The importance of the step to the Pennsylvania company is easily to geeognize, as it means a largely increased facility for transferring freight from the Southwest to the Fort Wayne road and thence to the West Penn division eastward, and vice versa without going through Pittsburgh. To make this possible large yards are under construction at Scully, near Carnegie, on the Panhandle where the trains can be divided, and freight sent on the Duff's branch to the bridge. On the north side of the river, the area of the Y to the Fort Wayne road at Woods Run has been double-tracked, and the eastern branch is now being built.

At present the facilities for handling freight in this manner are limited by the inadequate trackage and the non-completion of the yards, and of the eastern arm of the Y on the Fort Wayne side of the river. In consequence the Pittsburgh yards have been used, resulting in their overcrowding and in a considerable loss of time. It was seen that in order to accommodate the large amount of freight that would be hauled over the Ohio River Connecting bridge, should the business be diverted from the Pittsburgh yards, a second track would be imperatively needed, although for the transfer of trains in the other direction alone from the Fort Wayne to the Panhandle might be adequate.

MANY MINISTERS ARE AFFECTED BY ILLNESS

United Presbyterians Are Suffering the Worst, One Case Being Serious.

An epidemic of illness prevails among the local ministers, it is confined for the most part to United Presbyterians. Five prominent members of the Monongahela presbytery have been quite ill. Four are recovering, but the fifth remains in a serious condition.

The Rev. R. M. Russell of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, is recovering from an attack of cold accompanied by a slight fever. He recently returned from the meeting of the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church and was stricken with a severe cold. He will not occupy his pulpit tomorrow.

The physicians have decided an operation will not be necessary in the case of the Rev. George Hawes of the Braddock United Presbyterian church, who has been suffering for some time from a wound in his left leg. He is now able to get about his house, and it is expected he will be ready to fill his pulpit by July 1.

The Rev. Dr. T. C. McKelvey, pastor of the Thirteenth United Presbyterian church, has been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever and has so far recovered that he is going about. When able he will leave the city for a brief vacation.

The Rev. John Burnett of Wilkinsburg, who has not been in his pulpit since the meeting of the general assembly owing to illness, is rapidly recovering and will be able to attend to his duties in a short time.

The Rev. Dr. J. C. Boyd, the senior member of the Monongahela presbytery who has been ill at his home in Mount Lebanon for four months has not improved any, and, while his friends entertain hope of his recovery, he was reported yesterday as being no better.

The Rev. Dr. Henry T. McClelland, pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church, is up at Cheat river seeking health. He will return one week from tomorrow to his congregation to hold communion and then leave for the summer, with the hope of recovering his health, which has been much impaired the last few months.

HENRY C. PHIPPS WILL PAY OCULIST TO EXAMINE PUPILS' EYES

Happy memories of boyhood days spent in the First ward, Allegheny, impelled Henry C. Phipps to give to the school children of that ward a gymnasium and a playground to enrich the hours the youngsters spend away from study. For this reason he has further shown his love of children by giving to Principal M. A. Young $350 to be used in having the eyes of all the school children in the First ward examined. The money was sent to Mr. Young several days ago and the services of Dr. Floyd Murdoch, the specialist, have been secured.

The examinations are to be made at the beginning of the school year in September, and every child whose visual powers are found to be defective as to receive treatment, and, if necessary, will be furnished with glasses.

"It is Mr. Phipps' idea," said Mr. Young, "to give the children of our school every advantage possible, and to prevent backwardness or inability to study by having the eyes of all the children cared for."

PENNSYLVANIA GUARD WILL NOT PARTICIPATE

No Money Available to Send the Militia to United States Army Maneuvers.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The Pennsylvania national guard will not participate this year in the army maneuvers under the terms of the new militia law. The new law provides for mobilizing the militia of the different states at central camps, but does not appropriate any money for this purpose, and until congress makes provision for the funds, this arrangement cannot be carried out.

However, the war department will make an experiment this year by conducting maneuvers of guardsmen in the department of the lakes, which includes the states of Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee.

At the annual encampment of the national guard of these states regular army officers will be present and select the best regiment from each state to participate in the maneuvers, which will be held later. The place for holding them has not yet been determined, but it will probably be in Kentucky. The expense of the maneuvers will be paid out of the general fund of the department. By next year it is likely that congress will have appropriated money so that the entire guard of all the states can take part in army maneuvers. L. W. STRAYER.

AUTOMOBILES TO CLIMB HILLS THIS AFTERNOON

There Will Be 50 Competitors for the Five Events in Highland Park.

Regardless of the weather, the hill-climbing contest arranged by the Automobile club of Pittsburgh will be held on the serpentine drive in Highland park this afternoon. The course is in fair condition, and preparations have been made for a big turnout of spectators. Over 50 entries have been registered.

The course is 2,900 feet long from the bridge near the zoo buildings to Mt. Bigelow. The first 300 feet are practically level. Then a grade of over six per cent begins at the opening of a curve of 175 degrees, whose diameter is but 110 feet. The course is a series of grades and curves from bottom to top. The level of the finish marker is 150 feet above the starting point.

Only machines belonging to members of the club will be allowed to enter. The contest has been organized by a committee composed of Thomas R. Hartley, chairman; Dr. John A. Hawkins and George W. Rallman. Six cups will be contested for, one for each class and a final for the first and second of each class. The events will be for the following classes of cars:

SAYS PLEDGES WERE VIOLATED

Stevenson Censures Citizens Party Members for Action of Corporations Committee.

REPLY TO ROBERT PITCAIRN

Fourteenth Ward Leader Declares Duquesne Way Grant Is Biggest Thing City Ever Was Asked to Give Away for Nothing—Station Street Vacated.

"It is the biggest thing the city was ever asked to give away for nothing. The corporations committee was not crowding on the platform of the Citizens party Thursday night when it voted to give free to the Pennsylvania railroad the franchise for the Duquesne Way elevated line," was the statement yesterday by Councilman W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward.

Councilman Stevenson made an effort at the meeting of the corporations committee Thursday night to get an amendment through requiring the Pennsylvania company to relinquish its claim for $210,000 for improvements in the vicinity of the Union station or pay the city a cash equivalent as compensation for the Duquesne Way franchise. Both propositions failed to obtain any support in the committee.

"Robert Pitcairn of the Pennsylvania railroad declared the lifting of the tracks from Liberty avenue was ample compensation for the right to build the line down Duquesne Way, but I wish to deny this," said Mr. Stevenson. "In the first place it did not cost the Pennsylvania railroad company a cent to get the privilege to lay its line on Liberty avenue and when these tracks are taken up the city will only get what belongs to it.

Forced to Lift Tracks.

"The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is forced to take up these tracks and it will receive far more benefit than will the city. The road is compelled to get better transportation facilities into the downtown district, and the Liberty avenue line is so antiquated and hampered by restrictions as to the running of trains that the company has no alternative but to take up these tracks. It is forced to do this by necessity, as the business has arranged so that the Liberty avenue line is unable to handle it.

"The compensation for this grant was just this: The city is holding the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company to pay $10,000 for one square on the Monongahela wharf, while it is giving the Pennsylvania company the entire point district for nothing. It gets Third street, Second street, First street and Short street without paying a dollar. The money that have been filed with the ordinance name none of these streets except Third street. These streets will be closed.

"I wanted to amend the ordinance to make all the plans for the consideration of the city, where the city had any interest, subject to the approval of the director of the public works, but even that was objected to."

Stevenson Will Fight.

Stevenson will oppose the Duquesne Way ordinance when it comes up in common council next Monday night, but he believes that the Citizens party members are determined to pass the bill in its present shape.

Robert Pitcairn stated yesterday that work would be started on Duquesne Way as soon as the ordinance is passed by councils and signed by the mayor. He said the line would be built in eight months and that the tracks in Liberty avenue would be taken up just as soon as the line is completed. The ordinance provides that the tracks between Twelfth and Fifth streets in Liberty avenue are to be removed when the elevated line down Duquesne Way is finished, but allows the tracks between Fifth and Water streets to remain down for a year after the elevated line is finished. T. C. Jenkins and other firms in Liberty avenue have no arrangements with the railroad company for connections after the Liberty avenue line is removed.

Mr. Pitcairn stated that the Pennsylvania railroad did not intend to build a warehouse at the Point; that the elevated line was to run into freight stations, but that a syndicate would start to build a warehouse in Duquesne Way just as soon as the ordinance for the railroad line is passed by councils.

Approved Station Street Bill.

The vacation of Station street, Twenty-first ward, for a distance of 300 feet from the Pennsylvania tracks to Penn avenue was approved yesterday by the surveys committee and is to be passed by common council next Monday night. The committee also approved ordinances for the vacation of streets on the South Side, to permit the extension of the plant of Jones & Laughlin, as follows: South Twenty-sixth, from Carson to Sidney street; Sidney street from South Twenty-fifth to South Twenty-sixth; Wright's alley, from South Twenty-fifth to South Twenty-sixth; an unnamed alley from Wright alley to Morrow street.

BIG ENTERPRISE IN THE EAST END

Charles Donnelly Proposes to Erect $1,000,000 Manufacturing Plant in Twentieth Ward.

STREETS ARE TO BE VACATED

Councils Asked to Close Portions of Thoroughfares to Give Solid Block for New Establishment—Residents of the Neighborhood Are in the Dark.

Charles Donnelly is at the head of an enterprise to build a $1,000,000 manufacturing plant in the Twentieth ward, for which he has asked councils to vacate several streets covering the proposed site, which covers a square and a half of ground and abuts on the Pennsylvania railroad near Bell Vernon station.

A sub-committee of the surveys committee of councils yesterday afternoon considered ordinances for the vacation of Aspen street, between Cypress and the Pennsylvania railroad; Yew street, between Wheeldale street and Aspen street, and a portion of Woodworth street, at its intersection with Aspen street. The vacation of these streets will make a solid block 400 feet long and 250 feet wide, of the W. T. Wallace property, which is now divided by Yew and Aspen streets. Yew street runs lengthwise almost through the center of the Wallace property, and Aspen street cuts off a small strip, which, together with Aspen street, will add to the Wallace tract a piece of ground about 60 feet wide.

Mr. Donnelly has an option on the Wallace tract which he expects to purchase when the vacation of the streets is assured. There are no houses on Yew street between Aspen and Wheeldale, which it is proposed to vacate, but there are residences in Cypress, Wheeldale and Woodworth streets, which surround the property where it is proposed to erect the new plant. The residents in these streets are in the dark as to the character of the plant which Mr. Donnelly has in mind, but they fear it may injure their property.

Mr. Donnelly stated last night that the plant would not injure neighboring property, as the character and the business transacted, he was not prepared yet to say. The character of the establishment, he stated that it would cost $1,000,000 and would be a benefit to the neighborhood.

Thomas M. Bowers and C. A. Crawford were the members of the sub-committee that visited the city clerk's office yesterday afternoon in company with an agent of Mr. Donnelly's, to examine the plan of the streets proposed to be vacated. They took no action and gave no information what they would do with the ordinances. Another committee for the vacation of Yew street, all the way from Aspen street to Penn street, a square beyond Wheeldale street, was also discussed by the sub-committee, but Mr. Donnelly's agent claimed that Mr. Donnelly was not waiting for it and did not want Yew street vacated beyond Wheeldale.

PARKS' CLAIM DENIED.

Plaintiff Has No Interest in the Profits of the American Steel and Wire Company.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—An opinion affirming a judgment of the supreme court, dismissing the claim of John H. Parks against John W. Gates for a share in the profits of the American Steel and Wire Company, was handed down today.

The plaintiff set up the claim that he was a party to the original idea of forming the steel and wire combination, which was to have been financed in 1897 by J. P. Morgan & Co. The project was abandoned because of the refusal of the Morgan house to assume the duties of trustee and treasurer.

The American Steel and Wire Company was finally incorporated in New Jersey in January, 1899, financed by Schiff & Co. The opinion holds that the plaintiff was not necessarily interested in the second and successful attempt at a combination of the manufacturers, the original project having clearly failed through.

Attempt will be made to nominate Judge Jacobs at next Tuesday's Democratic county convention. Primaries for the election of delegates will be held tomorrow.

CAN'T DIG CANAL WITHOUT TREATY

Senator Morgan Scouts Idea of Ignoring the Colombian Congress.

WOULD CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

Such an Act Would Be a "Reckless Invasion of the Constitution," According to the Alabama Statesman.—Must Turn to Nicaragua.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 16, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.

"Vain and reckless invasion of the constitution," is what Senator Morgan of Alabama calls the proposition that the Roosevelt administration proceed to construct the Panama canal without a treaty ratified by the Colombian congress.

President Roosevelt is considering that course of action. Some of his advisers are urging him to do it, declaring that if the Colombian congress, which meets in Bogota tomorrow, fails to ratify the treaty a decree by President Marroquin is all that is necessary to enable the United States to build the canal. Other administration counselors declare a treaty is absolutely required. Thus the president is between two fires. At this juncture Senator Morgan, who has studied the canal question more thoroughly than any other man, declares in an interview given out at Warm Springs, Va., where he is spending the summer, that a treaty is indispensable, a decree of Marroquin will have no effect.

It is plain from Senator Morgan's remarks, that if the canal treaty fails ratification in Bogota the only course open to the president is to turn to Nicaragua. Senator Morgan scouts the suggestion that Colombia is under any obligation whatever to the United States.

"Do you credit," Senator Morgan was asked, "the report or suggestion that the president is prepared to accept the ratification of the treaty with Colombia, by the decree of Marroquin, if the congress of that country should fail or refuse to ratify it?"

"I can give no credit to any such statement or surmise," replied the senator. "Such an act would be a vain and reckless invasion of the Constitution and would place President Roosevelt in open antagonism to the senate and the people. It would be an attempt to change the terms and provisions of a treaty which the senate has ratified by the act of the executive."

"What is the ground for the opinion recently attributed to the president that Colombia is under some peculiar obligation to ratify this treaty, and that it will be insisted upon as being the just and equitable right of the United States?" was asked.

"I do not know of any reason for so absurd an attitude and I do not believe that the president has ever said or intimated such a thing. It is of a piece with the other absurdity, that we will seize upon Panama if the treaty is not ratified."

TWO RAILROADS CEASE BUILDING COMPETITION

B., R. & P. and Bessemer to Enter New Castle Over a Common Track.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 19.—An agreement is reported between the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh and the recently formed New Castle & Eastern, by which both the former shall cease competition as to which shall complete its line from Butler to this city, and the former two will enter this city over the lines of the New Castle & Eastern, which will be built from here to Rose Point. The latter railroad is controlled wholly by local capitalists.

This combination leaves the Wabash out entirely and that road will likely enter the city over its own branch to be built from here to Darlington to connect with the main line of the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western, one of the Wabash lines.

DEPENDS ON LIBERALITY.

Question of Right-of-Way Will Affect Wabash's Entrance to Canonsburg.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 19.—(Special.)—In response to an inquiry as to whether or not the Wabash railroad would be built through Canonsburg, J. W. Patterson, president of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western, has sent the following reply:

"The line through Canonsburg depends on how we will be treated in the matter of rights-of-way. On our main line we have been raided pretty heavily in the settlements of rights-of-way and we are considering alternate lines between Washington and Bridgeville. One will take in Canonsburg and the other leaves it off some to the right. We will probably build on the line that shows liberal disposition in the matter of rights-of-way."

Town Overrun With Mad Dogs.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 19.—(Special)—For the past two weeks Washington has been overrun with mad dogs, which have bitten dozens of other dogs before they were killed. One death resulted from hydrophobia last week and other persons have been bitten and general alarm exists. Twelve persons were taking the Pasteur treatment at Pittsburgh at one time and others are making preparations to take it. Council has passed an ordinance to have all dogs muzzled.

WARREN, O., June 19.—(Special)—A sensation developed in court here today following the sentence of "Skates" Brehm to seven years in the penitentiary by Judge Kohlmeier. The court directed an investigation of the charge against Pardee.

PATSICK J. DURKIN,
Postmaster of South New Castle, Pa.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 19.—(Special.)—Patrick J. Durkin, who has been postmaster of the South New Castle borough since its organization 10 months ago, although not yet 24 years of age, has held more offices already than usually falls to a man during the course of a long life. He was elected the first president of council of the new borough when but 22 years of age and was probably the youngest man in the country to hold such an office. He also took a leading part in the organization of the borough fire department and served as its first chairman, until pressure of other business forced him to relinquish it. Recently the firemen decided to change the name of the organization from the South New Castle borough department to the P. J. Durkin Fire department, in honor of its leading member. He also holds and has filled several smaller offices in the borough and laughingly tells his friends he is now a regular "poo bah" when they have desired to give him other duties. Postmaster Durkin formerly worked in the Shenango tin mill of this city and was one of the best known of the younger members of the Amalgamated association ranks. He is an ardent Republican and takes an active interest in advancing the welfare of the party.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. OHIO SHOWS INCREASE IN OUTPUT OF COAL.

Almost 24,000,000 Tons Were Mined During 1902—Athens County Leads.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., June 19.—The report of Elmer G. Biddison, state inspector of mines, filed with Gov. Nash, shows that Ohio produced more coal in 1902 than in any previous year, and that the state ranks third among the states in coal production. Almost 24,000,000 tons were mined in the state last year, 4,000,000 tons more than in 1901.

Athens county leads in the number of tons produced, with a record of 3,000,000; Guernsey county produced 2,268,158 tons and Perry, Jackson, Hocking and Belmont rank next in the order named. During the year 930 mines in 20 counties were operated. Thirty-seven per cent of the entire output came from the Hocking valley district, composed of Hocking, Athens and Perry counties.

The inspector explained the increase in Ohio production by the shortage of anthracite due to the great strike in Pennsylvania. The number of miners employed in Ohio in 1902 was 37,421, an increase of 4,000 over the number employed in 1901. One life was lost for every 482 persons employed. The number of tons of coal mined by machinery was 13,450,648, an increase over the preceding year of 2,500,000.

TRIMMED HATS TAKE THEIR FIRST TUMBLE FROM ORIGINAL PRICES.

Brisk trade sale at night and the workroom pushed to its limit to keep pace with orders has been the record of our millinery section all this season. Only one hat in a hundred has been "slow," and even now, with the days of dullness due, we have only about enough Trimmed Hats or the higher grades to fill two tables, which for one reason or another we think best to cut in price. Originally they were $10, $12 and $15 hats. You can have the one you like best for $7.50

Some are in fancy braids, some in silk, some in chiffon, some in maline and some made of lace. Black, white and colors. Tastefully trimmed with flowers, foliage, silk ribbons, aigrettes, etc. Very dashing and original hats most of them and somewhere in the collection just the one to please you.

For Outing Days—Ladies' midsummer headwear in the correct shapes and materials for the seaside, the lakes and the country—hats in fancy braids, piques and canvas, trimmed with wings, chiffon, quills and silk, with grace in every line, for $1.95, $2.50, $3.00 and upward to $5.00.

WASHABLE PETTICOATS FOR DUSTY DAYS.

Fast color black-and-white percales, plain black and linen-colored effects are the materials. The flounces are variously beautified and all the seams are carefully strapped. Our regular $1.25 line will be available to you Saturday at 98c.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, MASS., June 19.—Today's Pittsburgh-Boston game can best be expressed by the slang expletive term "cinch." There was only one team in it from the very start, and after the first 10 minutes of playing the 1,500 dyed-in-the-wool fans who saw it devoted themselves to admiring and cheering the brilliant work of the champions. The visitors played with a dash and confidence that wins pennants, while, as before, the Bostons acted like a lot of scared school boys.

Pittsburgh's superb batting landed the game high and dry and put the team back in first place in the pennant race. Pittinger was will, but when he did manage to get the ball near the plate it was smashed all over the field. The Boston outfielders were weary of leather hunting long before the nine innings were over. Fifteen safe hits were registered altogether.

On the other hand, barring a few free passes to first, Leever pitched a masterly game. In only one inning, the eighth, did the locals have a "look in," and even then had not the unusually brilliant Beaumont dropped Leach's accurate shot across the diamond, no runs would have resulted and another whitewash been recorded. Wagner and Ritchey took the batting honors, the former with three terrific hits with a total of seven bases, the latter with three singles.

Big Hans was also the fielding star. He stopped two hard hits that looked from the grand stand like certain base hits, on the Boston side no one distinguished himself worth special mention.

Pittsburgh settled down to the business of piling up the runs in the very first inning and kept it up with scarcely an intermission to the end. Beaumont, the first man at the bat, slashed the first ball served to left field for a cracking single. Clarke drove a sky scraper to center, but it elder got under it. Sebring was safe on Greminger's error. Wagner forced Sebring at second, but stole second base himself in dashing style. A moment later Beaumont and Wagner came racing home on Bransfield's beautiful hit to the deep right.

Boston retired one-two-three, with grace and ease. In the second four big tallies were hung up and the game was then and there "on ice," so to speak. After Leach had been forced at second by Ritchey, Phelps got a base on balls. Leever then hit safely, filling the home. Beaumont duplicated this feat immediately and Phelps trotted home. Clarke was safe on Tenney's error and Leever scored. Sebring forced Clarke at second, but the attempt to head off Beaumont at the plate failed by a hair. Wagner was third out, his great bid for a hit being captured by Cooley after a long run.

In the third came two more. Leach was passed and Ritchey hit safely. Both runners were advanced to third and second respectively by Bonner's wild throw and Phelps' single brought them over the rubber by dint of sprints. Two unlucky force outs at second and Sebring's inability to hit the ball safely retired the side.

And still there was "nothing doing" for Boston. Fifth inning—Ritchey singled, Phelps got a base on balls and Leever cracked the ball safely along the right foot line. Then Beaumont and Leever fell joint victims to a pretty double play executed by Tenney and Bonner, but during the excitement Ritchey slipped home with the 10th run of the game.

In the sixth Sebring was cut on a fly, Wagner singled and came all the way home on Leach's hit. The Boston nelders exhibited strong symptoms of "dope." Decent work would have held Hans to a second bag and kept him there until the next two men were being disposed of.

The visitors took a breathing spell in the seventh, but in the eighth Wagner distinguished himself by knocking one Pittinger benders far over the left field fence for a homer. The hit would have been a home run, even if it had been inside the grounds.

In this inning Boston got her two lonesome runs. With one out, Dexter was safe on Bransfield's error. Tenney singled and stole second. Dexter scored on Cooley's long hit to Beaumont. Abbatichio got out at first, bringing Tenney home. Then Stanley and Moran were passed to first and with the bases full Manager Selee sent Greminger in to bat in things, but Leever was only playing for fun. Two slow out curves and a lightning drop and Greminger stood at the plate, out, and Stanley and Moran touched the sphere. Pittsburgh took one more in the ninth on Ritchey's and Phelps' hits, a wild pitch, an error by Bonner and Clarke's safe arrival at first on a fielder's choice on which Ritchey scored. The score:

Reliance Won Again, but the Constitution Must Be Considered.

NEW YORK, June 19.—If the Constitution did not defeat the Reliance on time allowance in a 25-mile race over the course of the Indian Harbor Yacht club in Long Island sound today, she gave the admirers of the new boat a big run for their money. Four hours of sailing the Reliance out-sailed Constitution by only one minute and 50 seconds, elapsed time. It is estimated that the new boat will have to allow the Constitution two to three minutes in the 50-mile race, which, if true, would give this race to the older boat and might give her one of the earlier races as well, when Reliance would beat her by two minutes and a fraction.

Columbia was again outclassed from start. Her gain of about 12 minutes on the second leg of the race was time wasted by the other boats in a luffing match.

Between the leaders the race was hotly contested, first one and then the other getting the better of the light and baffling shifts of wind, which, when it began to blow steadily, left the Reliance about one minute ahead.

The Constitution's fast sailing today was all the more remarkable and Wagner and all the more formidable from the fact that the race was sailed in light winds and smooth water, under which conditions the Reliance has been supposed to excel.

The course was a triangle, 10 miles across the sound, five miles over to the Connecticut shore and 10 miles along that shore to the finish line.

TACKLED WRONG HOUSE.

Burglar Attempts to Rob Police Sergeant's Quarters and Is Captured.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—Sergeant Reith told today how he captured a burglar trying to enter his apartment on Wednesday, and as he was undressed and could not keep an eye on the burglar and put his clothes on at the same time, forced the intruder to act as his valet.

Reith was asleep at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in his apartment. Suddenly he heard a noise at the front door, as though someone were trying to force a way into the house. The sergeant sprang out of bed and put on his bathrobe. Then he took his revolver and opened the door. There stood the burglar with a jimmy in his hand and the woodwork at the side of the door was all splintered.

HOAR THE WRONG MAN.

Massachusetts Senator Mistaken for Bridegroom and Pelted With Rice.

CHICAGO, June 19.—(Special.)—Senator George F. Hoar has arrived at the auditorium. An amusing incident occurred today when he was mistaken for a bridegroom, on a Rock Island train. He was absorbed in his paper and when a stop was made changed his seat nearer the aisle occupied by a young woman, instantly he was showered with rice. Taking in the situation he told the passengers he was not the lucky man. But they reminded him he was sitting beside the bride.

After that he stood the rice until the bridegroom, O. A. Johansen of Chicago, came into the car to join his bride. Senator Hoar says something interesting happens every time he comes to Chicago.

Arrested for Fishing.

AKRON, O., June 19.—(Special.)—Several prominent society people have been arrested and fined for illegal fishing by Deputy Game Warden Dangelson of Starke county. John J. Wagoner, president of the Wagoner Coal Company; Thomas A. Palmer, secretary of the Diamond Match Company; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagoner, Frank Crooks and Marcus Heffelfinger were fined $25 each and costs.

Doctor Died of Wound.

MANSFIELD, O., June 19.—(Special.)—Coroner Bushnell reported today that Dr. D. R. Francis, who was found dead in his office June 11, and who was at first supposed to have died of apoplexy, died from the effects of a wound in the head received in an unknown manner.

AN EXCITING FINISH IN HANDICAP EVENT

Lady Uncas Won, but Blues Was Crowded Into Fence and Trouble Likely Over Award.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 19.—Coming to the wire, heads apart, Lady Uncas, Blues and Astarita finished in the order named in the Coney Island handicap at Sheepshead Bay today. Blues was thrown on the fence and had his side badly bruised and Hoar his right hand hit his leg hurt. Before Hoar could ascend the steps leading to the steward's stand to claim a foul, the red board announcing everything to be all right was run up. The paying off of bets on the race was stopped when the foul was claimed, but after a few seconds' deliberation by the judges the books were allowed to settle with bettors. It was said that Frank Farrel, the owner of Blues, would protest the stake. The Daisy stakes for 2-year-olds was won by Frank Farrel's Nameless at 15 to 1. Summaries:

First race, last 5 furlongs of Futurity course—Baschi, 122, McCue, even and 1 to 3, won; Monet, 122, Bullman, 2 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Yellow Hammer, 115, O'Neil, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:01 4-5.

HARLEM'S LAST DAY.

Jockeys Reiff and Sinclair Injured in a Mixup.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Dr. Stephens, at odds of 12 to 1, made a runaway race of the mile and an eighth handicap, the feature event of the closing day of the meeting at Harlem. Six Shooter, the favorite, barely got second place by a head from Major Tenny, while Hargis, second choice in the betting, finished last.

Jockeys Johnny Reiff and Sinclair were painfully injured in the first race. Reiff suffered a dislocation of the left clavicle and the physician who attended him said the boy would be out of the saddle for several weeks. Sinclair was more fortunate, however, no bones broken. He was unconscious, however, for nearly half an hour after the accident. Reiff had the mount on Gaiba and Sinclair rode Discord. Gaiba found the turn from the west much crowding. Gaiba went down and Reiff was struck by several horses. Twenty yards further Discord dropped and Sinclair fell beneath the horses' hoofs. The race was won by Orsina, a heavily played "good thing." Summary:

First race, 1 mile—Orsina, 109, Treanor, 5 to 2, won; Sarah Atkin, 85, Hauck, 4 to 1, second; Alfio, 105, Sheehan, 50 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 3-5.

Second race, 6 furlongs—Toah, 110, Winkfield, 7 to 5, won; Bonnie Trust, 101, Helgesen, 8 to 5, second; Burnie Bunton, 104, Powell, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:13.

Third race, 1⅛ miles—Dr. Stephens, 99, Knapp, 12 to 1, won; Six Shooter, 118, Knight, 7 to 5, second; Major Tenny, 92, H. Phillips, 16 to 1, third. Time, 1:52 4-5.

VIRGIN ALLEY DAMAGES.

Total Amount Claimed by Property Holders for Widening Is $987,481 46.

There was a short session of the board of viewers appointed by the court to assess the benefits and award damages to property owners affected by the widening of Virgin alley. The report of Henry W. Oliver, the principal property owner on the thoroughfare, stated that his damages will be $683,305 41. The total damages to property owners on the north side of the thoroughfare will aggregate $987,481 46. The statements showed the area of the property affected by the improvement, the price paid for each lot and the estimated cost for repairing buildings and putting in new fronts. The correctness of the estimates was testified to by John G. Trimble, a contractor.

Smith H. Shannon, attorney for the First Presbyterian church, objected to Mr. Oliver's claim for damages on the ground that the church owns nearly all the property on the north side of the alley and will, therefore, be much benefited by the widening, his estimate of damages is below what they should be.

Mr. Oliver, under oath, presented a report of what the properties in question cost him and said that today they are worth from 25 to 30 per cent more than he paid for them.

At the meeting on Tuesday, June 30, at 10 a. m., the other property holders affected will be heard.

SAVABLE FAVORITE FOR AMERICAN DERBY

Twenty-three Horses Will Face Starter and Monster Crowd Will See a Great Race.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 19.—The American Derby, the greatest turf event of the west, will be run tomorrow afternoon at the Washington park track. If the weather shall be favorable, the crowd that will see the race may break all previous records in this country. Officials of the Washington Park club say they expect to accommodate 60,000 people and assert that the estimate, based on the demand for tickets, is conservative. Twenty-three horses are named in the entries for the big race. The event is worth $20,000 in added money, and if all the horses named go to the post, the gross value of the derby will be $33,175.

There never was an American derby field which presented a more open proposition than the one tomorrow. Savable, the favorite for the race, is expected to lose by many more experts than have picked him to win. Instead of becoming a warming choice as the race approached he has gone the other way, half a point, and is now 2½ to 1. A week ago the race looked like a duel between Savable and Irish Lad. A few days later, when the withdrawal of Irish Lad was announced, the event appeared to be at the mercy of Savable.

Then Linguist and Judge Hines came out and raced Savable to a head in a mile and an eighth race, and the stock of the favorite immediately began to decline. He is still regarded as the most likely winner on a fast track, but there is no certainty that the colors will be in his best. Light rains will not hurt it, but the fall of rain this afternoon has dampened it. More showers will make it slow. The track, however, is well drained and will dry out readily under a warm sun.

Betting on the derby has been heavier than on any race in the history of the turf. The big betting has all been done in advance of the race in the future books, which have been in operation since last March.

Many New Yorkers who placed their money on Irish Lad in the belief that the Brooklyn handicap winner was coming to the race fledged today by wagering Saturday's bar invisable odds against the Linguist colt. Bets of $1,000 and $500 were placed with the bookmakers by Lasalle street bettors. Following are the derby entries, with weights, odds and probable riders:

PLAYED IN THE RAIN.

Detroit Batters Landed on Tannehill's Curves.

DETROIT, June 19.—Detroit won one of the most wonderful games of the year from New York today. It rained when play was called, there was an intermission in the third and in the seventh innings, when the people nearly all went away. Griffith insisted on playing and Detroit won in the seventh on a lucky clearance, scoring six runs. The grounds were very slippery, but the locals fielded well and Mullin pitched finely. Score:

HOLY GHOST MEN GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Commencement of Pittsburgh College an Occasion of Much Interest.

CANEVIN MAKES AN ADDRESS

Distribution of Sheepskins and Medals Marks the Ending of College Days for a Large Number of Students—Report of President Hehir Shows Progress.

Rounding out a quarter-century of successful work, the twenty-fifth annual commencement of Pittsburgh College of the Holy Ghost was held last evening in the Bijou theater. The relatives and friends of the students filled the large theater to its capacity; the boxes were occupied by many prominent members of the local clergy, and on the stage sat the Right Rev. J. F. R. Canevin, D. D., the Very Rev. President Father Hehir, the Rev. H. J. McDermott, the graduates in their caps and gowns, the orchestra under the direction of the Rev. John Griffin and Prof C. B. Weist, and the college glee club, numbering over 70 students.

Diplomas were awarded to six graduates of the commercial department: Matthew Francis Fitzgerald, Richard John Fitzgerald, Charles Aloysius Gast, William Matthew McFadden, John Aloysius Neylon and Edward Aloysius Sackville. To Louis Stephen Zahronsky was awarded a diploma in the shorthand course.

Now Add the Letters "B. A."

The degree of bachelor of arts was conferred upon the following five graduates of the classical and scientific department: Thomas Francis Coakley, Peter Aloysius Costelloe, Walter James Fandraj, William James Hickson and Charles Eugene McHugh.

The undergraduate medals were awarded as follows: Silver medals for elocution, division 1, Cornelius A. Harrington; division 2, Joseph J. Creighton; division 3, Henry H. Malone. Gold medal for oratory, collegiate department, Erminio M. Morales; gold medal for Christian doctrines in the academic classes, John A. Carlos.

The graduate medals were won as follows: Gold medal for excellence in commercial course, Matthew Francis Fitzgerald; gold medal for bookkeeping and arithmetic, John Aloysius Neylon; gold medal for mathematics and science, Walter James Fandraj; gold medal for philosophy and classics, Peter Aloysius Costelloe; Bishop Phelan medal for general excellence, Thomas Francis Coakley.

Program Full of Interest.

The program opened with an overture by the college orchestra, followed by the Latin salutatory, delivered by Walter J. Fandraj. "When I'm Big, I'll be a Soldier," sung by Roger J. Houze; William McFadden delivered an oration on "True Success;" George J. Bullion and Joseph Romanowski rendered a violin duet, Lashisky's "Wizard's Dream;" Charles E. McHugh spoke on "Religious Persecution in France;" Erminio M. Morales sang "The Two Grenadiers," "Technical Education" was discussed by William J. Hickson; the college glee club and orchestra united in the chorus, "Under the American Flag;" Peter Costelloe spoke on "A New Era in Ireland's History;" another chorus by the glee club and orchestra, entitled "Sweet Home of the Angels," followed.

The conferring of degrees and medals was then carried out, followed by the address of Coadjutor Bishop Canevin, the valedictory and the finale from the orchestra.

Address of President Hehir.

Before the conferring of the diplomas and the degrees, the Very Rev. President, Father Hehir stated that the year just closed had been exceptionally successful; that 350 students had been enrolled, and upwards of 300 were in regular attendance. He added:

To perfect our system of education, to keep the college abreast of the times, to give our Catholic youth a complete, a liberal, a Christian, a Catholic, education is the ambition of the college faculty. This we have been doing during the past 25 years in the face of apparently insurmountable difficulties, and this we are resolved to do in the future, with the aid of Divine Providence, Whose assistance we hope to deserve.

Free scholarships have again been offered for the coming year to a student of each of the parochial schools of the two cities. Our efforts to promote the education of deserving students have been seconded by the Rt. Rev. J. F. Canevin, coadjutor bishop of Pittsburgh, and the Rev. Francis Keane, rector of the Sacred Heart church, each of whom has founded a perpetual burse in aid of a day student.

"What a Christian education to the youth" is the cry we hear from every quarter now-a-days—a cry that should be on the lips of every good American citizen. For, to enable our country to attain the glory apparently intended for it by Providence, we need a numerous and zealous clergy, scientious professional and business men, and an educated and intelligent laity. Such an education we give at Pittsburgh college.

Bishop Canevin's Advice.

Toward the conclusion the Rt. Rev. J. R. F. Canevin, D. D., coadjutor bishop, who presided, addressed the graduates as follows:

Dear Students—The preceptors with whom you have spent your school days have endeavored to open your intellects to the light of truth and train your wills to obedience to the laws of duty. The traditions of Christian learning and sanctity have authorized you in the college. The minds of many ages and nations have contributed to the development of your intellects and the storing of your memories with the treasures of knowledge. Your hearts have been formed to justice, duty and generosity. Your souls have been assisted through conflicts of nature with grace, of body with spirit, of concupiscence with self, of humanity with pride, in order that you may go forth scholars and Christian men. The imparting of knowledge is a small part of education. After the light of instruction has expanded the mind and made it free in the truth, you find yourself still enslaved by ignoble ambitions and passionate striving after forbidden pleasures.

Mind Arrayed Against Body.

There is a law in your members fighting against the law of your mind. And in the combat of life, the true man enters upon a long struggle which calls for self-denial, patience and the calm supremacy of Christian virtue over what is base and animal. Knowledge without strength of will is not education. Pride, vain show, boasting, obstinacy do not indicate strength of character. Moral greatness manifests itself in humility, love, obedience, respect, reverence, because a strong and just man respects God, loves his neighbor and fears nothing.

Education must have religion for its basis. Religion is no accident picked up where and how it may be convenient; and to fill the mind with human science, while the spiritual sense is ignored, is to deform man by attempting to fashion the follower of Christ on a pagan model. Our Christian civilization, as well as the philosophy of our being, demands that religion be the law of education. I dwell on the relation between your education and conscience that you may understand that your conduct henceforth should accord with the principles instilled into your minds by your teachers. Before you start on your course in the world be assured of one thing—Virtue is better than money.

The success that comes by the sacrifice of conscience and honor is disgrace. Open your minds and hearts to the opportunities of the future. By hand and brain, work out for yourselves an honorable career. Whatever duty places before you, at it with your might. You may not make a great noise in the world; you may not amass wealth; you may not be elected to any office, but by fidelity, purity of life, industry and kindness, you will be true men.

Generous applause greeted the remarks of the coadjutor bishop. The valedictory address was then made by Thomas F. Coakley and the "Stroller's March" rendered by the college orchestra ended the commencement.

Highland Golfer Does Well Until Last Few Holes When He Misses Puts and Loses.

FIRST AND SECOND ROUNDS

The first and second rounds of match play for the Allegheny Country Golf club and the consolation cups, were played yesterday on the Allegheny Country club course, Sewickley. The day's play saw some good golf and caused much interest among those who followed the principal player over the links. One pair, Dr. Fredericks of the Oil City Golf club and W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the Highland Golf club was followed by a large crowd, the interest of the afternoon's playing seeming to center around these players.

After playing fine golf until near the end of the match Fownes succumbed to the steady playing of his strong rival. Fredericks took the first hole, going out, and Fownes the second, and from this until the fifteenth was reached the Highland man kept in the lead. On this hole Fownes missed a five-foot put which made them even. The next two were halved and the last was taken by Fredericks, Fownes looked like a winner up to the finish, but he missed some close puts. Summaries:

BILL BOARD WAR CAUSES TROUBLE

Atlantic City Mayor Determined to Get Rid of Disfiguring Signs.

HE ENCOUNTERS OPPOSITION

Bill Posters Threaten to Take Their Annual Convention Elsewhere and This Brings Hotel Men into the Fight Against the City Administration.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 19.

The war of the city officials against the bill posting sign companies that have seized upon every available inch of ground along the boardwalk and approaches has reached an acute stage. The mayor issued an order that the signs must come down, and City Marshal Fort started to demolish all the bill boards he could find. Those on the boardwalk and the beach quickly disappeared, and he turned his attention to roof signs. Several which were found to be in a shaky condition were demolished before the representatives of the bill posting companies could interfere. When they did turn up they threatened suit. Now it appears that the National Association of Bill Posters is billed to hold a convention here next month. The local committee had made arrangements for 800, including the delegates and their families. They threaten to go elsewhere with their convention if the war on the bill boards does not cease. This brought a number of hotel men about face to the side of the bill poster. Contracts had been made with a score of hotels for the entertainment of the visitors, and though they are opposed to the disfiguring of the signs, they would rather have them than lose business. The mayor still says the bill boards must go. The bill posters say that if they do they will not come here and spend $25,000, as they planned, and the hotel keepers say that if they lose that amount of business because of the tearing down of the boards, they will carry the matter to the polls.

Wealthy and Didn't Know It.

There is a man in Atlantic City who for five years has been worth $60,000 and he did not know it. He is John Ginong, who has worked in and about Atlantic City nearly all of his lifetime of 65 years. In fact, he has been as far away as Philadelphia only twice in 20 years.

There is a large tract of meadow land just back of the central part of the city that needed filling in, and the board of health ordered Ginong to do it. He appeared at the office of the board and said that he didn't own any land, that he was a hard-working man and couldn't afford to take the time to fill in the land, that inasmuch as he had served two weeks on a jury this year he ought to be excused from a task of this kind. The health officers smiled at his innocence and concluded that they had made a mistake in sending the old man the notice. They caused a search to be made of the records, and it was discovered that the land had been bequeathed to Ginong five years ago by an aunt. Ginong was called in and questioned about her. He knew that she had died five years ago, but didn't know that she had owned property. When assure that he was the owner of the tract and that it was worth $60,000, the old man was dumbfounded. Two local attorneys have volunteered to handle the tract for him, and the balance of his life will be spent at ease.

SABBATH DESECRATORS OPPOSED IN BRADDOCK

Organization of Young People's Societies Will Try to Close Kennywood Park Sunday Amusements. Hill Top Board of Trade Acts.

War has been begun on Sabbath desecrators in Allegheny county. The Monongahela Valley Sabbath Observance league, organized among the young people's societies of the 12 Braddock Protestant churches, has started on a crusade against the amusements in Kennywood park, and last night appointed a committee to confer with the officers of the Pittsburgh Railways Company and the authorities of Mifflin township relative to closing the gooseplechase, the merry-go-round, the old mill and other diversions in the park. The league proposes to enlarge its scope and give the residents of the entire valley a quiet, peaceful Sunday.

A mass meeting will be held in Carnegie hall, Braddock, on Monday night for the churchgoers of the neighborhood to register their protests against Sabbath breaking. Speakers of note will be present and the special committee appointed last night will make a formal report as to the situation. Last night's meeting was held in the lecture room of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Braddock, and was largely attended. The committee is composed as follows: John Minard, chairman; John Lowry and the Rev. W. F. Slade, pastor of the First Congregational church, Braddock. The officers of the league are: Charles Leeper, president; H. S. Leighton, vice president, and Miss Mary Purdy, secretary.

The Hill Top board of trade at a meeting last night passed resolutions deprecating the disturbances at High Bridge and called the attention of the county authorities to the disorderly element that visits the resort from the city. The resolutions in part are as follows:

Resolved, That the members of the Rotzenhover Athletic club are known to be young gentlemen of good character; the sons of good, respectable parentage; of law-abiding, peaceful disposition, and with institutions to protect, they can defend the laws rather than disregard or abuse them, and as such we deprecate any action on the part of the county authorities whereby these young men are subjected to arrest and dishonor from the mere fact that they were in the habit of exercising on the ball grounds in the vicinity of the scene of violence and riot.

WILL FURTHER WORK OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Eminent Persons Are Connected With New Association Incorporated at Chicago.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 19.—The Religious Association was incorporated today. William R. Harper, president of the University of Chicago, and Charles L. Hutchinson, vice president of the Corn Exchange National bank, were among the incorporators. Dean Frank Knight Sanders of Yale divinity school is president, and the vice presidents, 26 in number, represent the leading religious educational institutions in the United States regardless of creed. W. R. Harper is chairman of the executive board; James H. Eckels, treasurer; Wallace N. Stearns, financial secretary; C. W. Votaw, editorial secretary, and George A. Coe, recording secretary.

The objects of the association, as stated in their official hand book, will be to render the following services to the cause of religious education:

1.—To unify the forces of the different agencies already engaged in various lines of work and to correlate the work of these agencies to the end that they may accomplish wider results.

2.—To stimulate through the publication of information concerning the work at large and by conference the efforts of present agencies.

3.—To create new agencies where at present no agencies exist, and for special lines of work in which as yet no united effort has been exerted. This last point would include, it is said, such branches as church art and architecture and church music.

SURVEYORS AT WORK.

Trolley Lines Chartered for Sewickley Valley Are Now Being Laid Out.

Surveyors have been put to work laying out the new electric railway lines recently chartered in the Sewickley valley. They are reported to be working at different points between Emsworth and Ingen.

The route of the proposed line would run through Ambridge, and across the country through Kilbuck township, North Avalon, and by the Blackburn church and Nioba. This back country route is necessary from the opposition of Sewickley residents to having a line through that town. At the lower end the line would connect with the lines from Freedom, Rochester and New Brighton, giving an excellent service for a long way down the river. A number of property owners have been approached for options, but the identity of the promoters has not been revealed.

Picnic of United Presbyterians.

The reunion of members of the United Presbyterian church and their friends from western Pennsylvania, New York and eastern Ohio, to be held Thursday August 13, at Conneaut Lake, will be attended by nearly 25,000 persons. These gatherings have been held yearly for five or six years, and each year the size of the crowd increases.

Will Open Offices in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., June 19.—(Special)—The J. C. Lappe Tanning Company, a Pennsylvania corporation with principal office in Allegheny, qualified in Ohio today and will open headquarters in Columbus, where W. A. Engel will be the company's representative. Of the $50,000 capital stock, approximately $150,000 will be used here.

SHERIDAN SABERS' BAND REORGANIZED

The Sheridan Sabers' military band has been reorganized. Twenty-two members are enrolled and the following officers elected: President, H. A. Taylor, vice president, H. Hanna; secretary and business manager, Charles M. Swift; treasurer, H. E. Peterson; librarian, Charles Lovett; leader, Harry Taylor; drum major, George McLaughlin. To raise additional funds for equipment a committee was appointed to consider the advisability of giving a lawn fete. The band will give concerts once a month during the summer in different parts of the borough.

Naval Examinations Finished.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., June 19.—The examination of candidates for admission to the Naval academy were concluded today. Four hundred and eighty young men appeared for the examinations. Twenty-five of these dropped out after the first day's trial.

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Young Women:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—Nettie Blackmore, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Painful Periods

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality,—if it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. No man will see your letter. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffering and would soon be cured.

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—Miss Jennie L. Edwards, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

A CONTRAST

Of the face of a healthful woman with the face of one who is sick proves that quite often a sad face is a sick face. Many a woman has credit for a sunny disposition who would soon be sad of face and irritable of temper if she had to endure the womanly ills which many of her sex have borne for years.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the diseases which are the source of so much pain and suffering to women. It establishes regularity, dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Mrs. Cornelia Henson, of Coulton, Boyd Co., Ky., writes: "In October 1899 I gave birth to a baby and the treatment I received at the hands of the midwife left me with falling of the uterus. I had no health to speak of for three years. I had another baby which was the third child. My health began to fail and I found myself completely worn out. I had so many pains and aches in my life was a burden to me and also to all the family, for I was nervous and cross and I could not sleep. Had four doctors come to see me but at last found I was slowly dying. The doctors said I had liver, lung and uterine trouble. I was in bed for months and when I did get up I was a sight to behold. I looked like a corpse walking about. I commenced to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,' and ever since then I have been a well woman. I have suffered all a woman could suffer at my monthly period until since I began the use of Dr. Pierce's medicines, but now I can say I have no pain. The dark circles around my eyes are going away and I feel better in every way. My cheeks are red and my skin is white, but before it was as yellow as saffron."

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription" there is nothing just as good for weak and sick women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take. A most effective laxative.

LAWYERS ARGUE SOLDIERS' ACT

Motion to Quash the Indictment Against Mayor Hays Has New Features.

MOORE'S STRANGE POSITION

Attorney Marron Contended Hays Could Not Discharge Him, and Attorney Rodgers Asked, Under Those Circumstances, How Offense Was Committed.

The question as to whether Samuel Moore has been removed from his position under the city government, for which alleged offense Mayor W. B. Hays has been indicted, still remains an open one according to the arguments of both City Solicitor W. B. Rodgers and Attorney John Marron on the motion to quash the indictment on the ground that it is imperfectly drawn and the law under which the mayor is being prosecuted is unconstitutional.

If Judge Macfarlane throws the indictment out of court and accepts the conclusions of City Solicitor Rodgers and Marron, Moore is still in office, but his position is being filled and his salary drawn by another man. After Marron argued that the charter act of 1901 gave the mayor authority only to remove seven persons, including the heads of departments, and denied the mayor's authority to remove any others, Mr. Rodgers said that if the mayor had no authority to remove Moore and therefore had not legally removed him, he could have committed no indictable offense.

City Solicitor Rodgers contended that the act of May 20, 1807, was unconstitutional. That it violated article sixth, section four, "Appointed officers, other than judges of the courts of record and the superintendent of public instruction, may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed." The indictment did not charge from what office, trust or position Moore had been removed, or whether or not the office was appointive or elective, and for that reason, if no other, the indictment was bad. He said the indictment by inference stated that Moore's office was one to be filled by the recorder, for there is no allegation that he was or should have been appointed by any one else.

Violation of the Constitution.

He claimed also that the act violated article third, section seventh of the constitution providing that no local or special law shall be passed by the general assembly, granting special privileges or immunity to any individual; also that it violated the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States, "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, etc." He contended that the act of 1901, governing cities of the second-class provides for the removal of all officers and employes by the recorder appointed by the governor prior to the first Monday in April, 1903, which brings such persons temporarily out of the general terms of the act under which Mayor Hays was indicted.

Marron held that the indictment was sufficient because it was in the literal language of the statute. It was contended that there is no merit in the reason to quash the indictment under the constitutional provision that the right to appoint implies the right of removal, because the ripper bill did not give the mayor any power of appointment to the place held by Moore.

The ripper bill, Mr. Marron argued, was a piece of radical legislation intended for the destruction and reconstruction of municipal government of Pittsburgh, and Mayor Hays must, therefore, look to it for the two important powers of appointment and removal. His power of removal under this act, it was shown, was limited.

Marron alleged there was no necessity to specifically mention the position from which Mr. Moore was removed to comply with the act of assembly. As for section seventh, article third of the constitution, the act did not violate it, he claimed, because it did not provide for any special privileges, nor for Mr. Moore's or any other soldier's selection or election, a privilege denied to others, but for his retention and against his dismissal. For the same reason it violated neither the 14th amendment to the Constitution of the United States nor any other constitutional section. It was practically a civil service act, that is, it only retained the veterans after they were appointed or selected in competition with any other citizen, as long as they merited such retention. Unless a good reason is given for their dismissal, an indictable offense under a just law has been committed, and evidence alone, not constitutional questions, can determine the righteousness of the removal.

City Solicitor Rodgers in closing said the title to the act was defective, as it provided for the retention of soldiers, sailors and marines, and did not include all those who served the Union in other capacities; that the indictment did not even state who Moore was. He said if Moore was not the head of a department, and couldn't be removed by Mayor Hays, no offense was committed by him.

The court took the papers and reversed his decision.

SELF-DEFENSE FREES M'CUNE

Jury Finds Him Innocent of the Murder of a Negro at Clairton.

JAIL BREAKERS SENTENCED

Andrew Gonka Files Bill in Equity Against His Wife, Charging Her With Attempting to Defraud Him Out of Property.

The jury in the case of Albert McCune, charged with the death of Charles Mack, colored, acquitted the prisoner after a deliberation lasting an hour and a half.

McCune, when he stood up, turned pale, and after the verdict was rendered passed out of the prisoner's dock, was congratulated by his friends and discharged. Several of the jurymen stopped a moment to shake hands with the defendant's counsel as they passed out.

The day was consumed by the trial. McCune took the stand in his own behalf and testified that the shooting, he believed, was in self-defense. The arguments of the counsel were lengthy, and District Attorney Haymaker, in his remarks to the jury, was severe on the defendant and ascribed the crime to an inflamed anger on the part of McCune, owing to being offended by a colored man. Attorneys John D. Watson, William Brennan and Rudy F. Marshall defended McCune.

George Gibson and Martin Conroy pleaded guilty to escaping from the East Pittsburgh lockup and were sentenced to 10 days each to the workhouse.

Attorney W. A. Blakeley, representing Andrew Gouka, filed a bill in equity against Emlya Gouka. The latter is the wife of the plaintiff. She is accused of having entered into a scheme to defraud her husband out of property in Braddock.

Gouka claims he purchased the real estate with his own funds in 1890, that he is unable to read and write the English language, and that he accepted the deed believing he was the sole grantee, but the fact was that his wife was also included. He declares his wife by fraud procured her name to be added.

Gouka says further that on April 27, 1896, two men called upon him and induced him to sign a paper, representing it was an insurance policy on his life for the benefit of his wife. He declares he discovered later it was a transfer of the property from him and his wife to John Adamsky. The latter, it is said, then assigned the property to Mrs. Gouka, and the plaintiff now wants the papers declared void.

Twenty-Three New Attorneys.

Twenty-three candidates for final admission to the bar passed examination yesterday. They are as follows: G. C. Bradshaw, Clarence Burleigh, Jr., A. M. Carline, Jr., C. M. Cooke, Robert J. Dodds, S. A. Gilmore, Harry A. Gibausky, Allen T. C. Gordon, J. E. Hindman, Richard H. Hawkins, Dale C. Jennings, Frank W. Jarvis, Robert H. Leitch, Walter S. Lobinger, H. R. Miller, S. J. McKim, Fleming Nevin, Louis J. Portsman, D. A. Reed, W. M. Robinson, William H. Thompson, Thomas Watson and George R. Reynolds. The following passed the preliminary examination: Walter R. Artzberger, Earle P. Carman, Charles Gulenig, Addison Lyon, Samuel S. Shapira, C. A. Waidschmidt.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Judge J. W. Over handed down an opinion in the matter of a claim against the estate of Nettie Walters by the Allegheny Theological seminary for $5,000 on a mortgage. The children of the deceased objected to the claim, alleging the decedent was not personally liable for the payment of the mortgage. The court allows the claim.

John Erwin sued A. Speer for $5,000 damages for alleged unskilled treatment of the plaintiff for a skin disease.

Bartholomew Sheridan sued Lydia Wilson for $2,000 damages for alleged slander in saying that the plaintiff spent half of his life in the workhouse.

Attorney W. H. Principal M. A. Wood and the teachers of the First ward (Allegheny) school, yesterday entertained a large number of visitors in the manual training department of the school. The children had decorated the hall of the building prettily with flags and bunting, and these, combined with the arrangement of exhibits in the various rooms, made a pretty appearance.

All the rooms on the first floor were devoted to a display of the workmanship of the boys. On the second floor the product of the girl pupils was shown. The exhibits comprised basketry, weaving, Venetian ironwork, scroll-saw work, pyrography, cabinet-making, machine and hand sewing, cooking and mechanical drawing.

NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS OF POOR CAR SERVICE

Strap-Hangers' League Hears What Persons Hereabout Have to Endure.

Since the full object of the Strap Hangers' league has become known many people have placed confidence in its undertaking. Grievances which heretofore have been endured are now made known to the league, and the officials will take up the issues with the street car companies. Several complaints of the same nature have been sent to headquarters, and they will be summarized and sent to the officials of the company with a request to correct the abuses.

Since solicitors have been sent to the suburbs many complaints have been coming in from the members. One was received from Homestead. It states that the night service on the second avenue line is deplorable. Cars are run only every hour, and everyone of them is filled beyond its carrying capacity.

Several complaints have been coming in from Wilmerding. The workmen declare they are unable to secure cars after working time. Many of the workmen who live three miles from their places of work have to walk home on account of the crowded condition of the cars. Often the men lose time from work because the cars fail to get them there in time. The employes, who are late, are "docked" one or more hours. The conditions of the traction service are such that many of the workmen walk.

Many residents of Wilkinsburg, who are employed in the city proper, have decided to ride in and out on the railroad.

TROOPS AT SOMERSET.

Regiment of Infantry to Be at the Annual Militia Encampment.

It has been arranged to have at the coming encampment of the second brigade at Somerset a regiment of infantry, a troop of cavalry and a battery of artillery, as well as a signal corps from the United States army.

Many reports are still current in regard to the mustering out of one of the Pittsburgh regiments. It was said yesterday that the plan to form 12-company commands, which necessitates the mustering out of one regiment, might be carried out without dissolving either the Fourteenth or Eighteenth, the Fifth regiment being the one to go. There is no belief that the Tenth will be mustered out, its notable service in the Philippines having made its retention certain.

The work of officers of the Fourteenth in pointing out the high state of efficiency of that regiment is said to have had a large effect in persuading the adjutant-general to retain the regiment in the service. All kinds of influences are being brought to bear in order to save the various commands.

A BELATED FLAG DAY.

Exercises, Postponed Saturday on Account of Rain, Will Be Observed Today.

The celebration of Flag day, postponed last Saturday on account of the rain, will take place this afternoon at Schenley park. Arrangements have been made to have a turnout of several thousand school children and the Third regiment, Boys' brigade. It is expected that the old soldiers, under whose auspices the day is observed, will be present in force. The exercises will open at 2 o'clock with the following programme:

Overture—Boys' Brigade band.
Organization—Capt. D. F. Bigelow.
Address, presiding officer—The Hon. J. W. Over.
Flag salute—School children.
Address on behalf of the schools—Prof. B. H. Holbrook.
Address on behalf of the G. A. R.—J. A. Sterrett.
"Star-Spangled Banner"—Mrs. J. Sharp McDonald and chorus.
Address on behalf of the Union Veteran Legion—Gen. A. Blakeley.
"Red, White and Blue"—Mrs. J. Sharp McDonald and chorus.
Address on behalf of the Sons of Veterans—W. R. Wilmeide.
Address on behalf of the Service Men of the Spanish war—H. S. Taylor.

In the evening there will be a concert by the Boys' Brigade band and for the first time this season the electric fountain will be put in operation.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY | WOMEN'S CLUBS

ONE of the largest and handsomest children's entertainments of the year was the garden party yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. Richardson Mellon of Fifth avenue, East End, for her little son, Richard King Mellon, who is 4 years old. The hours were from 2 until 5 o'clock. The party was conducted on the rear grounds, which extend far back along the Beechwood boulevard and are beautifully shaded by trees of many years' growth. Beneath these were several long tables, which were decorated with marguerites and pink sweet peas. The grounds were gay with their gala dress of silken flags, bunting and Japanese lanterns, and additional brilliant washes of color were given by woven Indian and oriental rugs scattered here and there on the ground. The bunting was stretched from tree to tree, giving a bright band of color. Within canvas tents, open on every side, a Punch and Judy show and Jack Horner pies were placed. There were four of the pies and plums for the boys and girls and for the older people, too. An orchestra provided music for dancing, a feature of this part of the program being the dancing of three small professionals secured for the occasion. They also sang comic songs. Ponies and pony carts appeared among the trees and carried the children about the long and winding drives. When the party was over the small guests said goodby to Mrs. Mellon and their little host and went home, each carrying a souvenir in the form of a bonbon box shaped like a red, white and blue ball.

During the afternoon Mrs. Mellon was assisted by Mrs. Charles D. Clapp, Mrs. Herbert Hostetter, Mrs. John McClure Hays, Mrs. William L. Mellon, Mrs. J. J. Donnell, Mrs. Eugene Messler and Mrs. Richard S. Suydam.

The Forsyths expect to occupy a house in Sewickley for the summer and will probably go down in a couple of weeks.

Musical selections of rare charm and melody were rendered by the graduates and pupils of the conservatory. The concert was directed by Charles Davis Carter, president of the conservatory. The graduates were Miss Eva D. Johnson, piano department, and Miss Elizabeth M. Packard, vocal department.

The opening selection was a chorus by the conservatory chorus composed of students of the vocal department. They rendered Cowen's "In Our Boat" and Barnby's "Sweet May." Allegheny Garden Party.

One of the gayest garden parties of the season was given last evening on the large grounds surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McK. Cook in Western avenue, Allegheny. It was conducted under the direction of Miss Willis Forsyth and Miss Anna McCandless for the benefit of the auxiliary choir of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church. The Cook place reaches from Western avenue back to Ridge, the grounds sloping in the rear of the house. Though ruined by the rain on Thursday, the booths were decorated yesterday afternoon. Of artistic design and admirably placed, they presented a rainbow of colors with white predominating. Vines and laurel were used effectively and flowers brightened many of the booths and tables. Small tables were used for the serving of ice cream. Japanese lanterns and electric lights placed about the grounds made them as bright as by day and also heightened the picturesqueness of the scene.

The garden party was well attended during the evening, society lending its support. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for the purchase of vestments for the members of the auxiliary choir, which relieves the regular vested choir of Emmanuel church during the months of July and August.

The receiving party was completed by Miss Lucy Timms of Columbus, O., who is spending a few days with the hostess. Mrs. Noble was gowned in white voile d'esprit, trimmed in lace; Mrs. Lacock wore her wedding gown of white lace; Mrs. Watt was in white swiss trimmed with valenciennes insertion, and Miss Timms wore sheer white, trimmed with Mexican drawn work over blue taffeta.

Tall tropical palms formed a setting for the party, while smaller foliaged plants were used to bank the mantel of the reception room. The refreshments were served in the dining room, where the table decorations were pink roses and white phlox. A group of friends who assisted informally included Mrs. George Little, Mrs. Theodore Pomeie, Mrs. Daniel M. Clemson, Mrs. George Layng McCoy and Mrs. Otho Milton Hartzell. The guests numbered over 200. Many remained at the club house for dinner.

The exercises were followed by an interesting exhibition of china painting, the work of the pupils.

The Rev. Dr. J. Nock, rector of the St. James Memorial church, was the officiating clergyman. The bride was gowned in white Chantilly lace made over silk and chiffon, with roses applique of lace cut en train with high-neck and long sleeves of dainty chiffon, and ornamented with many ring ruffles of lace. She wore a long veil of Irish lace, extending to the end of the train and caught up with sprays of lilies of the valley and pearl pins. Southside Hospital Lawn Fete.

Southern Avenue park was invaded last evening by a small army of people who patronized the annual lawn fete given by the Ladies' Aid society of the South Side hospital for the benefit of that institution. Booths were erected about the grounds, over which the members of the society presided, and down the hill beyond the merry-go-round the supper tables were arranged. During the afternoon the women and the young girls aiding them were busy decorating the booths and arranging their stock in trade. A number of people arrived for supper, but it was not until evening that the grounds were well filled, all of the cars disposing of their passengers at the entrance to the park.

Near the gates stood the flower booth, decrated with white buntings and pretty vines and filled with bright flowers. The common sense booth stood farther back among the trees and was well patronized during the evening. A few other booths were placed about the grounds, while those who visited the park also freely patronized the various amusements it affords. A certain percentage of the receipts at the park during the afternoon and evening will be given the aid society for the hospital.

Dinners at the Country Club.

REGULATING THE BOYS.

New Child Labor Law in New York Gives Department of Education New Powers.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—Whether he will or not, the crier of "extras" from this time on, will come under the supervision of the schoolmaster. Not only in school houses but outside as well, the department of education is empowered to have an eye to the newsboys when the new child labor law goes into effect.

The sound of "craps," the tinkling of pitched pennies and the joyous shouts which attend the bulletin of "New York wins," must cease during school hours. The district superintendents under the new law will have charge of the issuing of permits and badges, without which no boy or girl may sell newspapers.

THE regular meeting of the public baths committees of the Permanent Civic committee was held yesterday morning in the Civic club rooms. The attempt to secure the co-operation in the effort to establish a chain of public baths in Pittsburgh has as yet met with only indifferent success. A large committee of women was appointed to visit wealthy and influential men of the city, but few of them, however, have yet reported. Several locations are being considered, but until more co-operation has been secured nothing definite will be decided upon. The fact that the only public bath house in Pittsburgh, the Thaw memorial, is self-supporting, is being brought forward prominently in asking for co-operation and money.

A committee of women was appointed recently to visit the new Phipps bath and gymnasium in lower Allegheny, which has just been completed. It is regarded as a model institution. One of the most modern features of the building is the public laundry and drying-room. This is located in a building attached to the main structure. There, at 10 cents a day, any woman may do her own washing, her neighbor's washing, or, if she makes washing her business, may do all her washing there and use the drying-room.

The tubs which are arranged in pairs are porcelain lined, there is hot and cold water and every convenience for the family washerwoman. Over a dozen women can be accommodated at the same time, while the drying rooms, with the clothes bars running on tracks, are amply large.

Upon the first floor of the bath house are the baths, including the tubs and showers. Upon the floor above are the reading rooms and on the third is the gymnasium. In the gymnasium the girl classes every hour, the teachers taking their pupils over from the school house just across the street that they may use the apparatus and drill upon the large floor. In the evening others, for a similar charge, may have use of the gymnasium, and it is generally well filled. The people of lower Allegheny are slowly realizing the opportunities which are placed in their midst by the new Phipps bath house and are making more and more use of its equipment, from the laundry and baths to the reading room and gymnasium.

At the meeting yesterday morning it was reported that the Thaw public bathhouse in Penn avenue has cleared $209 during the past month. The Thaw bathhouse has been self-supporting almost from the moment it was opened, about seven years ago. A few weeks ago there was a surplus in the treasury of $2,500. An addition to the building was then started to cost $4,000. This was completed early this month, adding largely to its capacity. The Civic club expects that with several hundred dollars cleared each month the cost of the addition will be paid for by next winter.

Wimodausis Outing.

The Wimodausis club will have its outing at Kennywood park next Wednesday. During the afternoon a euchre will be given and in the evening the principal feature aside from the amusements in the park will be the dancing. The dancing pavilion has been reserved for the exclusive use of the members of the club and their friends, and during the afternoon the card room, where euchre will be played. The outings of the Wimodausis club have always been popular and a very good attendance is expected.

A Postponed Meeting.

The regular meeting of the educational department of the Civic club, which was postponed from an earlier date in June, will be held next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Civic club rooms, 516 Market street. Several interesting topics will be discussed and a large attendance of the members of the department is urged.

Meeting This Morning.

A meeting of the streets and sewer committee of the department of sanitation of the Permanent Civic committee will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in the Civic club rooms.

MARKET RESISTED A "BEAR" RAID

The Lowest Prices of the Day in Wall Street Were Made at the Opening—Boom in Farmers Bank Stock the Local Feature.

By JOHN O. EAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The eastern stock market yesterday made a fine resistance to what looked like a concerted "bear" raid. London quotations showed heavy declines for the entire American list, but particularly in United States Steel and the coal stocks. These quotations were accompanied by selling orders estimated at 40,000 shares, and by dispatches indicating a gloomy feeling abroad regarding American securities and the business outlook here. Wall street was prepared for another slaughtering of values, but the opening prices proved to be the lowest of the day. United States Steel broke to 28⅝, the lowest ever quoted save for a moment in the May panic of 1901, and the preferred broke to 78⅛, also a low mark. The granger stocks were also lower in the opening dealings, but the declines brought no fresh liquidation. In fact the market took the selling well, and by the end of the first hour had started on the recovery which continued all day. The closing quotations were not in every instance at the highest, but they showed substantial gains, and a generally better tone prevailed. One of the most active stocks on the list was Reading, large blocks of which changed hands at steadily advancing prices. One house was credited with purchases of at least 10,000 shares, and the persistent buying for this account started the shorts to covering, pushing the price up to 49¾, the close being at 49⅜. Accompanying the movement was a report to the effect that the surplus of the company for the fiscal year would be between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, or sufficient to pay the full 4 per cent dividends on the first and second preferred and leave 3 per cent earned for the common. Ontario & Western was another very active stock, advancing to 25⅜ and closing at the top. English stockholders of the road were said to be bringing pressure on the officials to begin dividends, and while it was thought improbable that any such action would be taken, the report had its effect. Southern Railway reported an increase of $40,000 in gross earnings for the second week in June and the stock advanced a point to 24½. Louisville & Nashville reported an increase for the same week of $42,000, and the stock advanced to 110¾. The declining tendency in the grain market was construed as favorable to the granger stocks, and these rallied during the afternoon, closing firm.

United States Steel made a strong rally in the afternoon, the common reaching 30 and the preferred 80, and both closing within a fraction of the best. An official statement was made that the full capacity of all the rail mills of the corporation for the next seven or eight months was sold ahead, and that leading railroads having expressed a desire to have prices of rails for next season established, the corporation had taken action thereon somewhat earlier than usual and fixed $28 as the price, which is the same quoted at present. Predictions of another attack upon Colorado Fuel & Iron were not fulfilled, but on the contrary, the stock advanced 2½ per cent to 64 and closed near the best. Tennessee Coal & Iron was also firmer, rallying from 48½ to 50¾. American Locomotive rallied from 21½ to 22¾. Amalgamated Copper advanced a point to 54⅝, and closed at 54⅜. United Realty Construction was active and strong, advancing to 16½. The dealings as a whole were professional, but investment as well as speculative stocks participated in the improvement. The sales for the day reached 521,000 shares.

There were very sanguine predictions that today's bank statement will be the most favorable issued this year, so far as the gain in surplus reserve is concerned. Earlier in the week it looked as though some gold would be exported, but the reduction in the Bank of England rate rendered this unnecessary. Later the banks gained through sub-treasury operations, the total from this source being $1,363,000. It is estimated that a large amount of currency was also received from the interior, and the latest estimate placed the net gain for the week from all sources at $4,800,000. Preparations for the payment of the first installment on Pennsylvania railroad subscriptions, due next week, were credited with a portion of the cash gains of the banks. No change was quoted in rates for call loans, which were easy at 2 to 2½ per cent.

One of the conspicuous features of the local stock market yesterday was the "boom" in the stock of Farmers Deposit National Bank. One small lot changed hands at $1,700 a share, and then the price jumped to $1,750, 55 shares changing hands at that price, and the market closing at $1,800 asked. Previous to yesterday the last sale of the stock was at $1,300, and yesterday's closing sale represented an advance of $450 a share. A year ago this month the stock sold at $1,150, so that the gain for the year is $650 a share. American Trust declined 10 points to 505, and closed at that price bid. Colonial Trust declined to 604, and at the close there was neither bid nor offer on the stock. The Farmers Deposit National issued an official circular yesterday stating the terms of the proposed merger (referred to in another column), and the movement in market values is in the nature of establishing a parity for the three principal members of the consolidation. Federal National was strong and higher, advancing to 172½ on the announcement that interests identified with the bank had acquired control of the First National Bank of Allegheny. The stock later reacted to 170, closing at a net gain for the day of 4 per cent. The other members of this group were only fractionally changed.

The principal activity in the industrial list was in United States Steel, which was pressed for sale at the opening, but subsequently recovered in sympathy with the rally in the east. The coal stocks were active, but on sales of 1,575 shares Pittsburgh Coal common and 1,400 shares River Coal common there was not a fluctuation of the smallest fraction. Crucible Steel closed a shade higher for both the common and preferred. Westinghouse Electric was dull, selling within a range of 94⅝ to 95¼ and closing at 94⅝. Air Brake was nominally quoted at 155 bid, 154½ asked. Natural gas stocks were inactive at unchanged prices.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Brokers were doing a great deal of figuring yesterday to reach a conclusion as to the probable market value of American Trust and Colonial Trust in the consolidation deal. For a basis, they had the circular of the Farmers Deposit National, stating that shareholders were to receive in the proportion of three and a half shares of new stock in the consolidated corporation for one share of Farmers. When the market value of the latter reached $1,750 a share, it was an easy matter to divide that sum by 3½ to arrive at the value of one share of the new stock, which was $500. The next question was as to the terms which the two trust companies would receive. It has been generally understood that the basis reached for the merger of the two trust companies was in the proportion of about 87 for American and 100 for Colonial. If this proportion were adopted in the new deal, it would represent a market value of $500 a share for Colonial and about $457 for American, regarding the market value of $1,750 for Farmers were taken as a basis. For some days past the difference in market value between Colonial and American has been about $100 a share, and that difference prevailed yesterday. Another view was that American Trust would probably be merged share for share, and Colonial one and one-eighth shares for one share of the new stock. This would figure out $536 a share for American, $562.50 for Colonial and $1,750 for Farmers. Throughout the week the two first named have been declining while the former was advancing, indicating an effort of the market to establish a parity.

Only two shares of Westinghouse Air Brake changed hand all day at 156, a decline of 1½ points, and the stock closed nominally quoted at 155 bid, 158½ asked.

Transactions in natural gas stocks yesterday all told did not foot up 100 shares. Small lots of Manufacturers Light and Heat sold at 59, Ohio Fuel Supply at 43 and Pennsylvania Company at 43⅜, these prices being the same as those for the day before.

There were no transactions or quotations on Union Switch and Signal all day. Stockholders who paid above $50 a share for the stock last year in the expectation of a stock dividend, or of subscription rights to subscribe for new stock at par, are greatly disappointed when the price of the new stock was placed at $70 a share.

The First National bank advanced 6½ points to 172½ on the announcement that interests identified with the bank had bought control of the First National bank of Allegheny.

Transactions in Reading yesterday aggregated 120,400 shares, or about one-fourth of the total day's business.

On the New York board the dealings in United States Steel common reached 91,700 shares, and in the preferred 10,100 shares.

The gross earnings of Norfolk & Western for the second week in June increased $140,000.

There was a rumor in Wall street that the capital of Grasse and Twine Company will be reduced from $15,000,000 to $5,000,000.

There is a general conviction that the liquidation which has been going on in the steel stocks is due to the special needs of a large interest in the corporation and there were indications that the stock being sold in New York yesterday represented collateral for a large maturing loan. The principal banking house in the steel syndicate underwriting was an open buyer. The decision of the United States Steel authorities to maintain the schedule of prices at this year's level and the official assertion that large orders for steel rails for 1904 had been booked gave an upward impetus to the stock in the final dealings.

After a rally had set in for the United States Steel stocks the second mortgage bonds were forced down by considerable selling orders to 83, with a fractional recovery at the last.

Sentiment at the close of the day was more cheerful than for some time and it was thought unless further unfavorable developments came to light the market should gradually seek a higher level.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Mohawk Belle, adjoining the War Eagle on Bull hill, is one of the promising mines of the Cripple Creek district. It is being worked by the Gold Ore Leasing and Mining Company, a Denver corporation, which has just installed a plant of machinery.

Taylor & Co. made their fifth shipment from the Buckeye, owned by the Old Gold Company and located on the west slope of Bacon hill. The last one had a test $165 20 a ton. Those who have inspected it say that it is one of the best discoveries that has been made in the camp in many a day.

The Tonopah Mining Company stockholders will not receive the expected report of operations until the recovery of John Hays Hammond, the consulting engineer. A recent telegram stated that he had been ill from ptomaine poisoning, but that he hoped to come on from the west and reach Philadelphia in a week or two. A meeting of the stockholders will be called as soon as expedient to hear Mr. Hammond's report, the annual meeting having again been adjourned for this purpose.

There are 12 mills running in Silver Plume district that are estimated to contain 150,000 tons. These have been leased by R. T. Grant & Co., who are producing the concentrates for the Colorado Zinc Company at Canon City. About 1,000 tons have been sent out since the first of the year.

LIBERTY AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD

Marietta Chair Co. Bought a Warehouse Site at Nos. 1217 and 1219 for $65,000.

RESIDENCE TRANSACTIONS

Surveys Being Made for Street Car Line Back of Sewickly—Corps of B. & O. Engineers at McKeesport Planning Improvements—Building Projects.

After having considered a number of downtown sites the Marietta Chair Company yesterday closed a deal for the purchase of the Anheuser-Busch property, at Nos. 1217-1219 Liberty avenue, the consideration being $65,000. The deal was made through the Real Estate Trust Company which secured the property from G. J. Schmidt of the Anheuser-Busch company. It is located on the north side of Liberty avenue, about midway between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, and has a frontage of 40 feet by a depth of 100 feet. A one-story warehouse now occupies the site, but as the foundations beneath this are streng enough for a much higher building the purchasing company will at once add seven stories to make it a model warehouse. The chair company is now located at No. 437 Water street, but will remove to the new location as soon as the warehouse can be completed. The sale, which is the first for some time in this part of Liberty avenue, was at the rate of $1,625 a front foot, or $16.25 a square foot.

Fine Squirrel Hill House Sold.

The sale is reported of another of the H. M. Gross residences on Squirrel Hill, for $18,000, the deal being credited to the W. H. Skivington Company. The property is known as No. 5618 Bartlett street, near Murray avenue and the lot is 70x150 feet. The residence is a center reception hall house containing 12 rooms and having all the modern conveniences. The reputed buyer is an out-of-town business man who will move to the city soon. This makes a total of 11 of the houses sold out of the 15 which Mr. Gross built on Squirrel Hill last year.

Through the agency of J. F. Hudson Edward F. Fisher has purchased a fine residence property at No. 5625 Center avenue. The former owner was Lydia K. Lightfoot and the price paid was $17,000. The lot is a large one, facing 70 feet on the north side of the avenue near Liberty avenue, and having a depth of 200 feet. The residence is a modern 12-room reception hall frame house and on the rear of the lot is a large stable. The buyer will occupy the property at once as a home.

The work of grading the line from the Pennsylvania railroad tracks to Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, a distance of about 200 feet, has just been completed. This solves the problem of an approach to the proposed Pennsylvania station in Penn avenue, as Pitt street will be the natural outlet for the Third ward. Recent purchases indicate that the station will be located in Penn avenue. The railroad has now all the property in the east side of Penn avenue between Wood street and the tracks except three lots at the end of the tracks in Wood and the lots on both sides of Penn avenue to West street.

B. & O. Getting Down to Business.

A force of 12 Baltimore & Ohio railroad civil engineers have registered in McKeesport and are negotiating for a permanent office. They are there, it is said, to complete the plans for the Baltimore & Ohio improvements, which include, among other things, a fine new passenger station. On the hill side of the B. & O. tracks between Riverton and Port Perry the railroad gangs have already torn down 40 houses and are about to raze as many more in the near vicinity. Steam shovels and drills are at work digging away the hillside preparatory to putting in several more tracks.

The Schmertz farm was the first to be broker in the sale of the Albert Chalfant farm in Wilkins township for $100,000. The sale, which was published exclusively in The Gazette Wednesday, is the largest ever made for property in that section for some time, and the farm will be plotted at once. It was bought by a syndicate, two members of which are Frank T. Redman and Thomas Ward of Braddock. With them are associated several local capitalists.

Country Club Gets Property.

The Country Club Land Company, purchasing agent for the Pittsburgh Country club, yesterday got title to three properties in the Twenty-second ward which are to be used as an addition to the present club grounds. One was bought from James S. Ricketts for $18,000, from Morris Kaufman for $18,500 and the third from Michael M. Frey for $18,000. The properties lie on a private road and adjoin the holdings of Mrs. Mary English and the Robert B. Phillips property.

Lang avenue—Gault & Giffen sold for C. C. Campbell to Mrs. A. L. Critchfield an eight-room frame house, lot 27x120 feet, at No. 703 Lang avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $4,250.

Baxter street—J. F. Hudson sold for Edward Krebs to Margaret A. Barkell an eight-room frame house, lot 26x125 feet, at No. 145 Baxter street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $4,500.

Forbes street—Joseph M. Dixon sold for the Honora Milligan estate to Max Goldberg No. 1727 Forbes street, Fifth ward, $ H. Shellenberger erected a three-story brick house, lot 22x78 feet, for $7,000.

Many Houses in Prospect.

Permits were issued for Pittsburgh buildings yesterday as follows:

Robert Pitcairn, Jr., a 12-room brick house in Amberson avenue, Twentieth ward, $32,000; Gwendolin Boehme, brick factory, Friendship avenue, Sixteenth ward, $7,084; George A. Lones, frame dwelling on Sylvania avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, $2,600; three frame dwellings on Chalfant street, same ward, $7,800, and four frame dwellings on Gearing street, nearby, to cost $2,600 each; Charles Swan, brick stable, Wayne alley, Nineteenth ward, $1,500; Chester West frame dwelling, Augustine street, Twenty-third ward, $1,600.

Deals Made in Braddock.

Through the agency of A. A. Schilling of Braddock the following real estate deals were made during the past week: Michael Killeen purchased from Mrs. Hazel Hunt lot 96x200 feet and a 17-roomed frame house on the north side of Kirkpatrick street, North Braddock, for $13,000. George Veroskey sold to Nathan Rubenstein a lot 110x50 feet in Fourth avenue, Rankin, for $3,200. Alexander Dempster to Michael Estock lot 72x100 feet in Third avenue, Rankin, for $3,600. John W. Griffith sold to John Sample lot 94x250 feet and a seven-roomed frame house in Holland avenue, Braddock, for $2,600. George Veroskey sold to Julius Dattetter lot in Eleventh street, Braddock, for $3,500. Mrs. Josephine Mourat, lot in Natlack plan, North Braddock, for $515. William Bartley sold to H. C. Bowers, lot in Woodstock avenue Swissvale, 25x100 feet, for $1,000. William Bartley sold to H. C. Bowers, lot in Corey avenue, Braddock, 22x110 feet, for $900. Frank Bridges sold to W. S. Lowman lot 32x103 feet in Braddock avenue, near Eleventh street, for $5,500.

CONDITIONS CONFUSING IN THE METAL MARKET

Dun's Weekly Review Points Out the Three Depressing Factors.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, issued tomorrow, says: Unseasonably low temperature, together with excessive precipitation at many points, have retarded the distribution of merchandise. Harvest prospects are in fair satisfactory, better crop prospects accelerating forward business and enlarging order lists of manufacturers. Railway earnings thus far reported for June exceed last year's by 5.8 per cent and those of 1901 by 14.8 per cent.

Conditions in the iron and steel industry are sufficiently confusing to justify a definite tendency, although factors calculated to produce weakness appear to predominate. Special sales of imported pig iron have been made at concessions, but this is attributed less than

COLOMBIA WANTS ALLIANCE WITH THE UNITED STATES

Influential Politicians Urge the Ratification of the Canal Treaty.

TO PREVENT HUMILIATION

Without the Friendship of the Great American Republic European Powers Might Force Their Claims Against the Isthmian Government.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PANAMA, COLOMBIA, June 19.—The Star and Herald has been publishing a series of articles by the most prominent Isthmians on the canal question. Dr. Pablo Arosemena, an influential member of the Liberal party, wrote an article decidedly favoring the ratification of the Hay-Herran treaty, and showing that every prominent Conservative or Liberal in Panama favors the ratification of the treaty.

Another writer says he sees great danger for the sovereignty of Colombia if the treaty is not ratified and declares that the United States can buy control of the French company, as great Britain did in the case of the Suez canal, and then denounce the treaty of 1846, guaranteeing the sovereignty of Colombia.

The writer adds that if at the same time the European powers decide to push their claims against Colombia, the republic being unable to comply with them, a repetition of the naval demonstration against Venezuela is possible, "which is more insulting to the national honor than approval of the treaty, which really makes Colombia and the United States allies."

"If," the article continues, "being free of her obligation to guarantee Colombian sovereignty, the United States decides to land forces and guarantee free transit to the world's commerce, Colombia could not prevent her so doing, which would be far more dangerous than the ratification of the treaty."

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON IS TO BE EMULATED

Industrial and Educational Institute to Be Established in South Africa.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, June 19.—Lord Grey, director of the British South African Company, said today that he had received with regret the declination of Prof. Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee institute, Alabama, to accept the company's invitation to visit South Africa and make a study of racial conditions in British territory and report to the company his plans for bettering the industrial, educational and moral conditions of the people.

He added that Prof. Washington's gospel of excellence in labor was the only true solution of the colored problem, and that, preached by a colored man, it would have a great effect on the South African natives. Had Prof. Washington accepted Lord Grey's invitation it was hoped it might have been possible to establish in Rhodesia an institution somewhat similar to the Tuskegee institute.

In conclusion Lord Grey remarked: "I intend, myself, advocating the establishment of a model kraal where the natives can see how they should live and work."

WICKETS WERE PUT UP.

Water in the Harbor Rose—Coal Stage Predicted by Laughlin.

The water in the harbor rose yesterday on account of the raising of the wickets of the Davis Island dam. A good packet stage has prevailed the last week, but the water probably will be low again in a short time. All the packets due to arrive the latter part of this week are in and have brought good trips. The Greenwood was in from Charleston and the Lorena from Zanesville. The Keystone State arrived at midnight from Cincinnati. The Greenwood left yesterday on her return trip and the Keystone State and Lorena leave this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The outlook for further water at present is not encouraging, but there are those who predict a coal stage within a few days. One of these is "Uncle Ben" Laughlin, one of the best known river prophets. Uncle Ben said yesterday in the Harbor rooms: "We will have a coal stage by Monday." He was a riverman for 52 years, but retired a few years ago.

ARRIVALS.

Greenwood, Greene, Charleston; Lorena, Wallace, Zanesville; Columbia, Abrams, Morgantown; Edgar Cherry, Hoag, Brownsville.

DEPARTURES.

Greenwood, Greene, Charleston; L. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown; Edgar Cherry, Hoag, Brownsville.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 5 feet, and the river was falling.

The coal fleet will arrive in Cincinnati this morning.

A new hull is being built under the D. T. Watson at Marietta by Capt. Hammett.

Harbor No. 25 Masters and Pilots will elect officers for the ensuing year this morning at 9:30.

Capt. Greene of the Greenwood said yesterday that his new boat would probably be named the Greenland. She will be launched in three weeks.

The old Oneida, which was recently rebuilt, is now named the French. She is plying the waters of the Little Kanawha, and it is said she is outdoing the railroads between the points where she carries freight and passengers.

Capt. Scott of the Lorena says that a gas pipe line was discovered by the dredgers working at the mouth of the Muskingum river. Packets have experienced considerable trouble there and the pipe is undoubtedly the cause. It will be removed, as it is but 18 inches below the surface of the water and an obstruction to the navigation of the river.

James Rees & Sons Co. entered two suits in admiralty in the United States district court yesterday. Both were for money due for repairs on the towboat George W. Moredock and the dredgeboat Northern. James R. Neel owns the Moredock and the claim is for $1,880.21. The Neel Dredging Company owns the Northern, for repairing which the plaintiff asks $215 88.

POPE INSISTS UPON HOLDING AUDIENCES

Fears Report That He Is Dying Will Again Be Put in Circulation.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ROME, June 19.—The pope did not hold an audience today, much against his own wishes, as he said he would immediately be reported as dying, "which I am not," he added emphatically. Indeed, a rumor that his holiness had had a relapse was already in circulation.

The only reason for the suspension of today's audiences was Dr. Lapponi's wish that the pontiff should be in the best condition for the consistory which is to be held next Monday. The doctor would like to stop all audiences by the pope until Monday, but his holiness refused to accede to the desire, saying that it was his duty to go through it at all cost.

The pontiff has ordered that the new cardinal, Archbishop Fischer of Cologne, and his suite be admitted to see him tomorrow.

JAPAN MAKES DEMAND FOR OPEN CITIES IN CHINA

YOKOHAMA, June 19.—The Japanese minister at Peking yesterday filed a formal demand on the Chinese foreign office for the opening of Mukden and Tai-Tung-Chou to foreign trade. The Chinese officials replied that circumstances were not favorable to the opening of the cities mentioned. The American and British representatives are supporting Japan's demands. Minister Conger is also demanding the opening of Farbin, Manchuria.

To Support Monetary System.

LONDON, June 19.—The members of the United States International Exchange committee left for Paris this evening. All are gratified at the cordiality of their reception in London. It is stated that they have secured from the British government all the support they expected for the project of giving stability to the monetary systems of the silver using countries.

CHORUS GIRL HEIRESS FOUND IN BROOKLYN

Miss Mabel Morris, the chorus girl who last week played with the "Wang" company at Duquesne garden, and who has fallen heir to a large fortune, was located at the Orpheum theater in Brooklyn yesterday. When notified by her mother that she was named as principal beneficiary in her father's will and that the estate is worth $1,000,000, she resigned from the "Wang" company and yesterday left for Pittsburgh. Miss Morris ran away from her home in Salt Lake City, Utah, two years ago to go on the stage. Her father, who was wealthy, died shortly afterward. While on the stage Miss Morris went under the name of Arnold.

That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seems to bear him out very strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remarkable "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free to anyone who is a sufferer, in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all affections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life." Send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer. State what you want to be cured of and the sure remedy for it will be sent you free by return mail.

CANNON BOOMED AT THE OLD CAMP

After Many Years Silence of Valley Forge Is Broken by Sound of Guns.

DAY GIVEN TO PAST MEMORIES

One Hundred Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Evacuation of Camp Celebrated by Corner Stone of New Chapel—Appropriate Exercises Held.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

VALLEY FORGE, PA., June 19.—The birth of the nation from the sufferings of starving men on a snow clad hilltop was the thought that predominated all others in the minds of those who gathered today for the anniversary celebration at Valley Forge. Orations, poems, prayers, singing by a great chorus, and the beginnings of a memorial chapel made the ceremonies notable. They but deepened the impressions left by the silent witnesses—the stone house that was Washington's headquarters, trenches and redoubts on the barren hilltops, traces of the patriots' hust, and the crumbling mounds of unmarked graves.

It is the first time in 25 years that there has been such a gathering on the spot, and recent events justified the occasion. The state park of 210 acres at Valley Forge, is to be increased by 800 additional acres with $74,500 appropriated by the last legislature, so that every part of the encampment will be included in public lands. When the exercises began at 10 o'clock great throngs of people covered the hillsides and waited to gain access to Washington's headquarters.

Gov. Samuel W. Pennypacker presided. In his opening remarks he said Valley Forge was equal in historic and patriotic consequence to Saratoga and Yorktown. He sketched briefly the incidents of the revolution to the time when Washington and his army established headquarters here, Philadelphia, he said, was the British objective and the pivot of American defense.

Bishop Cyrus D. Foss then opened the exercises proper with an invocation and followed by a choir of 500 voices. The Rev. Henry A. Hoyt, the Rev. Joseph H. Dubbs and the Rev. Wayland Hoyt all offered prayer. The Rev. Henry Berkowitz of the Congregation Rodef Shalom of this city, then made a stirring address. After the memorial service the road toward Fort Kennedy, where the corner stone of the Washington memorial chapel was laid. According to tradition the site of the chapel is where Washington prayed for his army. After the corner stone ceremonies the Rev. C. E. Stevens made an address and a salute was fired by Battery C, N. G. P.

In the afternoon there were patriotic airs at Fort Huntingdon. This service was of especial interest, because it brought together two women who head rival patriotic organizations, Mrs. Donald McLean of New York, who is the regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Miss Adaline W. Sterling of Englewood, N. J., who is president-general of the Daughters of the Revolution. The speakers were ex-Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, Miss Sterling, Mrs. McLean and Walter S. Logan of New York city. Poems were read by Prof. Francis Lee Lybarger of Lewisburg, Pa. One entitled "The Sentinel of Valley Forge," is by Mrs. M. E. Thropp Cone of Oil City, and the other is the composition of Miss Margaret B. Harvey of Philadelphia.

BOOKS ARE STOLEN BY POOR YOUNG STUDENTS

Librarian Stevenson Finds Fault With Too Ardent Pursuit of Knowledge—Criminal Prosecutions Are Threatened.

"A book thief is invariably a person of more than ordinary education and intelligence."

This statement was made yesterday by Librarian William M. Stevenson of the Allegheny Carnegie library. For the first time in six years an inventory of the books on the shelves of the library is being taken, and it was while superintending this work yesterday that Mr. Stevenson made the foregoing statement.

"We have lost very few books since this library was opened nearly 15 years ago—an average of about 50 books a year, and in about every case where the theft was detected the person guilty has been more than commonly versed in some science or study. The fiction readers are, as a class, honest. It is the impecunious student of some science or art who permits his love for his work to master his honesty and who, unable to purchase the works he wants, carries off the books from the library. Such books are kept in the reference room, and it is from this department that all losses are reported.

"At the present time I am contemplating entering suit against one man who in the past few months has stolen almost 50 books from our reference room. We have a system of keeping an eye on all patrons of the reference room that is not suspected by anyone not connected with the library. Some months ago a number of books on engineering were lost, and we set about to find the thief. We discovered this man carrying two books away and since then have seen him take a few more. A search was made of his room, and we found most of the books that had been carried out. This young man is a graduate of a German university and is in such circumstances that he cannot afford to buy the books he considers necessary in the pursuit of his study. His eagerness to master his science overcame his ideas of honesty and I am afraid we will have to prosecute him.

"Very few losses are reported in the fiction department, and in nearly every case where a book is missing we have traced the loss to carelessness on the part of the person borrowing the book."

Yesterday a large force of clerks was put to work in the library and between now and September, every one of the 50,000 volumes in the library will be taken from the shelves and compared with the shelf lists and catalogues. The library will remain open during the summer months as usual.

Happenings of the Day

All Harness Must Go.

We are retiring from the harness business and an unreserved clearance of all horse goods is the order. Prices are cut to cost and below cost.

½ OFF THE MARKED PRICES ON ALL HORSE EQUIPMENTS such as clippers, boots, lashes, oils and dressings, etc.

⅓ OFF MARKED PRICES ON ALL HARNESS, including fine coach harness, heavy harness, light double driving harness, etc.

Clothing Prices Have Dropped.

Our June Sale is on—prices are down—stocks being reduced. Two great forces have combined to bring down prices in our clothing department. First, the price slashing knife has been at work throughout our own stocks. Second—a number of heavy purchases of surplus stocks from makers who were closing their season have been bought at the bare cost of material—and sold equally underpriced. These moves are all in keeping with our policy of seeing how small we can make the prices on dependable, modern-tailored clothing.

Men's Suits Which Should Bring $10.

$7.00 is the price here for these suits, but do not judge them by this figure. When we say they are $10 suits, we are not stretching the fact, as they were intended to sell for at least $10 when they were made, and had we not closed them out from manufacturers anxious to sell, we would have to sell them at $10, too. They are neat, dressy suits of stylish, fancy cheviots and cassimeres and well worth looking at by the economical man. Choice $7.00

Men's Suits Which Should Bring $12 and $13.50.

Some of these suits were bought specially for this sale during our recent purchasing campaign in New York, and have never before been sold for less than $12 and $13.50. Others have sold by us earlier in the season for the same figure, and this special lot is undoubtedly the best value in town for the price we are now asking. Made of fancy cheviots or cassimeres as well as plain black and blue. Cut in the latest sack styles and well tailored. Sale Price $9.00

Men's Suits Which Should Bring $15 and $18.

Light weight summer materials such as fancy cheviots, cassimeres and fast colored blue serges. Suits that bear the stamp of careful tailoring and were never intended to sell for less than $15 and up to $18. Correctly tailored in all the fashionable details, such as broad shoulders, firm fronts and hand-worked collars. In any other store or at an earlier time in this store you would pay $15, $16.50 or $18 for the same suits now offered at $12.75

Men's Outing Suits.

The two-piece suit—coat and trousers—makes the most desirable summer costume for either business or outing wear. For this Saturday we offer suits which should bring $7.00 at the special price of.... $5.00

Men's Outing Suits.

Imported and domestic homespuns, wool crashes and flannels in dressy light colorings. Coats unlined, trousers with belt straps and turn-up bottoms. The height of fashion in this popular priced suit at ..... $7.50 to $20.00

Unprecedented Sale of Negligee Shirts.

Look over the shirts critically and you will agree with us that they are the greatest values ever offered.

We have closed out from Weil Haskell & Co., Makers of the Famous "Griffon" Brand Shirts. Their entire floor stock at a sacrifice. It being the end of the manufacturing season, they accepted our offer on their entire remaining stock of high-grade negligee shirts, and the terms we made give us possession of these shirts at about half price. This enables us to offer 11,692 of this season's most popular styles of Outing Shirts at one-half and less than half their real worth. Not a shirt in this lot was intended to sell for less than $1.00. The average would bring $1.50 and many of them are worth as high as $2.00.

These shirts are of the smartest up-to-date styles and are made of fine Londontown, Madapalans, Picardi, Zephyrs and woven Madras cloths. The patterns are beautiful stripes and figures on dark or light grounds and every new idea of the season is represented in this lot. They have pleated or plain bosoms, with attached or detached cuffs. All sizes from 14 to 18. It would pay anyone to draw their next season's supply from this greatest of all shirt sales. There is no restraint on buying. While they last you may select as many as you like. We have thousands of them to sell and have left no stone unturned to make this the most successful shirt sale ever inaugurated in the two cities.

GRIFFON BRAND REGISTERED TRADE MARK

We are selling these shirts at retail for less than wholesale prices. Mail orders will be promptly filled. 69c
